Have the Prestige and Protection of

Gerhard Heintzman Reputation of Nearly Sixty Years

A mediocre pianist may eventually, through study and practice, so improve as to become a marvel of musical efficiency, but a mediocre piano—never. It cannot be improved and your customer's disappointment in an unfortunate selection increases as his musical attainments grow. But, on the contrary, if the instrument selected has real character, his appreciation of his choice grows the more musical he becomes, and no matter what the price paid, it is long since forgotten.

Gerhard Heintzman Pianos

remove the doubts and difficulties in the selection of a piano and Gerhard Heintzman Dealers will never have anything to fear from their recommendation. We have always made the instruments of the highest grade, but it is our thousands of friends who have made their reputation.
