

THE CHURCH SHOULD BE SOCIAL CENTRE, SAYS DR. WARD

"Don't Let Us Hand Over the Amusement of Our Young People to the Commercial Agencies," Urges Professor to Baptist Young Men

YOUTH SHOULD ATTEND CHURCH EVERY NIGHT

Calgary University Professor Will Gather Definite Information to Enlarge His Idea Before Congregations Who Intend Building Churches

The development of the social side of the Christian church was urged strongly by Prof. Ward of Calgary University in an intense and comprehensive address to the audience of First Baptist church in the auditorium on Sunday afternoon.

For some time Dr. Ward has been making a study of the churches in the West, and one of the conclusions which he has arrived at is that the churches which are spending thousands of dollars every year for new and modern buildings are neglecting the greatest opportunity they have to direct the social life of the people along right lines.

Two or three times he has addressed this idea. Yesterday he addressed his address with a more vigorous appeal.

"I should urge you young men, leaders of the people, to consider this very carefully," he said. "Let every legitimate social activity be worked to carry on in connection with the religious program. Reach out to these thousands of young men and hundreds of young married couples in our city, who are starving to death socially, and many of the young women who have gone astray this year would have been saved if even a little more harmlessness diversion of human sympathy had come into their lives."

"Can you see the outside of young girls coming every evening from our parts of the city to the point of prostitution, going to a lonely room, in a house where rough men also reside?"

"Can you not see the agencies, animated only by desire of gain, which lay in wait for the young man? Don't let us hand over the amusement of our young people to commercial agencies. I know they should make the effort, but you who are strong you can reach them not once a week but every night in the week. It seems to me some groups of young people should be in the church."

When Dr. Ward leaves shortly for a tour of the American universities he will begin a study of the social side of various churches engaged actively in social service in the large American cities, with a view to bringing back to Calgary detailed information to lay before various church congregations in this city which may be interested in this idea. There are some half dozen new church buildings are to be built next year.

Work of The Children's Aid

A meeting of the executive of the Children's Aid society was held at the city hall on May 8. Those present: J. S. Hunt, president; W. M. Connolly, J. S. Arnold, Mrs. Arnold, J. T. McDonald, Rev. P. Walker, Miss Mrs. W. Pearce and the secretary.

Several communications were read bearing upon the general work of the society. Reports were received from the house committee, (Miss Childs and the Pearce); matron and secretary, (Miss Childs); and from the children in the hands of the society receiving every care and attention. The secretary strongly recommended a children's boarding house and appointed a committee to look into the matter and report at the next regular meeting of the society.

Reference to the Pollard Juvenile company regarding a letter written by the secretary to the manager of the Sherman Grand theater re this matter was read.

Monthly Report, April 1913 To the executive of the Children's Aid Society, Calgary:

Ladies and gentlemen: I beg to submit herewith the following report of the society's work for the month of April.

Arbor day is not worth while as a holiday. It is unfortunate that it is not observed in the real sense and that paternalism with the rest of the family does not shoulder the shovel and hoe and plant a few trees during the forenoon and gaze upon his handiwork and tell all the neighbors about it in the afternoon.

A Physical Wreck

Suffered Tortures from Nervousness. Miss Marguerite Lees, 31 Robert St., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was a wreck, reduced in body, and despondent. I suffered tortures from nervousness, and was totally unfitted for work. A friend recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I commenced taking it and by the time the second bottle was consumed I knew that I was mending. Gradually I grew well. I have used Hood's since. I would not be without it on any account, and do most enthusiastically endorse every word in its favor. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists everywhere."

No. otherwise disposed of..... 3
No. put on probation..... 10
No. Juvenile court cases..... 41
No. visits to home and other places 119

Work Increasing

It will be noted that the number admitted and cared for at the shelter is much greater than for any previous month. In April, 1912, 23 children were cared for at the shelter. During the month of April, 1913, the number cared for was 60. These figures index fairly the growth of the work. Owing to the want of accommodation, several children had to be provided for outside of the shelter. Quite a large number of applications are being received from time to time from parents who require temporary shelter for their children.

The mother, for instance, has to go to the hospital to undergo an operation. The father has to work all day or lose his job. What is he to do with two or three little ones unexpectedly thrown upon his hands? He is willing to pay for the keep of the children, but where is he to take them? Where can he place them and feel sure they will receive proper attention? In a number of extreme cases, the rules governing admission to the shelter have been relaxed to meet the particular need. But it is felt that there is now an urgent need of a children's boarding house which the city. Perhaps a day nursery and children's boarding house could be combined, and run under one general management. At any rate the time has come when a children's boarding house needs to be established.

Juvenile Court

Some of the 40 cases before this court as compared with 50 last month, a decrease of 10. Ten boys were placed on probation for various offenses, and 11 others were released for good behavior.

Work Among Girls

There is nothing special to report this month in relation to this most important work for the help and protection of young girls who are thrown in the way of temptation and peril. During the month Mrs. Bagnall made some 90 visits to homes and other places in the discharge of her duty as lady probation officer. In aiding her girls to obtain correct views of life, in finding for them, where necessary, suitable homes, and safeguarding their interests generally, Mrs. Bagnall's time is being fully occupied.

The outstanding feature of the month's work, however, was the new children's shelter. At a meeting of the executive held on April 10, the shelter problem received thorough and careful consideration. After discussion it was unanimously decided to recommend the cottage system in preference to the congested plan of having all the different classes of children cared for in one large building. On April 25 the shelter plan was submitted to the citizens and carried. On April 25 and May 8, meetings of the building committee of the society were held in the office of the secretary to work out details as to plans and specifications of the new shelter site, and to consider the matter of a suitable site.

A joint meeting of the building committee and city commissioners was held in the office of Commissioner Smith when the whole question as to the style of building and selection of a site received careful and thorough consideration. After discussion of the commissioners decided to defer action until after the meeting of the executive and building committee on May 8, when the whole matter would be further considered, and recommendations submitted.

Recommendation

That a committee be appointed to look into the matter of a children's boarding house and day nursery.

A. D. McDONALD.

May 8, 1913.

I beg to submit the following report of the work of the children's shelter during the past month.

The present attendance is 34: 18 of whom are boys and 16 girls; 19 attend school, 8 Catholics, 26 Protestants; Mrs. McDonald will have the record of the number admitted and the number sent out.

The general health of the children is good, for the most part they are fat and rosy with abundant energy and spirits. One baby has erysipelas, causing constant nursing and watchful care. The little tubercular baby died after many weeks of untiring nursing.

I have been able to secure the services of a thing a good girl to help in the general work. Should she prove satisfied by the staff will be complete and harmonious. Each one very busy doing her best for the good, the clean, honest, comfort and happiness of the children, which is much. Thus it is that a happy and contented tone pervades the whole institution.

Respectfully submitted,
E. M. L. L. B. Matron
