"GOD TOOK CARE OF YOU."

When the invitation to testify for Christ was given at an evening meeting in the St. Clair Street Mission of Toledo, Ohio, an old man, wearing the uniform of a Civil War veteran, arose. He began to speak by reviewing his long life. He confessed that he had contracted the liquor habit early and he said that he was also a conscienceless gambler.

When the war was over the soldier had made several efforts to sober up. His friends used every persuasion. His family wept and prayed, but all to no avail. He would not enter a church, nor would he listen to the pleadings of a minister. The sight of one fairly made him angry.

This life in the far country went on for forty years, while the enslaved soldier continued to pour all his earnings down his throat. Apparently no power could reach his heart and stir it to righteous aspirations.

Less than three years ago he attended a G. A. R. encampment in central Ohio. In the home where he was entertained, there was a little girl, always pleading for war stories. One day, when she was seated on the knee of the old man, he began to tell her about the battle of Gettysburg. He told her of the awful carnage, how comrades fell dead on both sides of him and how the bullets fell all about him like hailstones.

Suddenly the child looked into his eyes and asked, "Why didn't you get killed, too?" The soldier sat silent; for he had often asked himself that question, but had found no answer. Quickly the child's face lighted up and she said: "Oh, I guess I know. God took care of you. He wanted you to live so that you could love and serve Him. He didn't let you get killed."

The soldier left the encampment, but he could not get away from the words of the little girl: "God took care of you. He wanted you to live so that you could love and serve Him. He didn't let you get killed." The Holy Spirit stabbed him with these words day and night.

At length the soldier fell on his knees and began to pray. He struggled for two weeks before peace came, but when at last he yielded, he entered into the first real happiness he had ever known.

In telling of his appeal to God he cried: "I asked him, for Jesus' sake, to forgive my sin, boys, he did it. I asked him to take away my appetite for liquor, and boys, he did it. I asked him to take away my passion for gambling, and boys, he did it. I asked him to make me a fit dwelling for the Holy Spirit, and boys, he's living in me now."—Exchange.

While life lasts, there is hope.

LOVE CEMENTED BY THE BLOOD
A very wealthy man was showing a friend over his house. He had all kinds of curios from the Orient, and among the many beautiful things he had brought from India and other foreign countries was a tiger's skin.

It was not very beautiful. There were some of the things in that house worth thousands of dollars; but as he was showing all to his friend, he said, "I would part with everything in this house, I would even part with the house itself, and with all I possess (and he was wealthy), before I would part with that tiger skin."

The friend said, "I have seen larger and better tiger skins than that. You could replace it without spending much money." The gentleman replied, "Do you see that spot on it?" "Yes," said the friend, "I thought that marked it a little; that is a stain upon it."

POTATOES AND APPLES '50 P. C. SHORT THIS YEAR

Prices Better and Shortage More Than Made Up—Good Year For Oats in New Brunswick

J. B. Daggett, the secretary of agriculture, has furnished the board of trade with the following review of the crop conditions in New Brunswick:

"With the exception of the turnip crop, the harvest in the province has been pretty well gathered. On the whole it is a very satisfactory one. The season has been somewhat difficult for the farmers, because of the excessive wet weather and unusual frosts.

"The hay crop throughout the province is over the average of the last several years. In the county of Carleton in some localities it is short, owing to the extreme cold in the month of May, but in York, Sunbury, Kings, Kent and Westmorland counties the shortage is more than made up. There will be sufficient for local consumption and the usual quantity for export.

"The oat crop is a very satisfactory one, the acreage being twenty-five per cent larger than last year, and the yield per acre fully ten per cent greater, with the exception of the North Shore counties, where it is below the average.

"In wheat, there was an increase of twenty-five per cent sown over the previous year, and the yield is excellent.

"The acreage in turnips is about equal to previous years and the harvest will be a splendid one.

"Barley and peas are not generally raised in the province, but the acreage is about the same as usual, with good returns.

