For the first five months of the crop year ending Jan. 31. there were inspected 75,238 cars of all kinds of grain, of which 61,059 cars were wheat. This was the greatest quantity inspected for this period in the history of the west. At the end of January there were in store at terminals in Fort William and Port Arthur 5,041,667 bushels of wheat, compared with 4,369,130 bushels at the same time kast year.
