Irish homespuns are supreme. For beauty of pattern and obstinacy of wear nothing can touch them. "Kilalo" Homespun is our own particular quality, woven into our own

One of the oldest and best mills in Ireland produces it for us. Generations of experience are behind their knowledge of homespun making.

This mill makes a particularly high grade homespun for us under our trade name of "Kilalo." Semi-ready controls the output of that quality, and any patterns we select are exclusive to us.

We make "Kilalo" homespun into two-piece suits and summer trousers. It is stylish-looking fabric-so much so that it has entirely taken the place of flannels. Prices $15 to $20.

Windsor Man in Detroit Says Attempt Was Made to Rob Him.

Windsor, May 24. - D. Spence Wyie, organist at the Central Methodist Church here for the past four years, and well known in music circles, was arrested on Belle Isle yesterday on the charge of disturbing the peace and convicted today by Justice Sellers, who ordered him to pay a fine of $25, or serve six months in the workhouse. He paid the fine after being in the county jail for an hour or so. Wylie, who is single, about 30 years was alleged to have been in a disturbance with a bellboy from a Detroit hotel. An officer said that he the brass and wood wind was perfect, saw the bellboy brandishing a weapon, which proved to be a corkscrew, and apparently trying to get away from Wylie. The boy claimed that Wylie had an altercation with him. Wylie declared that the trouble arose over the bellboy's alleged attempt to take his scarfpin from his tie.

But it is the greatest fault of Mr. Stock that he is "his father's son," that he plays with something of hesitation upon the harp so carefully tuned for the hands of Theodore Thomas. There is no doubt that he has in him the material for making a conductor of more than ordinary ability. He has the technique, and the intimate knowledge of his scores-all that is lacking is a temperament more highly developed. To meet Mr. Stock is to be convinced that he has this, and that it needs only to be brought out but one very striking novelty—an overture "Sakuntala," by Karl Goldmark. This composer is one of a trinity of kindred spirits, of whom the other members, Glinka and Smetana, have been previously noticed in this column. He stands at the head of the three in fertility of invention Manitoba is steady, at $18 for bran and and skill in instrumentation, his subjects being peasant and gypsy life. Too much cannot be said in praise of "Sakuntala" from the composer's viewpoint of its melodic and harmonic interest, its masterly treatment of the string division of the band, and from the executants' standpoint of the tone production of those same strings, and the general ensemble. It was the most interesting number on the programme, for the only truly great number, Tschaikowski's Symphony No. 6, has been played here a number of times already. Of this work Mr. Stock gave a rather mechanical, but, on the whole, a correct musicianly reading. Not so long ago, the writer heard this work in another city, given by the Pittsburg orchestra with its full complement of strings—71 strong, and more highly emotional reading was possible by reason of the proper pre-often with the brass. But this, notwithstanding, the playing of the orchestra, certainly bore the impress of the care and genius of their ounder, and with such an equipment, Mr. Stock cannot but be envied as one who has one of the grandest opporunities in his profession. Mention must be made of the largo from Dvorak's "New World" symphony. This celebrated number gave the conductor and his men a chance to show what they could do in almost every department. The tone quality of the blend of the reeds equally so, while the strings, muted, accomplished the most delicate, pure and resonant sostenuto. Added to this, Mr. Stock gave a most catholic reading, entirely

It is a long time since a player of such perfection of detail has played here. He had lots of reserve power in full chord and octave fect purity of tone in the brilliant runs, hromatic and arpeggio, and cadenzas grammes with the perfection he displayed yesterday, and there is no reabelieve he cannot, then he is

In the evening the feature was the horus work, of which the best description lies in the words of a brief speech made by Dr. Torrington, of Toonto, who was asked to conduct the final chorus of Elijah. He said, in effeet, that the chorus displayed a very fine body of tone, both as to quality and to resonant quantity, that they exhibited a promising enthusiasm that time and cultivation, if they kept together, would develop into perfection in letail and interpretation. Both Mr. Jordan and the chorus are to be commended for what they didfor the climaxes, which were bold and powerful, for their general good behavior in the matter of attack, for their true intonation and generally good

The orchestra was not so strong in numbers as in the afternoon. The conductor should be warned against the excessive haste of such choruses as "Be Not Afraid," "He Watching Over Israel," and "Then Did Elijah." His tempo not only violated Mendelssohn's expressed conception, but it placed the orchestra and correct disadvantage giving them no so much pleased that he responded, when recalled, with an excuisite composition, which he said he had never played before on any piano except his own. This was certainly a great compliment to the Heintzman & Co. pianos, and all true Canadians should feel justly proud of this eulogy, and that such a magnificent instrument is "made in Canada." It was a splendid opportunity to compare the merits of the Heintzman & Co. with the very best of American pianos, and the very best of American pianos, and the very best of American pianos, and the general consensus of opinion, expressed by musicians, was that the Heintzman & Co. had a fuller, richer and more resonant quality of tone. REASON Nº WHY YOU SHOULD USE Red Rose

Tea Because of the care in Selection and Blending.

My agents in the east are expert tea tasters, and every lot of tea that is sent down from the Gardens has to pass their inspection. They take samples from the chests and carefully taste them, then if the tea is fully up to the Red Rose standard, it is accepted and shipped; if not it is rejected.

The most important test of all, however, is when the tea arrives here, as during the passage through the Red Sea, the very great heat often affects the Tea very seriously. Immediately on arrival, samples are taken from each lot and subjected to the most rigid tests, and only those teas which have retained all their original flavor and strength are used for Red Rose (the balance is jobbed off in bulk).

When blended and ready to be put into sealed packages, it is tested again just to make sure no mistake has been made in the blending; nothing is left to chance.

Will you test us by ordering a package?
