and Rev. J. C. Antill, a visitor here, longing to the London Conference, was given a hearing.

Stationing Committee's Reception.
At this juncture Rev. John Morgan sprang a little sensation by affirming that he didn't like to see Methodist ministers accused of deception. Everybody wondered what he meant. He explained, however, that he didn't like to see a certain paper, which circulated widely among Methodists, conveying the impression to its readers that the Stationing Committee of the Conference had given out a report to one reporter and refused it to another. He wanted the charge, if true, explained, and, if not, denied.

Dr. Carman interpreted that the matter should be dealt with by the Stationing Committee.

Rev. John Morgan: I spoke to the chairman of the Stationing Committee about it, but he referred me to the Conference.

Ignored the Facts.
Rev. J. E. Lancelotti, the secretary of the Stationing Committee, very emphatically maintained that there were no facts in the case; no responsible person had been named; no responsible person gave any information. The whole matter was, therefore, a fabrication.

Another minister who had heard the matter handled in this light manner, a serious charge had been made in the columns of The Toronto World, a paper which, though not perfect, had many excellent qualities. [Hear, hear.]

The statement in the paper had the appearance of truth. He asked whether it was correct and whether the Stationing Committee had acted as alleged.

Rev. J. E. Lancelotti stated that he had handed the draft to the printer of the Christian Guardian.

Rev. Dr. Carman clinched the matter by calling down the persons who had furnished the report to the other paper.
It should not have been given out, he said, until it came up before Conference.

The World's article was, therefore, proved to be quite justifiable.

Grimsby Park Revisited.
A memorial was presented by a number of the brethren, setting forth with regret that the audit of Sabbath desecration was rising. The late vote on Sunday cars had been an evidence of this. It held that it was a reproach to Methodism that Grimsby Park was run loosely in that respect. Concluding, it urged the directors of the park to change their methods and thus prevent institution founded in Methodist faith.

The Cause of Missions.
In the evening the new president, Rev.
Dr. Stone, took the chair. Hon. E. J.
Davis, Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. Dr. Sur-strand, Rev. Dr. Langtry, Rev. Charles Manning of Algoma and Rev. J. Barber of Orillia were on the platform.

Charles Manning, in the course of an address on domestic missions, discussed the existence of the evil of domestic missions. He held, however, that the evil was greatly exaggerated and at the same time created a healthy rivalry. In Algoma, at least, the Methodist connection was not to blame for this, for they were on the ground first.

The practical examination will consist of three demonstration lessons, viz.: (a) the preparation of a meal for an invalid or a child; (b) the preparation of food for invalids; and (c) the detection of adulteration in food.

Dismissing to Party Workers.
From The Markham Economist (Liberal).
Mr. George W. Dryden of Port Perry, brother of the Hon. John Dryden, has been appointed registrar of Ontario county in the place of Dr. Rae, deceased. While Mr. George Dryden may be well qualified for the position The Economist is of the opinion that his appointment was a mistake. The registrar is an important member of Parliament and his near relatives to office in a "dismissing" party workers and the public generally with politics.
