Remarkable Bargains

Featured for the Last Day of the July Sale of Pictures

Oil Painting Facsimile at $1.95

Here are pictures which the layman will barely be able to tell from real oil paintings. They are done on canvas, the heavy paint streaks of the oil painting being well reproduced, and then varnished over; and finally to complete the effect, they are framed without a glass, in a 2 1/2-inch polished mahogany finish frame, with a narrow gilt edge next to the picture. The subjects, too, are choice, being Dutch interiors, landscapes, figures, etc.—many of them copies of world-famous oil paintings. Today, sale price, $1.95.

Reproductions of Famous Pictures, 95c

Such well-known subjects as "The Shepherd and Sheep," "The Song of the Lark," "The Listening Nymph," "The Faggot Gatherer," "Returning From Market," "The Angelus," etc. A very characteristic example is the reproduction of Whistler's "My Mother," which makes a very attractive picture for any room. Another outstanding feature is the frame—antique gilt with pattern and finish in a light blue tone, which makes the frame admirably suitable for the picture. Today, sale price, 95c.

An Extra Special Frame Picture Value at 50c

These are framed in two styles—close up or with a margin—and in gilt or antique gilt frames. There are many subjects, figures, landscapes, seas, harvest, woodland or coast scenes, nursery pictures, etc. Today, sale price, 50c.
