CLARKE WALLAGE SHAKEN UP. The Member for West York and His Two Children Victims of a ge, Ont., Sept. 10 .- While Hon V. Clarke Wallace, M. P., and his two intle children, Clarkie and Bee, were irriing thru the village this afternoon, the ponles became frightened at a binder which they were passing, and jumped off the road into a deep ditch, upsetting the vehicle, and throwing Mr. Wallace and the little boy out. The children escaped unhurt, but Mr. Wallace had his face and arm cut, and was badly shaken up. We are plensed to say that his injuries are not serious. The horses ran into a post, which brought them to a standstill.

Aid. Lamb came down to the Works Committee yesterday, willing to take back-water on his objection to making a record of the investigation into Aid, Graham's charges over the Dovercourt-road block pavement. Public opinion had been 100 strong for the chairman of the committee, and he said he had made a "compromising arrangement" with Mr. Caswell, whereby an employe in the Solicitor's office would take a note of the evidence without cost.

Aid. Graham: There is no compromise on my part. Aid. Lamb may call it what he likes.

Sixty Per Cent. Bad Blocks. Ald. Denison said fully 80 per cent, of the blocks now in the road were not up to specifications. ence of the witness, which were of no use whatever.

Before the investigation was adjourned to Friday at 3 o'clock, Ald, Graham said he proposed putting in his own evidence to show that the whole order of things in the Engineer's Department had been changed since this investigation had been decided upon.

The Judge's Rooms.

A private conference between the Board of Control, the Legal Department and Judge McDougall was held yesterday morning, to see what could be done by way of meeting the County Judge's demand for accommodation. The architect says he has not the money, and the judge wants the work done at once. Aid. Sheppard asked the judge to say what he could get along with, and the architect what money was available. After talking over the general question of the judge's necessities, the conference was adjourned till this morning, to talk over cost.