"The potato crop is about fifty per cent short of last year. This is accounted for by the fact that the fertilizer used this year was not up to the standard in potash and the potatoes are not as large as usual. There was a considerable decrease in acreage planted. The very showery weather in the month of August, followed by extreme heat, caused the plants to blight, with the result that there is considerable rot. The outlook is that the prices will be good for clean stock and the sum total of receipts from the potato crop will be much in excess of last year and much more profitable even with the small harvest.

"There was an increased acreage sown to buckwheat, but the frosts of August damaged the crop seriously and there will be considerable shortage.

"Apples are fully fifty per cent short of last year. This is accounted for by the cold weather during the period when the fruit was setting, which caused weakness, resulting in a large number of drops."

The reply was, "My brother and I were out in India. I was attacked by a tiger and my brother came to the rescue, saving my life, and in the fight the tiger killed him. This is the skin of my brother's blood upon this skin. It makes it precious to me."

The Lord Jesus Christ not only risked His life, but gave His life to rescue us from death. That death, that blood, makes Him precious to us.

UNCALCULATING COURTESY
"Why did you do that?" a passenger on a street car asked a conductor, who—at cost of some inconvenience—had left his station at the door to carry a valise for a mother who held a baby in her arms. "If there were some officer of the company here to see your act, there would have been reason for it, but as I'm the only passenger, you have had your trouble for your pains."

"No, indeed!" was the reply. "If I hadn't helped her I would have felt mean the rest of the day."

"You mean to tell me he treats every customer like that?" a man said to an employer, whom he had been congratulating on a clerk whose general ways had attracted him. "Then he is worth the twenty-five dollars a month extra you pay him."

One reason the young man was worth the extra twenty-five dollars was that he would have been just as courteous if he had not received a cent for it.—Adult B. C.

INTERESTING NEW PLANT AT GASPE, P. Q.

Shepard & Morse Lumber Co. Operating in New Field.—Excellent Equipment

In the Canadian Lumberman and Woodworker for October, there appears an illustrated article with reference to the new plant of the Shepard & Morse Lumber Co. at Gaspé, which will be of interest to our readers in this district. The Canada Lumberman and Woodworker says:—

"The accompanying illustration will give readers of the Canada Lumberman an idea of the appearance of the plant which has been completed at Gaspé, P. Q. this year, by the Shepard & Morse Lumber Company, Boston, Mass. The construction of a sawmill plant in Gaspé was not so easy as it would be in most other parts of Canada. In the first place, the winter in Gaspé is about two months longer than in almost any other part of Canada. One may gather some idea of the length and rigor of the winter from the fact that, early in the month of May, the Shepard & Morse Company were teaming across the ice. In fact, it was only a short time previous to the first week in May of this year that the company teamed their last 11-ton boiler across the ice from the railroad to the mill.

The plant which the company has erected at Gaspé is equipped for sawing deals of any thickness. During the present year they have been sawing almost entirely for the English market. If, in the future, the company wish to enter the South American trade, their equipment is such that they can easily do so.

The illustration shows how well the company is equipped for water shipment. Their dock is about 600 feet long and will accommodate two ocean steamers at one time. The steamer shown lying at the dock, is the Eagle Point, 3307 tons. She was engaged to carry troops and supplies to England and was loaded with about 700,000 feet of lumber for the British government. It will be seen that a schooner was also loading at the same time. The illustration does not show the shingle mill. Close to the dock the company have 35 acres of level land, on which they stock a large quantity of lumber. An important feature in connection with the securing of supplies for the company's operations is the fact that they have built a large warehouse upon the dock and can land supplies direct from the steamers that come down the St. Lawrence river from Montreal. The importance of this will be realized readily when one takes into consideration the fact that the country in the neighborhood of Gaspé is very thinly settled, and the company therefore have to take care of practically all their men. In order to make the men comfortable the company have erected a commodious bunk house and a cook house. They expect that in the near future they will find it necessary to increase this accommodation.

