

redeemed from deepest heathenism, and as examples of men to whom much had been forgiven, they also loved and suffered much for Him they served. Their names were Wong Yo and Hop Hoy, and for many years their labors were known throughout the Christian world. But to them there is no memory so sacred as that of a green grave and a simple white headstone in a far-away land, commemorating the sacrifice of the faithful Christian boy, Ah Fay.—Helping Hand.

THE EFFECT OF THE FAMINE.—Bishop Welldon of Calcutta, has written a most fraternal letter to missionaries and other Christian workers of all denominations in the famine-stricken regions of India, in which, among other helpful things, he says, concerning the famine: "It has drawn Christians nearer to each other. It has made us think little, for the mite, of our speculative differences. It has made us think much of our common faith and duty. We have almost forgotten that we belong to this or that denomination. We have remembered that we are 'all one in Christ Jesus.' Yet again the suffering in India has, I think, drawn non-Christians nearer to Christ. While we have watched with admiring sympathy the patient endurance of the people of India in their long and painful affliction, they, too, have learnt something, that they knew not before, of the beauty and sanctity of our faith as inspiring Christian men and women in the love of Christ, to make great sacrifices, and, if need be, to lay down their lives for those who in race and religion and in moral ideas and social custom are widely separated from themselves. When the famine is past, the tie of sympathy will remain. The ministers and recipients of philanthropic aid cannot be strangers, still less can they be enemies, any more."—Missionary Herald.

PORT HOPE, ONT.—An "At Home," in aid of the Leper Mission, was held in the basement of the Church, on Friday evening, March 29th, which was a success in every way. The pastor presided, and after devotional exercises, gave a short address on the Origin and Growth of Leper Missions in India and the East. A solo by Miss Bickle, and a reading by Miss Campbell finished the first part of the programme. During the intermission which followed, refreshments were served, and every one had a social time generally. The second part of the programme included a solo by Miss Chislett, a reading by Mr. Craig, on "The Life and Death of the Queen," and a duet by Miss Edith Hume and Miss Richardson. The amount received during the evening was $15 50.—Sec.

If thou wouldst have Him bless thee, see Him in all things.

If thou wouldst catch His whisper, shut thine ears to other sounds.
