

The World's Daily Home Magazine for Women

Edited by.....
Irene Currie Love

DANCE OF THE DREAMS.

When dreams decide to have a dance
They wax the forest floor;
The fiddlers of the fairy come
To play the cobweb score.

A moonbeam lady leads the waltz,
And then the dreams chaper
Until the golden dawn streams in
To chase them all away.

It was a large and enthusiastic gathering that met in Williams' Cafe last evening to discuss the question of woman suffrage.

In the absence of the president, Dr. Augusta Stowe-Gullen, who sent a telegram of regret at her inability to be present, the chair was occupied by Mrs. Flora MacDonald Denison, who gave an excellent speech referring to the national movement that was stirring the country, the size and growth of the organization, and the fact that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, probably the largest organization of women in the world, have suffrage as a plank in their platform.

Mrs. Denison read letters of regret from several prominent people, and introduced Mr. Farnsworth, who, in a short speech, expressed his interest in suffrage as a reform movement, speaking of prohibition as a certain issue, when it is possible to gain the unanimous voice of the people.

Mrs. Denison then read a letter from Premier Whitney, in which he said that women do not want suffrage. Mrs. James L. Hughes arose to say that the reason why most women do not want suffrage is that they are bound by centuries of tradition and circumstance, as well as by instinct and inertia; that women who held the same position in the business world as men were emancipated from such tradition.

In the old days women served; physical strength was paramount, and so sentimentality and servitude developed, and the damnable doctrine that women should win their way through industry, which lowered her position in the world.

Hubbard and wife are two separate identities, and should be so represented—a state that would conduce to charity in men rather than detract from it.

Mrs. Calvert, who next spoke, held very radical views of the position of women 20 years ago, and enthused over the work of Susan E. Anthony and other wonderful women. She instanced the immense number of women organized in educational, progressive work, and said that peace and arbitration were necessary to bring about the desired result.

Dr. Macpherson, Gordon spoke of the political side of the question, and Miss Gibson, president of the telephone girls, advocated municipal ownership of the telephone system.

Miss Laura McCully of the fourth year, University of Toronto, made a brilliant speech, referring to the necessity of women emerging from the position of a chattel to man into his helpmate.

Murray spoke of motherhood as an appeal for suffrage, in that the intelligent, emancipated mother brought up a citizen.

Short speech was given by Dr. Harter, Mrs. Church and Mr. Farnsworth, and Mrs. Brown, seconded by Dr. Wilhelmsen, who spoke of the vote of thanks to Mr. Smith of Peel and Mr. Stukelme for their efforts in representation in behalf of woman's suffrage.

After singing the National Anthem, the gathering dispersed.

Women.

There will always be something new to say about women as long as one is left among us.

Man would always walk straight ahead if he did not meet a woman at each step. She is a charming traveling companion, but one who does not know her way, and she prevents us from seeing ours.

Since the creation of the world fashions change constantly, but woman never changes.

To ascertain the age of a woman it is necessary to ask her, and to ask her her age. She will say thirty, the friend will say forty, and then you take the average.

Women who excite in our minds merely exclamations of admiration are like Racine's tragedies—too perfect. One prefers those who excite interrogation points.

The heart of a woman is at once her friend and her enemy.—Translated for Transatlantic Tales from Liselz-mot.

Impatience.

It's a sign of bad breeding. Besides, it doesn't hurry things a bit. It only makes people around you uncomfortable.

Keep serene, and things will come along just as lively. To lose your head and fume excites amusement, not much else.

In Society.

St. George's Hall, Elm-street, was last night the scene of the first annual ball of the Watsonian Club of Canada, and was well attended by a large and brilliant gathering of the members and their many friends.

The Watsonian Club consists of former pupils of George Watson's College, Edinburgh, Scotland, which is one of the largest and best-known educational institutions of the Scottish metropolis.

The Canadian club is one of the many which are to be found in all parts of the world, and which are formed and upheld to keep up the old school spirit and comradeship among the members.

Sir Robert Cranston, ex-Lord Provost of Edinburgh, was a pupil of Watson's, and is a member of the Edinburgh club.

