

FOR SALE

NORtheast CORNER YONGE AND GERRARD STS. 20 x 111. $5000 per foot.

PROBS— Fresh northeast winds: cool and becoming showery.

The Toronto World

TUESDAY MORNING MAY 22 1917—FOURTEEN PAGES

FOR SALE ROSEDALE BUNGALOW

Ravine lot, 70 x 250. Six rooms and tiled four-piece bathroom on main floor, with sun-room off dining-room. Plans and photos at H. H. WILLIAMS & CO. 38 King Street East.

VOL. XXXVII.—No. 13,341

BRITISH HOLD MILE OF HINDENBURG LINE

Have Two Villages With Few Other Strong Points to Carry Before Reaching Drocourt-Queant Line—Haig's Artillery Bombardment Completely Blows Away Three Thousand Yards of New German Concrete Defences--French Capture Valuable Strategic Positions in Champagne--Italians Make Further Progress

BRITISH HOLD MILE OF LINE TOWARD ARRAS

With Exception of About Two Thousand Yards of Trenches. GREAT AIR ACTIVITY Number of Successful Bombing Raids Mentioned in Official Report.

London, May 21.—The British troops are now holding the entire Hindenburg line from the east of Bullecourt to Arras, with the exception of trench elements on a front of about 2000 yards west of Bullecourt, according to the official communication issued tonight. The recent gains northwest of Bullecourt have been consolidated. The statement says: "Our new positions in the Hindenburg line northwest of Bullecourt have been secured during the day with little interference from the enemy. All information received confirms the severity of the German losses in the recent fighting in this area. "With the exception of a sector about 2000 yards long immediately west of Bullecourt, we now hold the whole of the Hindenburg line from a point one mile east of Bullecourt to Arras. "The hostile artillery has again shown considerable activity on the north bank of the Scarpe. "There was great aerial activity yesterday. A number of successful bombing raids were carried out, and our airplanes co-operated excellently with our infantry in the attacks, engaging the enemy troops in the enemy's front line trenches with machine gun fire. "In the air fighting seven German airplanes were downed, of which one fell inside our lines. Eight others were driven down out of control, and four of our anti-aircraft guns. Four of our airplanes are missing."

HAS PERFECT ANSWER TO SUBMARINE TERROR

United States Inventors Develop Large Merchant Submarine.

Philadelphia, May 21.—The Philadelphia Press will publish a story tomorrow to the effect that "America has found the perfect answer to the German submarine terror." It is said to be a merchant submarine, standard at about 7,500 or 8,000 tons dead weight, of such speed that it can, even when submerged, easily elude any surface pursuer, and non-sinkable. "The craft, the invention of Simon Lake, according to The Press, is capable of submerging within half a minute, and has been so standardized and simplified that the first one may be turned out in four months, and others after that at the rate of three or four a week. It will run on heavy oil, and the construction is said to be such that its parts can be made simultaneously in many widely scattered steel plants and assembled in a central plant in a few days. "The vessels are to be built and operated, the story says, by the Merchant Submarine Company under governmental supervision. The company is capitalized at $10,000,000 and incorporated under the laws of the State of Maine.

APRIL CASUALTY LIST OF GERMANS MODERATE

Enemy Gives Nearly Forty-Four Thousand Names for Month.

London, May 21.—German official lists of killed, wounded and missing, issued during the month of April but not necessarily referring to the casualties occurring in April, show: Killed or died of wounds or diseases 10,373; Prisoners and missing 10,420; Severely or badly wounded 9,744; Slightly wounded or wounded, remaining with units 18,575.

Hops Increase in Britain Has Been Greatly Reduced

London, May 21.—By an order-in-council the hop crop to be devoted to the growing of hops in 1917 is to be reduced to 75 per cent of the 1914 crop.

German Airplane Bombers Bessarabia Railway Station

Petrograd, via London, May 21.—A German aeroplane has dropped bombs on the railway station at Bessarabia, capital of the province of Bessarabia. A soldier and two children were killed and five women injured.

"EAT GRASS" IS ADVICE OF BAVARIAN PROFESSOR

Berlin Feels Potato Shortage Keenly—Cut in Meat Ration Impends.

Copenhagen, via London, May 21.—Berlin is now feeling the potato shortage. The residents of the capital have been warned that it may be impossible to supply five pounds 20 to everybody this week, but that those who are unable to obtain the full ration will be given cakes. "The supply of pork is short and it will be sold only on Thursdays. Another announcement says that a reduction in the present meat ration after August 15 is being considered. In view of the food shortage Prof. Wildner, and agricultural expert at Passau, Bavaria, advises the people to follow the example of Nebuchadnezzar and eat grass. He informs them that the red clover and lucerne (alfalfa) both may be used for the making of tasty dishes for human consumption.

FEAR COLONIAN IS TOTAL LOSS

Leyland Liner Has Been Wrecked on South Coast of England.

