Norwood, June 17, 1904.
Clafin Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont.
Gentlemen: I have taken eight boxes of "Bu-Ju" and have been greatly benefited by them. My disease is of long standing, but "Bu-Ju" Pills are the best I have taken yet, as they did me more good than any other.

Yours truly,
JOHN E. KELLY

WINK SAVED HER LIFE

North Tonawanda, N. Y., Feb. 3. While the undertaker was preparing to embalm the body of little Emma Witkoff, aged 6, daughter of August Witkoff, of Gratiot, a suburb of this city, he saw her wink. Pretty soon she sighed. The undertaker began to chafe her icy limbs and was rewarded by seeing her struggle to get up.

Little Emma, who had supposedly died from brain fever in the morning, was examined by a physician who came in answer to a hurry call. The girl was taken to a warmer room, rubbed vigorously and surrounded with hot water bottles. Restoratives were applied and the child was pronounced out of danger.

GLENWOOD.

Arnold Johnson, of Victoria, spent the day at the home of Wm. Jones, Middle Road.

Albert Gordon, of Prairie St. Rd., was the guest of George Estabrook on Saturday and Sunday.

Martin Johnson was a welcome visitor at the home of George Gifford on Sunday.

W. C. Estabrook returned to Manitowish Island, after a week's visit at his home in the village.

Miss Edith McGee pleasantly entertained a number of friends from the village and Victoria on Friday evening last. A very enjoyable evening was spent in games and music. Among the guests from a distance were Miss McKim and Miss Bertha Johnson, of Chatham, and Mrs. T. Hesterington, of Leamington.

Miss Sarah Taekaberry, of Merion, addressed the League on Sunday evening, on the subject of "Missionary Work." Miss Taekaberry is a talented young lady and her address was very much enjoyed.

CLOTHING POST OFFICE EMPLOYEES.

Twice a year some eight thousand men and boys scattered from one end of England to the other must be fitted out with new clothes. These are the employees of the Post Office Department, and it is no small task to provide these garments to suit anything of making sure that each is well fitted. The department uses 287 miles of cloth, 300 miles of lining, besides three or four million buttons and the other multitudinous things which go into the making of a garment. To simplify this work the device of "fitting sizes" has been resorted to, and as a result the men are clothed with automatic precision, and with only two per cent. of misfits.—N. Y. Herald.

Judge Knox, in the court room, I've lost my hat.

KENNEDY PLAYERS.

KENNEDY PLAYERS, MONDAY.
The Kennedy Players, who commence a six nights' engagement here next Monday at the Grand, is considered to be the strongest repertoire company travelling to-day. The entertainment offered by this well-known company is always clean and bright, and has earned a reputation for always carrying out all promises. The management of this company gives more for the money that has ever been offered by any similar organization, and the plays in the repertoire are all of the highest class, brought out by a clever company of ladies and gentlemen.

Originality and novelty are the salient features and everything has been furnished by the management to enhance their success. The Kennedy Players carry their own set of scenery, the scenery alone weighing over seventeen thousand pounds; six specialty people engaged for specialties only, introducing the famous French dancing duo, The Flamme Sisters; Dyer and Corbet; Winifred Greenwood; A. Ben Lewis and Little Dot, while in addition to these during the week John J. Kennedy and Leanne Hassan will introduce many clever specialties.

All lovers of good acting and clever specialties should not fail to attend next Monday evening's performance, and witness one of the greatest entertainments ever offered at these surprisingly low prices.

One lady admitted free with each paid thirty cent ticket, purchased at the advance sale before six p. m. Monday.

At Detroit Opera House—

"THE PRINCE OF PILSEN."

