Prussia is vying with Russia in her endeavor to uproot the Polish nationality. To the rulers of both countries the Polish language is a bugbear, because, so long as the Poles continue to speak their mother tongue, they will remain, as they always have been, staunch Catholics. The Government is anxious to have it understood that no arrangement of any kind is made with the prisoners who have pleaded guilty or who have acted as informers. The news from the provinces is still disquieting, but many of the reported outrages after a day or two turn out to be pure or impure inventions or gross exaggerations. The Clare conspiracy cases still hang fire as far as the committee of the prisoner, or any evidence justifying such a course outside of the informant's testimony, is concerned...

THE INAUGURAL MEETING OF THE NEW NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York, May 23.—The N. Y. Herald, in commenting on the inaugural meeting of the new National League held in this city, says: "The large hall of Cooper Institute was crowded to its fullest capacity last night on the occasion of a meeting to complete the organization of the National Land League in this city. The meeting was enthusiastic, and the resolutions and the speakers confined themselves to the business in hand. Neither the Pope's recent admonition to his clergy nor the dynamite policy was mentioned, but the resolutions speak of English rule in Ireland as the 'tyranny of a foreign country,' and promise the support of the National League until Ireland shall be a nation..."

THE POPE'S IRISH LETTER.

New York, May 24.—A Herald reporter called upon Mr. Alexander Sullivan, President of the Irish National League, at the Windsor Hotel yesterday to ascertain his views in reference to the recent letter addressed by His Holiness, Pope Leo XIII, to the Irish bishops prohibiting the clergy from taking part in the present political agitation in Ireland...

"In the first place," said Mr. Sullivan, "I am not certain that any letter has been issued by the Pope at all. I have no assurance, nor do I see that any one else has, that the Pope has issued such a letter. If he has done so there is no certainty as to its terms. Therefore I think discussion on the subject perfectly idle."

"Do you think the Pope would attempt to interfere with the liberty of Catholics in reference to political movements?" "I do not think he has issued any letter that will prevent any Catholic from doing his full political duty in his country, whether he be a resident of Ireland or America."

"What reason have you to doubt the information cabled to this country in reference to the matter?" "It is one of the ingenious devices of the English to circulate lies concerning the action of the Catholic Church and the action of the Irish people of different denominations with the view to keeping them in constant war with each other that there may not be a union of all their elements effected; and we should be wise to have prudence enough to learn precisely what each has said or done before expressing any opinion or coming to any conclusion."

"Do you propose to recommend any course of action to the Irish National League in reference to the subject?" "No, for the reasons already given, that there is no certainty that the Pope has issued such a letter, or if it has been issued we have no certainty as to its terms, so that no intelligent action can be taken. Nor is it any of our business what communications pass between the Pope and the clergy of Ireland or America. If the Pope in his wisdom thinks it proper at any time to issue orders that the clergy shall not interfere in politics in any country the subject would not be one for our action."

"If the Pope has addressed such a letter to the Irish Bishops as the cable despatches from Europe describe do you think it would tend to weaken his authority over Irish Catholics or cause them to be less generous in their contributions for the support of the Papal Court?" "I think that if the Pope has written a letter to the Irish bishops when the exact language is ascertained it will be found to be such that no one will have any reason to take exception to it or to change his relations with the Church or with the Pope."

Many clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergyman's Sons Throat" have recovered by using "Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites, and are preaching again. Their preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs. 122 ws

THE CZAR'S COBINATION.

Moscow, May 22.—The czar left the Peterhof Palace at noon and reached the Kremlin at 1.25 o'clock. There was a slight fall of rain during the march of the procession; otherwise the affair was a complete success. The enthusiasm of the people along the route was unbounded. The Emperor wore uniform and was mounted on a splendid charger. He rode a little in advance of the four generals directly attending him. He maintained a calm demeanor, although he often smiled graciously in response to the wild enthusiasm which greeted him every moment. Cheer upon cheer followed each other constantly from the thousands of people in the balconies and windows. The Emperor was greeted with every mark of enthusiasm and loyalty. Her daughter, the Grand Duchess Ksenia, threw kisses to the people. The Grand Dukes formed a very brilliant group. The Imperial deputations were also magnificently attired, and the State carriages were splendidly decorated. The whole effect was most gorgeous. The entire route was lined with troops. At the moment the cortege entered the city a salute of seventy-one guns was fired from the Tsarskaya Plaza. The Governor-General received the Emperor at the city boundary and joined the cortege with his suite. The Civil Governor of Moscow and the judges and other city officers received the Emperor at the Gate of the Bezarrektion, where he and the Grand Dukes and Empress alighted and went in prayer before a picture of the Virgin. The Archbishop of Warsaw received their majesties at the steps of the Cathedral of the Assumption with the cross and holy water. The procession then crossed the Kremlin, where the court officials presented their majesties with bread and salt on plates of silver and gold. When their majesties retired the bells pealed and a salute of 101 guns was fired.

The Duke of Edinburgh rode in rear of the czar. In the Red Square 6,000 school children, in white robes, sang "Life for the Czar." Gen. Sturm, head master of ceremonies, was thrown from his horse and had his skull fractured.

St. Petersburg, May 22.—The last reported attempt on the Czar's life caused great excitement. Fears are freely expressed that the Czar will be killed before he is crowned.

The duties collected at the Quebec Custom House yesterday amounted to $10,341.97. The sunken eye, the pallid complexion, the disfiguring eruptions on the face indicate that there is something wrong going on within. Expel the lurking foe to health. Ater's Sarsaparilla was devised for that purpose; and does it. 122 6

ONE EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.

I have been sick and miserable so long, and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely discouraged and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve, and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said, 'Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy.'—The Doctor.

Principal Peterson on the Theatre.—Principal Peterson, of Dundee University College, lectured to a large audience in the College Hall on "The Drama at Athens." Much good, he thought, might be done by some form of State intervention for the regulation of public amusements, especially the legitimate drama. The art of Sophocles, Shakespeare, and Schiller may yet in our day become an instrument for good.

Starving Case.—Henry Rooney, miner, Mayhill, is in custody charged with starving Thomas Cunnock, miner, at High Blyth, on Saturday night. Cunnock, after attending an Orange meeting in a public house, quarrelled at the bar over a stranger calling his companion "Skin the Goat," and a fight ensued outside. It was afterwards discovered that he had been stabbed in the arm. Dr. Grant attended the wound. Cunnock is unable to work from loss of blood.

Boating and Swimming on Sunday.—A committee of the Established and Free Presbyteries of Aberdeen have resolved to petition the Lord Advocate to have a clause inserted in the new Police Bill prohibiting boating, swimming, and other habits which lead to Sabbath desecration. The subject has been before the local Presbyteries for some time past, and has caused a considerable deal of interest in the locality.

Sudden Death of a Grave Digger.—On Tuesday morning, a little before eight o'clock William McLennan, grave-digger, Abbey Burying Ground, Arbroath, was found dead in bed by his wife. Dr. Low, who was called, stated that in his opinion heart disease had been the cause of death. Deceased, who was 68 years of age, had held the office of sexton for many years, and was well known in the town and neighborhood.
