It Was Not a Thorny Topic-Ald, Shaw Criticizes Mayoy Fleming's Inaugura Address—Figures Which Speak—Send in Your Local Improvement Petition Before March 31,

At the meeting of the Works Com mittee resterday Chairman Shaw commented on he Mayor's inaugural address in reference to the abuse of the local improvement system, and presented a report showing the number of pavements laid and streets opened during the past three years. This is a summary of the report:

The committee congratulated themselves on this excel ent showing.

The question of the City Engineer was then taken up. The Chairman thought it was time the position was made a permanent one for some person. Mr. Cunningham had been assistant under Mr. Sproat and Mr. Jennings and had given good satisfaction, and, continued Ald. Shaw, "I think he is capable of filling the position of chief engineer." chief engineer."

Ald. Burns wanted to know if the members of the board were capable of judging the qualifications of an engineer.

Give Him the Position. Ald. Bailey, seconded by Ald. Small, the moved that G. C. Cunningham be appointed city engineer at a salary of $- per annum and that the chairman be authorized to bring in a bylaw in council giving effect to bring in a bylaw in council giving effect to this resolution.

Ald. Atkinson said he had nothing personal against Mr. Cunningham, but he thought Mr. Jennings' resignation had been brought about in an improper way, and that was his reason for fighting against Mr. Cunningham's appointment last year, and for wishing to have the matter reterred to the new council. Now that he was assured that Mr. Jennings would not again enter the city's service, he preferred having nothing further to say in the matter.

Ald. Lamb said that Mr. Cunningham had been placed in his present position more by been placed in his present position more by force of circumstances than by his ability. The alderman was willing to give him a trial at his present salary.

Ald. Bailey thought the salary should be

Mr. Fraser made a claim against the city for damages to his property by the grading of Woodlawn-avenue. The matter was referred to Judge Boyd to arbitrate; he allowed $1150; the costs were $196.98, and the experts' account $20; total $1860.98.

Aid, Bailey: It seems to me the city always gets the worst of it when anything is left to arbitration.

An application to have the local improvement payments in Lucae-street altered from 5 years to 7 years was left over, and the City Eligineer was asked to report on the life of pavements and the City Treasurer to report on the extra expense. on the extra expense.

Horace Thorne's application for permission to register a plan of a short street 50 feet wide was left over.

Local Improvement Petitic The Mayor brought up a point which, if practicable, is a good one: That all petions for local improvements should be made before March 31 each year.

Add Shaw: "I did not find the Mayor opposing the old-rule when in council."

At this remark His Worship blushed.

The Mayor, continuing, said his reason for wishing the change was that the council would be in a position to know what money would be required to carry out the improvements, and that petitions would not be would be in a position to know what money would be required to carry out the improvements, and that petitions would not be rushed through as formerly.

The matter was left over. The engineer's report asked for an interim appropriation of $50,000; $20,000 was granted.

A special meeting of the committee will be held next week to consider the estimates.

Mr. Farnsworth's store is situated in Bloor with and be caims that his business suffered by reason of the grading of this street.