"The Prince of Pilsen" will return to the Detroit Opera House for a return engagement of one week, commencing Monday evening, Feb. 6th, with matinees as usual on Wednesday and Saturday. In the cast for this season's company the majority have had a "Prince of Pilsen" experience and success. This applies to Jess Dandy, who scored the most emphatic success as Hans Wagner, and Ida Stanhope, a bright and clever actress, in the role of the fascinating widow; Arthur Donaldson and Ivar Anderson as the Prince and American naval lieutenant respectively; were the originators of these roles; and Almyra Forrest as the Vaasas girl, Jeanette Bagerard as Sidonia and Stella Martine as Jimmie the bell boy, were with the original New York company. Marie Walsh terminated a three years' engagement with the Tivoli Opera Co., of San Francisco, to play the brewer's daughter; Percy Ames, an English character actor of reputation and ability, will be seen as the young lord and James Francis Sullivan, late of vaudeville prominence, impersonates Granois, the erratic French waiter.

England has "The Prince of Pilsen" fever. The Frank Pixley and Gustav Lueders' successful musical comedy has concluded a five months' London engagement at the Shaftesbury Theatre. Over there, just as here, they swear by "The Tale of the Swa Shell," and have been captivated also by "The Message of the Violet," "Hedderberg," "Pictures in the Smoke," "Back to the Boulevard," "The Pretty City Widow," "Fall In," and the other enduring number of the piece, "The Song of The Cities." The popularity of these songs is possibly the main factor in the runs of one year in New York City, five months in Boston and five in Chicago for "The Prince." Every other city of size in this country and Canada has agreed with the metropolitan verdict.

Last year when the musical comedy was seen in Detroit it met with great success. There have been changes made in the cast, but Henry W. Savage, the manager, has selected from the London and American companies those players which he believed, by experience and comparison, to be best fitted for the various roles, and as a consequence this year the company is obviously the most superior which has been presenting the play during its three years of success.

An Odd Present.

There is a strange custom prevalent among the old fishermen and handloom weavers of Gliran, Scotland. The industries of the town are fast decaying, only a very few weavers being kept busy now, so the younger generation have to migrate in search of fresh fields. When the grownup sons and daughters have been successful in their new spheres, often at the other side of the world, their thoughts are busy with the "auld folks." A very common present to the latter is that of a "certificate" giving the right to be buried in the old churchyard. Thus their parents' last resting place is secured, and so common is the custom that only to a stranger does its greenness appeal. The old people tell of the possession with pride and thankfulness.

Cupier Mission in Canada.

The report of the agent of the International Evangelical and Colportage Mission for the year ending Dec. 1, 1904, shows that 2,740 copies of Bibles and books in ten languages have been supplied by sale and gift, and have been recorded in the diary, and $388.97 has been received for books; $79 worth have been given to needy places and persons, and many others have been given and no entry made. The journeys in the work have been from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, and donations of $1,750.75 have come from 109 cities, towns and villages, Toronto contributing $228.60.

The entire receipts by sales, loans, and gifts were $2,140.86, and the disbursements $2,219.95, under 19 various heads. The liabilities, under 10 heads, are $3,536; the assets over liabilities are $1,694. There have been ten various editions of booklets, numbering about 35,000 copies, and the second part of the dictionary for the Ojibway Indians is in progress of publication.

That tormenting cold that made you wretched last winter will not come back if you take Allen's Lung Balm when your throat is raw and sore. This admirable remedy is free from opium. Take it in time.

Tulip and Poppy Dangerous Flowers.

The doctor held a tulip in his hand. "Some people claim that a tulip has no smell," he said. "As a matter of fact, it has a dangerous smell. Take a tulip of a deep crimson color and inhale it with profound inspiration, and it will be apt to make you light-headed. You will say and do queer things—dance, sing, fight, swear and so on. For two hours you will cut up in this way. Afterward you will be depressed."

"The poppy is another dangerous flower. A young woman of a nervous temperament, if she lingers among a bed of poppies, will grow drowsy, the same as if she had smoked a pipe or two of opium. In Asia Minor, where the opium manufacturers cultivate vast fields of poppies, tourists inspecting the beautiful flowers often become altogether incapacitated. They get so sleepy they can hardly talk. They reel in their gait. In some cases they have to be put to bed."

