pumishable by seven years, imprisonment, and on this account he would refuse bail, and adjourned the court until Monday at 10:30.

Mr. Hussey, superintendent of police, asked to make a statement to the court. He referred to a demonstration make in the court room yesterday, and the fact that the court room had to be cleared, and stated that he had subsequently, in the evening, received a communication from a responsible source that his informant believed that at the time the court room was cleared, if the people in the court room had been searched, 50 men would have been found armed with revolvers. He therefore asked the court to allow him to search those present now for concealed weapons. He would only ask each one present to step to the side of the magistrate, so he could be searched in his presence, Mr. Bowser stated that he, too, had received threats since he had taken hold of these cases for the prosecution, and that he thought under the circumstances that every man there should be searched. He believed that Supt. Hussey had a right to search any man whom he suspected.

Mr. Senkier contended that the police had no right to search anyone without a warrant. He did not believe any man had a revolver in the crowd, but he thought Mr. Bawren historical.

THREATENS MAGISTRATE.

A fisherman attempted to shoot Police Magistrate Russell today. This is the only sensational development in the fishermen's strike in the past twenty-four hours. The police say that the alleged attempted murder was committed by Michael Sullivan, a striking fisherman of the Vancouver cannery. This is the cambery that the Japanese boat sailed from which contained the concealed policemen. The story of the assult, as learned at the police station by the Colonist correspondent, is as follows:

The story of the assult, as learned at the police station by the Colonist correspondent, is as follows:

Are Russell was walking along Carroll street at 1 o'clock this afternoon, when he noticed a man talking in boist terms to Capt. Soule. When the man saw Mr. Russell he shouted, pointing at him: "There is the man I want ogst after," and walking towards the police magistrate, he said to Mr. Bussell replied that he did not see that it was any of the man's business.

The fisherman said: "I'll make it my business, anyway," and continued to question Mr. Russell. "You were out on the Glaf last night, weren't you?" he said to Mr. Russell. "You were out on the Glaf last night, weren't you?" he said to Mr. Russell. "You were out and lucky to one cape. You deln't Are you going out on the river again."

Mr. Russell replied that he would if he saw fit, when Sullivan said: "If you do. Mr. Russell replied to the fisherman that he thought it would be better if he sand, the fisherman advanced threaten, was leading the fisherman advanced threaten, by a good notion to give you a dose lead now."

JAPANESE FISHERMEN. Mr. Mykuny, secretary of the Japan-se Fishermen's Association, said to a And Alphanese Fishermen's Association, said to a Colonist correspondent today that the newspaper talk about the Japs holding a meeting to consider the advisability of joining the white strikers is all wrong; that the Japanese held a meeting in Steveston to discuss the matter of the strikers' patrol boats attacking them, and it was decided that as they were exposed to the danger of losing their lives, that they ask for more protection from the provincial government, in the way of an augmented police patrol. Mr. Mykuny stated that the fishermen's statement that 36 Japs were still marooned on islands of the Guif was untrue, as there were but three Japs missing in the fleet. All reports as to missing Japs came to him and as far as was known, but three could not be accounted for. It is impossible to say what has become of the absentees.

HUSSEY MEANS BUSINESS. Mr. Hussey, superintendent of provin-cial police, said in an interview, that he Mr. Hussey, superintendent of provincial police, said in an interview, that he was determined to keep order, no matter how many police it took. The remark is frequently heard on the street that "Hussey is the right man in the right place just now." It is felt here that he is fair and just, but as firm as iron, does not get ratified, moves cautiously and does not allow anyone to fool him in committing any action to weaken the respectful awe that intending evildoers have for the head of the police department of British Columbia.

in the command of the British forces in South Africa by General Sir Bindon Blood, who has been operating in Eastern Transvaal. Should this change occur, it would probably be chiefly due to the differences of opinion existing between Lord Milner of Capetown and Lord Kitchener, and it would be announced in the form of a promotion accompanied by a statement that the operations in South Africa no longer justified the presence there of any officer of the seniority of Lord Kitchener.

There is little doubt but that Lords Milner and Kitchener had several disagreements and the high commissioner does not want to return to South Africa as long as the hard, high handed General Kitchener remains in control there.

Amid the storm of disapproval resulting from the Vlakfontein affair, and which the government's supporters are pouring out upon the War Office on account of the suppression of news and the flagrant vagaries of the censorship, the Liberal party through its hopeless differences of opinion, is obliged to sit supinely and see the best opportunity probably ever offered pass out of their hands. The extraordinary spectacle has been presented of an advanced Radical paper, the Daily News, patting the War Office and Lord Kitchener on the back for suppressing the alleged Boer outrages to British wounded, while the Times and other government organs, say the feeling aroused in the general public who have up to this time blindly and enthusiastically supported the government's war policy can scarcely be estimated.

Officials of the War Office are more worried now than at any previous time during the war, and they are working Report That Action Precided to the Boers is a Pisioner of the Boers in the Bowen Island on Wednesday returned to the city today.

Two of these men gave a prier account of their marconing to the Colonist correspondent. They stated that five of the Japs boats were surrounded by 12 white patrol boats. The Japs were asked by the patrol boats if they had firearms. They said they had not. The strikers however, boarded their boat and searched for themselves, and not finding any returned, held a consultation, then came back, when some pointed guns at the Japs. There were 6 or 8 whites in every boat, all with guns, while others seized the Japs and threw them into one boat.

The strikers then rowed the Japs boats away with their nets and all their contents, and compelled the Japs to row to Bowen Island, accompanying them on each side and behind with rifles on their laps, with the muzzle pointed towards them. Arriving at the island, they left the nine Japs there with one boat, but with no oars and nothing to eat. The Japs, however, cut paddles from the trees, and with great labor paddled to Vancouver.

When the men reached here they were