During the present year the output of this mill will be in the neighborhood of 16,000,000 feet. Although the timber at Gaspé is not large, it is very conveniently located. The company's limits contain from 200,000,000 to 300,000,000 feet, which can be readily logged. The drive is a short one and only occupies a few weeks. Next year, if conditions are favorable, the company expect to take out a much larger cut. This year they had their output practically all sold before starting the mill.

In order to furnish material for the local trade the company have erected a planing mill, the equipment of which includes a planing mill resaw and a modern fast feed planing machine, including profiling attachment, on which they can dress almost any kind of lumber or turn out moulding. They have also put up a shingle mill, and so are in an exceptionally good position to take care of the local coasting trade in dressed lumber and shingles.

One of the chief considerations that induced the company to locate at Gaspé is the excellent port which is there available. This is a most important matter because many of the other ports on the Gaspé Peninsula have very bad reputations, their roads being open, with very little shelter for vessels. Nowadays, when it is so difficult to secure sufficient tonnage to move lumber abroad, the good harbor at Gaspé is a great advantage, as vessels will load there when they will not load at any of the other ports. The station is also a good one in connection with the St. Lawrence river trade, as Gaspé is almost in a direct line on route from Montreal to Great Britain. Nearly all steamers on this route must pass near by. Last year, when the Shepard & Morse Company had only a small operation at Gaspé, steamers were frequently chartered which took on part of their load up the St. Lawrence and completed at Gaspé.

The sawmill at Gaspé cuts spruce logs only, and has a capacity of 90,000 feet per day of ten hours. The main building is 30 feet wide by 204 feet long and is of wood construction. Logs are carried into the mill on an endless steel chain haul-up and kicked onto the log deck by a steam kicker.

URGES PEOPLE OF INDIA TO GIVE DREADNOUGHT

Rajah on Active Service Writes to Press in Bombay.

Bombay, Oct. 19.—The Rajah Ratan, now in active service in France, writes to the local press suggesting that the Princes and people of India present one Dreadnought to the British navy in recognition of the protection afforded by the navy to India's coast and commerce.

The Rajah asks whether India is content to permit "the little islands of Britain to find money for all."

The deck is equipped with a steam deck stop and loader and a steam nigger. The hand is a double cutting mill with 8-foot wheels and takes a saw 14 in. wide, 14 gauge. The carriage is all of steel construction and is operated by a twin engine rope feed rig. The resaw is a 7-foot Clark horizontal machine with several unique features in its design, which enable it to turn out a large amount of lumber at a minimum labor cost. It is expected that 90 per cent of the output of the mill will be made on the resaw. It has a double table, so that both sides of the table can be worked entirely separately, and stock can be sawed by steam networks that regulate the thickness, lowering and raising the table to make the required thickness instantly. This machine is almost a sawmill in itself. After one slab has been taken off the log it can be handled entirely on the horizontal resaw and sawed into any desired thickness.

The edger is of the large double table type. The slabs and edgings are cut into 48 in. lengths on a 5 saw slasher. The trimmer is of the two saw "Canadian" type. Two men can trim any length wanted from 6 to 20 feet. The lumber drops from the trimmer onto a set of assorting chains 100 feet long, where it is placed onto the yard tracks according to size and grade. The mill throughout is equipped with all necessary rolls and transfers to handle stock quickly and economically. The filing room is located overhead, so that the band mill and resaw can be hoisted into it from the machines.

The plant was designed by Clark Bros. Company of Olean, N. Y., who furnished all the machinery except the engines and boilers. The Calhoun Bros., who are managers of the Shepard & Morse Gaspé properties, superintended the construction of the mill last winter and have succeeded in producing one of the most economical mills in Canada in regard to the number of men employed per thousand feet of lumber manufactured.

The plant is furnished with power by 4 boilers, 72 in. x 16 ft., which were furnished by the Watrous Engine Works Company Ltd., Brantford, Ont.