The ball was voted a great success, the Scotch dances, naturally, being the favorites, especially as they were danced to the music of the pipes.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. R. Muir, Mrs. and Miss C. Maciver, Messrs. Ross, Constantine, Miss Sibyl Alexander, Miss Marian Hawkes, the Misses Sanford, Messrs. Burnett, Muir, Falconer, Scott-Ken, Patterson, Gourlay, Leighton, Macfarlane, Macpherson, Lawrie, Stokes, Shearer, Pomphrey.

The Society of Applied Arts are closing their beautiful exhibit on Saturday with a tea and musicale kindly given by Mrs. Fisher, at which the following well-known people have consented to assist: Mrs. Ten Eyck, Miss Lena Hayes, Miss Madeline Carter, Mr. Pigott and Mr. Leutz. The accompanying marriage will be played by Mrs. Barton and Miss Caldwell.

An entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville P. White have taken Major Vaux's residence, 20 Tyn-dal-avenue, for the summer.

A quiet wedding took place at Fair-bairn last night, when Mr. George Fewler of Bracondale was married to Miss Rosalie E. Sparks, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sparks, the Rev. R. E. Baker officiating.

Mr. Aemilius Jarvis, who has spent the past few months in Great Britain and on the continent, has returned to the city.

The engagement is announced of Mr. and Mrs. Melville P. White have taken Major Vaux's residence, 20 Tyn-dal-avenue, for the summer.

A quiet wedding took place at Fair-bairn last night, when Mr. George Fewler of Bracondale was married to Miss Rosalie E. Sparks, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Sparks, the Rev. R. E. Baker officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville P. White have taken Major Vaux's residence, 20 Tyn-dal-avenue, for the summer.

World Pattern Department

1857—Ladies' Shirt Waist.
With Front Yoke and Elbow Sleeves.
Paris Pattern No. 1857.

A decidedly chic style of shirt-waist is here illustrated, made of lavender batiste with German val lace, and the simple geometric repetition of the pattern, which has the material cut away beneath the insertion, is novel and most becoming. The band of the light silk of the pastel tint this pattern would be appropriate for summer wear.

The pattern is in seven sizes—32 to 44 inches, bust measure. For 36 bust, the shirt-waist requires 3 3/4 yards of goods 39 inches wide, or 2 1/4 yards 36 inches wide, or 2 yards 42 inches wide; 12 yards of insertion to trim.

Price of pattern 10 cents.

Pattern Department

Toronto World

Send the above pattern to

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

Size Wanted—(Give age of Child or Miss, if Pattern)

Miss Agnes Cherry, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cherry of Whit-church, to Mr. Frederic J. Haywood of Toronto. The marriage will take place in May.

Mrs. J. J. Meier, 40 Prince Arthur-avenue, left last Friday for St. Catharines, and will not receive again this season.

Mrs. C. M. Edwards, who has been visiting friends on Brunswick-avenue, has returned to her home, Hudson, New York.

What to Do With Our Girls.
Give them a course of six lessons in dress cutting and fitting. It will enable them to make their own dresses equal to any first-class dressmaker. The Canadian School of Patterns and Dress Cutting, 443 Bathurst-street, Toronto. Phone Main 5790.

The World's Serial Story.

"Where," said Beatrice Faring, "was this gang, of which you speak, living? Near here?"

"Oh, no, ma'am," said he. "It was away out west—not far from Chi—that's Chicago, ma'am. They had a sort of camp, but I don't think they'd lived there long. They said they were from Chi, but they were scattered about on various jobs, and none of them ain't proper first-class guns. They're only second-hand men."

"But this ain't very interesting to you, ma'am," he said. "I'm a-running on scandalous. A beautiful lady like you gawking at me about a bunch of things."

"Oh, yes, yes," she said, hurriedly. "Yes, I was very much to hear. I'm much interested. Tell me. She looked across at him with anxious eyes."

"How long were you living with these—these men—that gang? When was it that they found you, as you said, with your head injured, and nursed you back to health?"