WHAT CAME OF A LETTER.

My Dear Aunt Kate:
I must tell you the good news. Right after receiving your letter, the day before New Year's I started in with new resolutions on the first of the year. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., as you requested me to do. I gave him all my symptoms, which were that I was tired—tired all the time and did not care to go anywhere, depressed and sad, and all ambition gone, backbone and a dragged-out feeling, could not sleep, limbs feeling sore and aching. I followed the doctor's advice, which he went to considerable pains to make plain to me—to rest every day—a nap after lunch—complete relaxation—cultivate repose of mind, try not to worry, get as much outdoor air as possible, and practice long, deep breathing, expanding the lungs. Then for water-cure, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, coupled with a wash he told me of. I must say that after following his advice for four months I feel perfectly cured and like a new woman.

Yours affectionately, JAWEL.
Letters like the above are not unusual. Mrs. Kooman, of 412 Grant Ave., Schenectady, N. Y., says: "I continued with the medicine until I had taken five bottles, also two vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I was cured. I would recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine to my friends when they are not well."

My daughter is in quite good health, thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicine. My wishes are that all who are afflicted will try them and see what good can be done for the sick," writes Mrs. Elizabeth McConnell, of Rochester, Ind.

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow.

Jesus at Jacob's Well—John 4, 5-14.

Golden Text—"Whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely."—Rev. 22, 17.

We have in our lesson to-day the beginning of a great revival in Samaria, that was continued after Pentecost by Philip the Evangelist; and the woman of our lesson was the first convert.

Note the great opposites of character between her and Nicodemus, but the water of life—the Holy Spirit—was about to do for her as for him, and without it both would perish. Second Kings 17, 24-34, tells how these Samaritans were, and their jealousy and hatred to the Jews was heartily returned. Jesus' love to them compelled Him to go through Samaria and make Himself just as friendly there as amongst His own kin. He asks her for a drink. She is amazed at such a condescending request from a Jew to her a woman of Samaria—and a bad one at that. He tells her of the gift of God—water and Holy Spirit—which, if she knew Him, she would be asking Him for. Like Nicodemus, she is dark to the spiritual, so Jesus uses the same type—water—to illustrate the Holy Spirit's quenching the soul thirst of this poor sinner, as He used it to the good Rabbi, Nicodemus, applying it differently. "Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again; but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give shall never thirst. The water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up into eternal life."—B. V. She drank, and became a witness for Jesus, an ambassador for Christ, and many in that city were turned to the Lord. Read Isaiah 55, 1.

Art thou drinking at this fountain?

Why not?
A band of the Evangelistic Union will leave Park St. Church at 8 a. m. to-morrow to open revival services at Jericho, South Raleigh, with three meetings for the day, and to continue during the week at 8 and 7.30 p. m.

REASON No 11 WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because it is Reliable.

Some one has said: "A single fact is worth a ship-load of argument."

A few facts: I introduced this tea to the public about ten years ago. In that short time the business has grown to such proportions that we now occupy the largest Tea warehouse in Canada.

This enormous business has been built up without extensive advertising.

The merchants who commenced handling Red Rose Tea ten years ago are the most enthusiastic in its praises to-day.

The merchants who sell it, the people who drink it, have found that it could be relied on.

The brand, "Red Rose Tea," is accepted everywhere as a guarantee of the highest quality, and those who drink it are its best advertisers.

Ask some of your friends about it.

Most of our comforts grow up between our crosses.

There are fellows who laugh and grow fat over their own jokes.

There is a reason, and the best kind of a reason, why Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow long and heavy.

It is a hair-food. It feeds the hair and makes it healthy and strong.

Healthy hair grows, keeps soft and smooth, does not split at the ends, and never falls out.

Give Ayer's Hair Vigor to your gray hair and restore to it all the deep, rich color of early life.
