The Price of Quarrels.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

"Oh, Henry and I can't afford to quarrel now," said a Recently Wed Lady, who is in the even temper way in which she smoothed over a situation that had approached the difficult.

"Has the price of quarrels gone up on account of the war?" inquired the Cynic. "Have on all the quarrelling over there?"

"Silly," said the Recently Wed Lady, "I think War jokes are in vogue. You see, it's this way," turning to the rest of us, "we haven't quarrelled for four months." She paused to turn toward the mantel and give three merry raps. "And we are crazy to make a record of at least six months. So we are being so careful not to let ourselves quarrel."

"Don't Quarrels Just Happen?"

"Can you be careful not to quarrel?" asked the Cynic. "I thought it was in the nature of quarrels that they just happened."

"Well, they do happen," said the Recently Wed Lady, "but so does bumping your elbow, or tripping over, and if you are extra careful you can minimize accidents like that, can't you?"

"You mean you haven't had a single quarrel for four months?" asked Mollie a bit incredulously.

"Oh, no, we are not as mummy-pampered as all that. I mean a real quarrel, the kind when you say dreadful things, and almost hate each other, and think things are never coming straight again."

"Do you think it proper for a young girl, whose parents object to her engagement with a man to attend an entertainment?" asked Mabel.

"The reason should be given the young man and if he is a gentleman he will understand," answered her aunt.

Your Boys and Girls.

Some babies seem to catch cold on the slightest provocation. This is often due to the fact that they have been kept in too warm a room or have been clothed too warmly. They may have gotten overheated and then have felt the slightest draught of air. At night keep the baby's room at a temperature of sixty to sixty-five degrees and in the daytime at a temperature of sixty-eight to seventy degrees. Have the thermometer hung about the level of the baby's head when he is in his crib.

When baby has a cold and his nose to be stopped up, twist a piece of cotton about a wooden toothpick and insert a little way up the nostrils. Be careful not to push it up too far.

Girls! Have Wavy, Thick, Glossy Hair Free From Dandruff

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments—try this!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scrub robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

OUTDOOR-SKATING.—Bowling Park, Burton's Pond and other nearby and popular suburban resorts are being largely patronized by skaters these nights.

THE LOVE LETTER.

The Love Letter is a habit which is cured by marriage.

Almost all of the marriage ceremonies perpetrated in this country are preceded by the twelve-page Love Letter, containing passionate avowals of undying esteem and averaging fourteen misspelled words to the page. It is a peculiar and melancholy fact that before marriage a man will find time to sit down every day and prepare a long, wordy Love Letter full of grammatical misdemeanors, but after he has been married for two years he is too busy to send anything but a picture postcard with a request to shake down the turnace.

The Love Letter is intended for temporary use only, and if justice were done a law would be passed prohibiting wives from retaining epistle which do no good except to conjure up sad memories. Some wives take great delight in hauling out their husbands' Love Letters and reading them out loud. This is a fiendish and inhuman practice which causes the average husband to wonder why woman was invented. After all that man has done for woman, providing her with a home and allowing her to spend part of the money she earns over the rub-board, it would seem that he should be treated with greater consideration and respect, instead of being made a painful joke before his own children.

The purpose of the Love Letter is to satisfy the recipient that she has an opportunity to marry one of Nature's noblemen. The Love Letter which does not promise everything from eternal happiness to an electric washer is as much out of place as tan shoes at a church wedding. Thousands of women have taken the Love Letter at its word, only to find that it failed to say anything about who should pay the grocery bills.

The Love Letter which reads as well in old age as in youth is the only kind worth having.

ON THE WAGON.

A legion recently swore off, they said, "we've had a plenty; no more we'll crowd up to the trough, and guzzle S. Frumment." And now, while yet the pledge is young, they suffer every minute, and from a cask they'd knock the bung, and drink the liquid in it.

Cheer up—this epoch is the worst, the first few weeks of striving to curb a million dollar thirst, and keep the pledge surviving. That thirst, by years of effort built, is not at once detected; but in a little while 'twill wilt, when finding it's neglected. The day will come, as from the dump you keep on gallivanting, when water from the village pump will seem to you enchanting. Though water seems upon the blink, until you're on the wagon, you never poured a better drink into a cup or flagon. When you're as glad to see a mug of undiluted water, as you were glad to see a jug of booze that made you totter, your million dollar thirst is canned, your troubles all to "bliss turn, and you will join the phantome band that whoops around the cistern.
