CATARRH.

A New Home Treatment for the Cure c Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and 22 Asy Fever.

The microsope das proved that these discases are contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the upper air passages and eugrachian tubes. The eminent scientists—Tyniall, Hurley and Beale—endorse this, and these auchorities cannot be disputed. The regular method of treating these discusses is to apply an irritant remedy weekly and evendaily, thus keeping the delicate membrane in a constant state of irritation, accompanied by violent sneezing, allowing it no chance to heal and as a natural consequence of such treatment not one permanent cure has ever been recorded. It is an absolute fact that these diseases cannot be cured by an application made oftener than once in two weeks, for the membrane must get a chance to heal before any application is repeated. It is now seven years since Mr. Dixon discovered the parasite in catarrh and formulated his new treatment, and since then his remedy has become a household word in every country where the English language is speken. Cures effected by him seven years ago are cures still, there having been no return of the disease. So high are these remedies valued, and so great is the demand for them, that ignorant initators have started up everywhere, pretending to destroy a parasite—of which they know nothing—by remedies the results of the application of which they are equally ignorant. Mr. Dixon's remedy is applied only once in two weeks, and from one to three applications effect a permanent cure in the most aggravated cases. N.B.—For catarrhal troubles peculiar to females this remedy is a specific. Mr. Dixon sends a pamphlet desoribing his new treatment on the receipt of ten cents in stamps. The address is A. H. Dixon & Son., 303 King Street West, Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.