"Oh, it was near two years ago, ma'am," said the little fellow. "Only that wasn't out west; it was some-where east. I don't know just where, but being very sick at the time. Kansas, he'd know. It was Kansas found me, with my head broke open. He told me so once, but he don't like to talk about it. I don't know why."

"Two years," said the woman, in a whisper. "Yes, of course, two years. And this Kansas, this friend—pal—of yours, where is he now? Why is he not with you?"

The little man shuffled his feet and looked down at them. "Kansas, he's busy just now, ma'am," he said. "He's on a little job a few miles away. He didn't want me to help, because I ain't no manner of good. I always spooked everything. You can't train me, ma'am. Not even you couldn't. I always gives the whole game away and spoils everything. I'm a-going to meet him at a place he told me about—Kansas knows all this country here like a book—when his job done. Then if he makes a good thing, I'll be in clover. Kansas and me, with lots of money, and we can take the road without having to beg for a long time. We're very fond of the road. There ain't nothing finer. I don't know," said the little man, with sparkling eyes, "I don't know nothing un-der any circumstances than just shuffling along, and usually it is. It gets into your blood, surprising. It was just like that this morning. I'd waked up nice and com-

Buchanan's Wife

By Dustus Forman.
Published by Ar-rangement With Harper & Brothers

and Scanton Shorty to-day. He's very bitter about wasting all those years when he was young. It sets him back on his heels. I could do some-thing for Kansas, he's so good to me, but I'm no kind of use. I can't learn nothing. It's all on account of the queer things that goes whirling and spinning thru my head every now and then most wonderful."

The little man stepped suddenly. "But this ain't very interesting to you, ma'am," he said. "I'm a-running on scandalous. A beautiful lady like you gawking at me about a bunch of things."

"Oh, yes, yes," she said, hurriedly. "Yes, I was very much to hear. I'm much interested. Tell me. She looked across at him with anxious eyes."

"How long were you living with these—these men—that gang? When was it that they found you, as you said, with your head injured, and nursed you back to health?"

"Oh, it was near two years ago, ma'am," said the little fellow. "Only that wasn't out west; it was some-where east. I don't know just where, but being very sick at the time. Kansas, he'd know. It was Kansas found me, with my head broke open. He told me so once, but he don't like to talk about it. I don't know why."

"Two years," said the woman, in a whisper. "Yes, of course, two years. And this Kansas, this friend—pal—of yours, where is he now? Why is he not with you?"

The little man shuffled his feet and looked down at them. "Kansas, he's busy just now, ma'am," he said. "He's on a little job a few miles away. He didn't want me to help, because I ain't no manner of good. I always spooked everything. You can't train me, ma'am. Not even you couldn't. I always gives the whole game away and spoils everything. I'm a-going to meet him at a place he told me about—Kansas knows all this country here like a book—when his job done. Then if he makes a good thing, I'll be in clover. Kansas and me, with lots of money, and we can take the road without having to beg for a long time. We're very fond of the road. There ain't nothing finer. I don't know," said the little man, with sparkling eyes, "I don't know nothing un-der any circumstances than just shuffling along, and usually it is. It gets into your blood, surprising. It was just like that this morning. I'd waked up nice and com-

By Dustus Forman.

Published by Ar-rangement With Harper & Brothers

and Scanton Shorty to-day. He's very bitter about wasting all those years when he was young. It sets him back on his heels. I could do some-thing for Kansas, he's so good to me, but I'm no kind of use. I can't learn nothing. It's all on account of the queer things that goes whirling and spinning thru my head every now and then most wonderful."

The little man stepped suddenly. "But this ain't very interesting to you, ma'am," he said. "I'm a-running on scandalous. A beautiful lady like you gawking at me about a bunch of things."

"Oh, yes, yes," she said, hurriedly. "Yes, I was very much to hear. I'm much interested. Tell me. She looked across at him with anxious eyes."

"How long were you living with these—these men—that gang? When was it that they found you, as you said, with your head injured, and nursed you back to health?"

