The Educational Review.

Devoted to Advanced Methods of Education and General Culture.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH, 1909.

$1.00 PER YEAR

O. U. HAY, Editor for New Brunswick

A. McKAY, Editor for Nova Scotis

THE EDUCATIONAL REVIEW. Office, 31 Leinster Street, St. John, N. B.

PRINTED BY BARNES & Co., St. John, N. B.,

CONTENTS:

A Contribution to Nature Study,

A Contribution to Nature Study,

Interference With Teachers,

The Summer School of Science,

A New Book on Mushrooms,

Lessons in English Literature.—VI.

Spring Nature Study.—A Symposium,

The Moose,

How the Public Schools Can Aid in Fighting Consumption,

Prize Stories, Editores Notes, How the Public Schools Can Aid in Fighting Co
Prize Stories,
Opening Exercises
Tardiness,
You Can Own a Pine Forest,
Teaching Made up of Little Things,
Germination any Time of Year,
Sense Training for March,
Busy Work
The Review Question Box,
For Friday Afternoons,
Current Events,
Practical Manual Training,
An Examination 60 Years Ago,
Reverse the Question,
School and College,
Book Reviews,
New Advertisements—L'Academie de Briss NEW ADVERTISEMENTS—L'Academie de Brisay, p. 242; Webster's International Dictionary, p. 265; Maps, Globes, Blackboards, School Desks, p. 265; Cheerful Surroundings, p. 265; Canadian History Readings, p. 265; Boys and Girls Letter Competition, p. 267.

THE EDUCATIONAL REVIEW is published on the first of each month, except July. Subscription price, one dollar a year; single numbers, ten cents.

When a change of address is ordered, both the NEW and the OLD address should be given.

If a subscriber wishes the paper to be discontinued at the expiration of the subscription, notice to that effect should be sent. Otherwise it is assumed that a continuance of the subscription is desired. It is important that subscribers attend to this in order that loss and misunderstanding may be avoided.

The number accompanying each address tells to what date the subscription is paid. Thus "250" shows that the subscription is paid to March 31, 1908.

Address all correspondence to

THE EDUCATIONAL REVIEW,

THE EDUCATIONAL REVIEW,

A file of this paper can be seen at the office of E. & J. Hardy & Co., 30, 31 and 32 Fleet Street, London, England, free of charge; and that firm will be glad to receive news, subscriptions and advertisements on our behalf.

CONTRIBUTORS should remember that their articles are required by the 20th of each month, so that the REVIEW may be published promptly on the first day of the following month.

THE REVIEW has received reports of the Simplified Spelling Societies, which have their headquarters in London and New York. The English report gives an interesting review of the history of English spelling by the famous etymologist, Professor W. W. Skeat, who is president of the English society; the United States report gives a third list of simplified spellings, of which the Society or Board has approved.

THE symposium on nature study in this number is the most complete series of lessons on that subject that has appeared in the REVIEW, and will, it is hoped, lead to some interesting work in schools during this and the following month. It is the work of Mr. Shaw and Professor Smith, of Truro, and Miss Agnes Spencer, of Halifax-all accomplished nature students.

It is always a great pleasure to the Review to note that teachers' services are being appreciated, and that an increase of salary is the measure of public appreciation. The salary of the head of one of our leading educational institutions has recently been increased to $2,500, a recognition that excellent work and ability are beginning to be rewarded here as elsewhere.

CHARLES DARWIN and Abraham Lincoln, probably the two men who wielded the greatest influence in the past century, were born within a few hours of each other, on the 12th of February, 1809, the first at Shrewsbury, England, the second in a humble cabin in Kentucky. Nature had endowed both with a clear vision and eminent natural abilities, but that which serves to make them an example to this day and generation was their beauty of character and their unflinching honesty of pur-

TEACHERS will find in the "Provisional Nature Study Course," recently issued by Mr. Percy J. Shaw, B. A., chairman of the sub-committee on Nature Study, Truro, N. S., a carefully prepared outline of work from grade one to grade eight. As this course is tentative, teachers are asked to write for it, make a trial of it, and to send any criticisms or suggestions to Mr. Shaw.