

TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE
R I C H A R D,
Lord Viscount H O W E,
One of the Lords of the ADMIRALTY;
Colonel of MARINES, and Member of Parliament for the Borough of DARTMOUTH.

My LORD,

IN no age or nation of the world have true heroism and refined policy shone with such distinguished lustre as in the late war. A war that is replete with every brilliant and glorious transaction that dignify or do honour to a brave and free people. A war that is strongly recommended to our notice as not only fought in our own times but by our own countrymen. Perhaps there is no family in England which has had so distinguished and honourable a share in this war as