"Oh, it was near two years ago, ma'am," said the little fellow. "Only that wasn't out west; it was some-where east. I don't know just where, but being very sick at the time. Kansas, he'd know. It was Kansas found me, with my head broke open. He told me so once, but he don't like to talk about it. I don't know why."

"Two years," said the woman, in a whisper. "Yes, of course, two years. And this Kansas, this friend—pal—of yours, where is he now? Why is he not with you?"

The little man shuffled his feet and looked down at them. "Kansas, he's busy just now, ma'am," he said. "He's on a little job a few miles away. He didn't want me to help, because I ain't no manner of good. I always spooked everything. You can't train me, ma'am. Not even you couldn't. I always gives the whole game away and spoils everything. I'm a-going to meet him at a place he told me about—Kansas knows all this country here like a book—when his job done. Then if he makes a good thing, I'll be in clover. Kansas and me, with lots of money, and we can take the road without having to beg for a long time. We're very fond of the road. There ain't nothing finer. I don't know," said the little man, with sparkling eyes, "I don't know nothing un-der any circumstances than just shuffling along, and usually it is. It gets into your blood, surprising. It was just like that this morning. I'd waked up nice and com-

(To be Continued.)

C.P.R. Buffalo Excursion.
There will be an excursion to Buffalo next Saturday, the 27th, over the Canadian Pacific. Return tickets only $2.15, good going on special train at 3.10 a.m., returning on all trains Saturday, Sunday and Monday. On the going trip special will run by way of Niagara Falls. Tickets at all C. P. R. ticket offices.

A FREE TRIP TO LONDON

The Toronto World will send eleven of the most popular women in Ontario on a three weeks' trip to London, England, with side trips to Paris and other points of interest.

ARE YOU GOING?

All expenses paid from the time the party leaves The World Office until it returns to Toronto.

A THREE WEEKS' VACATION

RULES OF THE CONTEST

MEN ARE NOT ELIGIBLE

AGE—Any woman over eighteen years of age and under fifty on July 22, 1907, may become a candidate by being properly nominated.

NOMINATING—Each candidate must be nominated on the property filled out nominating blank which is printed in The Daily and Sunday World; or copies of nominating blanks may be obtained at The World Office.

Each candidate must be nominated by some responsible citizen of the town or county in which the candidate lives and be endorsed by three others who can be found at their residence or place of business.

NAMES OF CANDIDATES—Properly nominated, will be printed in The World every day after they are received and the endorsements verified and accepted.

THE BALLOTS—Ballots cast for persons not properly nominated will be destroyed, uncounted. See that your candidate is properly nominated and listed before you cast your ballots for her.

A ballot will be printed on Page 3 of The World each day. This will count one vote. Ballots cannot be changed or transferred after they are received by The World. Special ballots will be issued for paid-in-advance subscriptions, whether new or old, when payment is received by The World, according to the table printed on this page.

Ballots will be dated and numbered with an expiration date, they will not be counted unless received at The World Office before 5.30 p.m. on date of expiration. Ballots sent by mail must be sent to The Trip to London Editor, Toronto World, and postage must be prepaid.

Agents may send subscriptions to apply on the contest, but ballots will be sent to the subscriber.

THOSE WHO ARE BARRED OUT—No employee of The World or other Toronto newspapers or any member of such employee's family may be a candidate in the contest.

THE LAST BALLOT—Will be printed in The Toronto World on July 22, 1907.

No ballot will be counted unless received by the Trip to London Editor before midnight of July 22.

CONTESTERS—Any controversies which may arise will be settled by The World alone.

ACCEPTING THE CONDITIONS—In accepting nomination each candidate accepts and contracts to abide by all the above conditions.

THE DISTRICTS

FROM WHICH CANDIDATES ARE TO BE NOMINATED

DISTRICT NO. 1.—Includes all territory within the present limits of the City of Toronto.

From District No. 1, the City of Toronto, the six candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be sent on this free trip to London.

DISTRICT NO. 2.—Includes all territory within the present limits of the City of Hamilton.

From District No. 2, the City of Hamilton, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes will be sent on this free trip to London.

