felt that it should first pay the money to institutions actually at work. welfare committee expects these sub scriptions to be paid up ultimately, but is slightly cramped for funds at the present time. What makes matters worse, the children's hospital committee is pressing for funds and is holding a meeting with its men's advisory board tomorrow afternoon at Cronyn Hall to decide whether it is advisable for the hospital to put its budget into the general welfare campaign nex year. The request of the welfare commit-tee to the Red Cross Society is to have final decision passed on it at a meet-ing of the men's advisory board of the Red Cross Society tomorrow. What will be the outcome of this request is, of course, unknown as yet. It is said that the welfare committee received permission from patriotic headquarter at Toronto to make their request to he at Toronto to make their request to he Rd Creoss Society.

Gordon Philip. of the Chamber of Commerce, on being questioned as to Ald. Harley's suggestion re $30,000 from the Red Cross Society for the Children's Hospital, stated that he thought the suggestion to be very unfeasible. He did say that the Chamber of Commerce had at one time secured a small sum of money from this society, for relief purposes in the city, but that it had been very difficult to get, and that he was surprised that they had received it the county court this morning of stealtimated, is to give time for a fuller investigation into the circumstances of the case before disposition is made of the prisoner. Special Constables Hughes stated that he saw Oldridge with a case of whiskey in his hand. They were near an express by the couse for which they were given.

"We should certainly be pleased with the additional $30,000, however, were it possible for us to secure it." she said.

Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, secretary of the hospital committee, was most pleased with Ald. Harley's suggestion. "If this large sum of money were handed over to us it would be a saw him, Hughes stated that when Mrs. Oldridge visited her husband in his cell, the latter made the remark: "I'm the guilty man, but I'm going to make it hot for somebody else." Oldridge said that this was a "light lie" right lie". husband in his cell, the latter made the remark: "I'm the guilty man, but I'm going to make it hot for somebody else."
Oldridge said that this was a "downright lie."
When Oldridge was in the witness-box he smiled when Judge Macbeth asked him a question. It appeared to be an infectious smile, for the judge's face brightened considerably and seems smiled.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop wanted to know the reason for the smile.

"I smile because I know I'm all right," said Oldridge, "and it's a smile which will not come off."
