The monument represents Lincoln freeing the slaves. It is fifteen feet in height, the bronze figure being life size. At the feet of the martyred president is a figure representing a freed slave and battle flags also in bronze. The figure of Lincoln is by the soulptor, George E. Bissell, and costs $4,000. The entire cost of the monument is placed at $6,000, which was subscribed for the most part by Americans in Scotland and prominent Sewtchmen. The money was raised through the efforts of Consul Bruce, and the project sprang from his discovery that a union veteran had been buried in the Scotch city in a pauper's grave. The pathetic story attached led Mr. Bruce to the determination that the many union veterans of Scotch birth should have a fitting menument in the chief city of their native land. The Franco-Italian Trouble.

Rome, Aug. 21.—The troubles growing out of the fighting between French and Italian workingmen employed at the salt works at Aigues Mortes, France, threaten works at Aigues-Mortes, France, threaten to involve grave international complications. It is not in Rome alone that the popular indignation is finding vent in demonstrations that are evidently intended to coerce the Government into demanding an apology from France for the attack upon the Italians and the payment of an indemnity. Riots directed against the French have occurred in many of the provincial towns and the situation is considered exceedingly grave.

provincial towns and the situation is con-sidered exceedingly grave.

The most serious outbreak of popular feeling against the French occurred in this city last night when a howling mob at-tempted to burn the French embassy. Some of the rioters carried caus of paraffine. The authorities had anticipated that an attack might be attempted on the embassy, and a strong force of troops was detailed to guard the building. The rioters, however, attempted to carry out their threats notwithstanding the presence of the soldiers. They refused to disperse and the soldiers charged upon them several times, wounding many with their sabers. Forty-five of the rioters were arrested. The rioting in the provincial towns was only quelled by the use of troops. PARIS, Aug. 21.—Troops are held ready at Aigues-Mortes to protect the Italians in the salt works in case the French workingmen should try to repeat the attack of last Tuesday.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Up to this hour (5 p. m.) the returns show the election of 46 Conservatives, 14 Conservateurs Rallies and 330 Republicans. It is now known that reballots will have to be taken in 155 districts. The majorities given to the several Ministers in their respective districts aggregate nearly 25,000 more than their combined majorities when standing for election to the Chambor in 1889. In the last general election the Boulangists returned 35 members. Yesterday they elected only three. The deteat of the Royalists is causing much significant comment, and it is predicted that it means the ultimate extension of that party. The departments is predicted that party. The departments of Vendee, Finisterre and Loire Inferieure, hitherto strongholds of the Royalists, have been wrested from them by the Republicans, who are jubilant over the gains they have need.

London, Aug. 22.—Several newspapers

London, Aug. 22.—Several newspapers publish this classification of results of the French elections. Republicans 312, Socialist-Radicals and Socialist 30, the "rallied" 31, Conservatives 56.

London, Aug. 21.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says about 69 of the reballots will profit the moderate Republicans, who thus will exceed half the Chamber, and will secure a majority even without the assistance of the Radicals or Rallica. France has again showed more wisdom and self-respect than those who aspire to govern the county. She has given herself doubtless forever to the republic. The monarchical parties have lost already 50 seats, and the Rallies have failed to convince the electors of their sincerity.

Strike of 1,000 Longshoremon in New York—Parade of Unemployed.

New York, Aug. 21.—Over 1,000 long-shoremen struck to-day on the piers of the Mallory, Ward and Clyde lines, along South street, against a reduction in their wages. On the Mallory Line pier the men were notified that hereafter the company would only pay 25 cents instead of 30 cents an hour. On the Clyde Line docks the men were told that they would hereafter receive only 25 cents an hour for day work and 30 cents an hour for night work. The men protested and quit work in a body. The steamers of the Ward Line are United States mail and are bound by contrast to sail on time. The Saratoga is to sail to-morrow, and as she carries the mails the men are confident they will win. The men on the other lines, when the reduction was announced, quit in a body. Two weeks ago the bloodhound, which Alrs. Bradley, seeing the dog lying upon the floor, called him by name and patted him on the head as she passed. The conciliating advances did not meet the approval of the bloodhound, who showed his resentment by flying at the woman's throat. His teeth caught in her breast and lacerated her flesh badly. She screamed for help, and the dog sprang again at her throat. His teeth closed around a case of relies which she wore around her neck, and to this fact she attributes her salvation from the beast's attack. The relies were of St. Samuel, St. Christina and St. Innocent. They were in an old brass watch case which hung from Mrs. Bradley's neck by a chain. Her cries attracted the inmates of the first floor, who came to her aid. She was assisted to her apartment, where Dr. Kennedy, of Willoughby avenue, cauterized the wound in her breast, which was found to be a severe one.