DISTRICT NO. 3.—Includes all territory within the Province of Ontario, outside of the City of Toronto and the City of Hamilton.

From District No. 3 the four candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be sent on this free trip to London.

SUGGESTIONS

Nominations will not close until announced in The World. Anyone anywhere can vote for any candidate who is properly nominated.

No extra papers will be printed for sale of coupons contained therein.

If you have any complaints to make kindly send them to The Toronto World Trip to London Editor. We want everybody to be satisfied.

A woman's home is where she eats and sleeps; a woman living and working in Toronto, but claiming residence elsewhere, must be entered in District No. 1.

It is easier to answer questions than to correct a mistake. Do not hesitate to ask questions that you want answered.

Be sure that you receive a receipt for all coupons left at the office. If you do not they will not be counted.

For further information desired may be obtained by calling at The World Office, or by calling telephone Main 252 and asking for the Trip to London Editor.

Once entered, do not drop out.

Candidates may call on us at any time. We welcome you. Don't lose any votes. Watch the expiration dates on your ballots.

SPECIAL BALLOTS—The same instructions apply to the special ballots issued for paid-in-advance subscriptions.

USE YOUR FRIENDS—Hundreds of people have no personal friends in this contest. They are friends of your friends or of your friends' friends. If you have your friends working hard enough for you thousands of votes can be gathered in from just such people.

Enlist the interest of your friends and friends' friends. Use your telephone. If you have friends in other districts write them letters. If you learn of any persons who are not World readers—secure their subscription whether you know them or not. Work for special ballots, they count the most. Ask your political friends to furnish ideas. They know how to cover the field.

Special order blanks for subscriptions can be secured from The Toronto World Trip to London editor. If you belong to a church let your church friends know you are running.

HOW TO GET VOTES—If you belong to any organization let your fellow members know you are in the race.

Don't knock the other candidates. Remember the Golden Rule. Don't forget that children can do the most effective work in collecting coupons. Every little helps.

Should your father, brother or friends belong to any organizations, get them to work for you.

Do not let a day pass without casting a ballot. Success is the reward of persistency.

Cast your coupons in as large numbers as possible—this will save you time and trouble.

TABLE OF BALLOT VALUES

Single ballots cut from The Daily World	1 vote.
Single ballots cut from The Sunday World	5 votes.
Subscription to The Daily World, one month—25 cents—a special ballot of	50 votes.
Subscription to The Daily and Sunday World, one month—45 cents—a special ballot of	100 votes.
Subscription to The Daily World, three months—75 cents—a special ballot of	250 votes.
Subscription to The Daily and Sunday World, three months—$1.25—a special ballot of	300 votes.
Subscription to The Daily World, six months—$1.50—a special ballot of	500 votes.
Subscription to The Daily and Sunday World, six months—$2.50—a special ballot of	1000 votes.
Subscription to The Daily World, one year—$3.00—a special ballot of	1500 votes.
Subscription to The Daily and Sunday World, one year—$5.00—a special ballot of	3000 votes.

Special Ballots—Special ballots good for the number of votes shown in the table above, will be issued for paid-in-advance subscriptions to The World when payments have been received by The World, providing all arrears are paid.

PERIOD OF EXPIRATION.—Each ballot will be provided with an expiration date. To be counted, all ballots must be voted on or before date of expiration.

Nominating Blank

A nominating blank must be received for each candidate before she can be voted for. The names of the women nominated in each district will be printed in The World regularly. This blank does not count as a vote, and need only be sent in once for a candidate.

We herewith nominate.....
Name of woman.....

Whose age we know to be over 18.

of.....as the most popular Postoffice.....County or street.....

woman in District No. Nominated by.....
Name of nominator.....

Countersigned by.....
Occupation.....

Occupation.....
Occupation.....

Must be countersigned by three responsible citizens, as provided in conditions.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Address all letters pertaining to the Trip to London and send all nominations, ballots and subscriptions to the

TRIP TO LONDON EDITOR

World Office, Toronto.

COUNTING.—Is done on Wednesdays and Saturdays and the standing of the candidates announced to the public Mondays and Thursdays.