THE SYMPATHY BLOODSUCKERS.

If it were possible for one person with a strong vitality to infuse into another person who lacked strength some of her life blood and vitality every little while, and custom to do this, how strong people would be if they would permit it. And they wouldn't. And yet it seems to me that a very similar process goes on between the person with a strong personality and a sympathetic disposition and the people about them. Anyone who will give sympathy is almost sure to be made the victim of those who crave it.

And while to give sympathy in a reasonable degree is normal and natural and not a drain, to give it constantly, to constantly be called upon to lift up those about you, is a tremendous drain and often affects physically the person who does it.

People with a strongly sympathetic disposition should not place themselves in positions where the call upon their sympathies will be too constant. For instance, a nurse with too sympathetic a disposition will wear herself out quickly. Her patients will feel her tendency to sympathy and will make undue demands upon it.

Sympathy Greediness.
For that is the effect that the person with the sympathetic disposition always seems to have; she brings out the sympathy craving tendency of people about her. Practically all of us are sympathy greedy and the minute we find anyone who will give sympathy we bring out all our troubles and put our worst foot forward in order to extract all the sympathy we can get.

Just as people who are generous about money draw about them a circle of financial sycophants so those who are generous with sympathy have a circle of sympathy sycophants.

And yet to advise anyone to control the tendency to be generous with sympathy seems a terrible thing because sympathy is so beautiful and so rare that it seems sad there should be any less of it.

Sympathy at the Right Time.
One day when I had made a bid for sympathy, of which I was very much ashamed afterwards, I was discussing the subject with a woman who has had a tremendously hard time and out of it has developed a fine character. I said it seemed to me that much as we craved sympathy we got along better without it, perhaps it weakened us and we developed more strength within ourselves if we did not get it.

She did not agree. "I have had some very hard places in my life," she said (she certainly has) "and a little sympathy at just the right time has meant everything in the world to me."

ANOTHER EPIDEMIC.
I am tired of South Sea beaches, of the velvet tropic night; I am tired of dusky peaches who can't either read or write. I am weary of the blighters featured in the South Sea tales, and I think a lot of writers should be in as many jails. For they always rise and follow every man who leaves

A Check Rein.
"A little sympathy at just the right time." Yes, he who can give that gives one of the greatest gifts in the world. But those who abuse the privilege and try to get sympathy all the time just because there are people generous enough to give it, should put a check rein on themselves and remember that sympathy selfishness is just as bad as any other form of selfishness—or worse.

Preparations Nearing Completion.

PASSION PLAY SPECTATORS WILL BE LOOKED AFTER.

OBERAMMERGAU, Bavaria (Associated Press)—The villagers here are feverishly finishing preparations for the first performance of the Passion Play, which occurs May 14, after a full dress rehearsal May 9 before a number of invited guests. The village elders say they have made arrangements to house and feed the foreign and native guests and to protect them from pickpockets or any form of extortion. Only about 7,000 persons can be housed in the village and the vicinity. Consequently the Passion Play committee has advised that visitors should remain only one or two days and then give way for others. Applications indicate the visitors will tax accommodations severely. But is said officially "all will be taken care of." All sleeping and eating accommodations are under direct control of the village administration, and steps have been taken to severely punish those who violate the regulations and the schedules of prices which will be available to all visitors. Approximately 1,000 persons will participate in the

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefit received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

a track, trail him to the hole or hollow where he's built his little shack; and they watch his every motion, doing all they see him do, and along the southern ocean they have swarmed a year or two. Some one wrote of island dwellers in a fine and charming style, and these imitative fellows—each must have his coral isle! Oh, I'm tired of all the stanches that infest the southern seas, and I'm sick of greasy wenches sitting under banian trees, and I'm sick of shipwrecked seamen, and of blue and silver bays, and of that old deathless demon who is known as Bully Hayes. I am sick of parrots screaming in a tropic neighbourhood, and of basking loafers dreaming when they should be sawing wood. And the authors who go trailing everywhere a lender feast the southern seas, and I'm sick of come sailing, for they're boring all their friends.

It's Flavor that Makes the Meal!

And the sauces that the Libby chefs have adapted for you give flavor to the simplest dishes.

It may be eggs, or macaroni, or a cheap cut of meat—an unusual and delicious sauce will make it something you eat with delight and remember with pleasure—because of its flavor.

LIBBY'S CATCHUP and CHILI SAUCE are made from red, ripe tomatoes, grown in the fertile soil of Kent County, Ontario, picked when they are mellowed by the sunshine of long summer days, then rushed to the nearby Libby kitchen.

Here in sunny rooms the tomatoes are cooked with fragrant spices, onions, sugar and the best vinegar—cooked for hours until all the flavors are blended through and through.

Now the sauce is ready to give an appetizing relish to your steaks and chops, or a new piquancy to the meat gravy you serve with your roasts.

Your grocer has, or can get you, Libby's Catchup or Chili Sauce. Use it with your cold meat teas and note how quickly the second helping is necessary.

The delightful flavor of Libby's Beans is due largely to the wonderful Sauce prepared by the skilled chefs. Have you tried them?
