CURLING AND SKATING.

The tteady frost at the end of last week made the curlers jump for joy and on Monday, New Year's Day, the devotees of the "roarin game" were out in full force.

At the Burn's Curling Rink on River Street there was a happy crowd and it was a kind of inauguration, day, for the rink is anew one and it was used for the first time on tion day, for the rink is anew one and it was used for the first time on Monday. All the skips were on the ice as busy as bees and several pick-up games were played.

John-son and James Fleming had a large party on the ice morning and afterparty on the ice morning and alter-noon and some good games were played in fact there was "roanin" fur and everybody had a good time. The skating rink was well patron-ised and as the ice was good and the sed and as the ice was good and the weather bracing without being too cold, there was a large turnout of skaters, old and young, and the merry crowd thoroughly enjoyed the

The river too, attracted a large crowd of skaters. The weather being comparatively mild open-air skating was all right and the broad Saskatchewan was gay with skaters all day long.

In the morning the Burn's rink Ice Cammittee with characteristic recklessness threw out a challenge to All-comers. The challenge was accepted by F. S. Pingle. The game was played at 7.30 in the evening and the players and result were as and the players and result were as

But all skaters and curlers seemed to be haunted by a great dread. We took a walk round and as soon as a man had exhausted himself wishing us a "Happy New Year and lots of 'em', we thought it would show a kindly feeling to take an interest in the ice and the sport.

"The ice is in prime condition," we ventured to say to a curler who.

"The ice is in prime condition" we ventured to say to a curler who was breathing hard after fantastically hopping and brushing down the "Ah, yes" said he, "but I am afraid it's going to chinook."

Then we addressed another whose eagle eye was on the players.

Ah, but I am afraid there's a chinook coming.

Next we "struck" (this is a metaphor), a sprightly looking individual making for the niver with the usual skate-boots hanging gracefully round his neck. He was most gushing and once more we remarked upon the suitability of the weather and the ice. (Having lived in Manitoba we consider ourselves an authority upon

A special meeting of the council was held on Friday afternoon, to finish up the business of the year. There were present: The Mayor, Councillors Deslirisy, Stewart, Drinnan and Penhale.

The Finance Committee recommended payment of the following accounts, presented at the last regular meeting: consider ourselves an authority upon both ice and cold weather. This is His countenance fell, Oh, but said he, I am afraid there is a chinook coming. Don't you see the wind is from the south. It will just spoil the ice until it changes."
