

on the days already provided for by these By-Laws, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary to insert the substance and meaning of the said proposed alteration of a By-Law in the summons calling the Members to the meeting at which it is proposed to alter such By-Law.

No. 12.—Mode of Enacting a New By-Law.

12th. No new By-Law can be added to the Constitution or By-Laws as now adopted, unless said proposed New By-Law has gone through the Forms provided in By-law No. 11, for the alteration of a By-law, provided also that it shall be necessary before the adoption of the New By-Law can be legal, that the Secretary give the same notice in the Summons calling the Members of the meeting, at which it is proposed to adopt said new By-Law, as is provided by No. 11 in the Summons to the meeting for the purpose of altering a By-Law.

No. 13.—Duties of Central Committee Defined.

13th. The duties of the Central Committee shall be to consider and decide upon all questions affecting the general interests of the Association, to decide upon all political action to be taken by the Conservatives of the Riding as a Body. To receive the reports of Local Committees, and to adopt them or make such suggestions to the said Local Committees as shall appear to a majority of the said Central Committee best adapted to the united interests of the Conservative Association, and generally by its action the Central Committee shall govern the affairs of the Conservatives of the Riding as a United Body.