Some other alleged strange things done by the Constantinapolitans he cites as follows:

A street car passenger often bargains with the conductor about the price for ride. If a youth takes a girl to the movies once or twice her parents expect him to marry her. Turkish saleswomen, even in the smallest shops, are required to under-stand or speak seven or eight languages. Native men are accustomed to "rent" pipe to smoke while they aip their afternoon tea.

A policeman, if he finds a pickpocket at work, may beat him almost insensible and then let the prisoner go. Some Constantinople stores have signs in as many as eight languages over their doors. A tourist may engage a boatman to row him two miles for 2 or 3 cents. As American paper money in Turke; worth 15 to 20 per cent more than arkish gold, it is possible for one to buy a $20 gold piece for 17 paper dol-Christmas is celebrated four times a year, one for each of the different eligious calendars. A man walking along the street often may be seen followed, five or ten paces n the rear, by a few of his wives A bootblack will give you a good shine for a cigarette.

There is no limit to automobile speed ng in any part of Constantinople, but t's a case of "all you can make." A Turkish barber is courteous, but when he shaves you he never washes off the lather, but covers your face with A suit of pajamas, or its equivalent, is enough "evening dress" at a grand