It was believed in shipping circles at this port that the Colonian had lost her bearings and that the wreck was due to a mishap not connected with the war. The steamer with her cargo was valued at $2,000,000. It was considered probable that the Colonian landed part of her cargo, including munitions, at Plymouth, before the accident, which occurred probably while she was bound for London. "The Colonian, a steamer of 6440 tons register, was built at Newcastle in 1901. She was commanded by Captain John McDonald.

BEEF SELLS IN PARIS AT DOLLAR A POUND

Vegetables and Fish Respond Also to Meatless Days' Program.

Paris, May 21.—With the inauguration of the regime of two meatless days a week, beef went to one dollar a pound today and vegetables and fish followed the upward tendency. The rush for meat supplies to carry over until Wednesday swamped the butchers, and they had to bid in extra amounts. There was a good deal of crowding, and some sharp talk was heard against fish buyers, who paid any price the dealers asked, sending the quotations too high for modest purposes. "Beef on the hoof at the stock yards was higher than last week, also the receipts were larger. Wholesalers appear to take the view that the new regulations will not reduce consumption.

NO CANADIAN WHEAT TO NEUTRAL COUNTRIES

Holland Will No Longer Obtain Supplies From Canada.

Ottawa, May 21.—One of the reasons for the high cost of wheat and flour is that large quantities have been going to neutral countries, particularly to Holland. This has diminished the supply to such an extent as to provide an excuse for increasing the price in this country. The government has come to the decision to prohibit in the meantime the exportation of wheat and wheat flour to other than British and allied countries. It is felt that this action will have an immediate effect upon the prices prevailing in this country with regard to these commodities.

German Airplane Bombers Bessarabia Railway Station

Petrograd, via London, May 21.—A German aeroplane has dropped bombs on the railway station at Bessarabia, capital of the province of Bessarabia. A soldier and two children were killed and five women injured.

ENEMY IS DRIVEN FROM STRONG PLACES

French Plans, Brilliantly Concealed, Executed Without a Hitch. EIGHT HUNDRED TAKEN Hundreds of Bodies of Germans Strew Ground and Shelters.

With the French armies on the French front, May 21.—While the Germans were throwing masses of men against the French positions along the Chemin-des-Dames only to suffer defeat with terrific losses, the French last night effected an attack in the Moronvilliers section and drove the Germans from some of their strongest positions. The French plans were brilliantly conceived and executed without a hitch. The objective was most difficult, a hill range filled with deep caverns afforded shelter to hundreds of men and machine guns, but the French infantry stormed the heights of Casque and Teton, 756 and 754 feet in height, respectively, and carried them with a rush while other columns captured the trenches lying in the northern slopes of Mount Carnillet. "The result of these operations gives the French a commanding view on their left. The value placed on the possession of these hills is shown by the violence of the German counter-attacks in the course of the early morning, which everywhere broke down. They left more than 800 prisoners in the hands of the French, while hundreds of bodies of Germans strew the ground and lie in the cavernous shelters. "The war office statement tonight reads: "The day was comparatively calm. The artillery action was intermittent, but over the greater part of the front, except in Champagne, where the enemy violently bombarded the positions we occupied yesterday in the region south of Moronvilliers. There was no infantry action. "On the night of May 19-20, our airplanes dropped 2200 kilos of explosives on railroad stations and bivouacs in the region of Epoye and Bethenville. On May 20, the aviation ground at Habheim and bivouacs at Pont-Favarger and Bethenville were likewise bombarded with numerous projectiles. "The same day two German airplanes were brought down by our pilots, and a third by the fire of our special guns. Three other enemy machines were completely destroyed, landing, having been seriously damaged. "Belgian communications yesterday reported that the afternoon, violent bomb fighting took place in the region of Dixmude. Today the artillery activity was comparatively slight. "Eastern theatre, May 20.—An intermittent artillery action occurred along the whole front. The enemy attempted to rain five times on the night of May 19-20, to capture a post occupied by the Serbians in their latest attacks."

FOOD CONTROL ISSUE IN HOUSE THURSDAY

Borden Makes Statement After Hearing Arguments Against Conscription.

Ottawa, May 21.—J. C. Watters, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress; P. M. Draper, the secretary, and James Simpson, one of the executive, had a conference with Sir Robert Borden this evening regarding the question of conscription. A few labor men, including Mr. Simpson, have been expressing themselves as unalterably opposed to compulsory military service. "However, after they had heard the views of Sir Robert Borden on the subject, the labor representatives announced that they were revising their opinions on the matter, and would not be able to state definitely what their views would be until they had time to consider the question further. "The appointment of a food controller was urged and resolutions of labor bodies presented. The premier announced that the whole matter would come up in the House Thursday. The government had sought to postpone the issue of the question of food control.

TRADE OF CANADA STILL EXPANDING

Big Increases Shown in Exports and Imports for April.

Ottawa, May 21.—Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of customs, made public today the trade report for April, the first month of the 1917-18 fiscal year. These figures show that Canada's trade is still on the incline. The exports for April show an increase of no less than forty-eight million dollars over April of 1916. The feature of the month's trade was the big increase in imports, which jumped from $50,147,839 in April, 1916, to $86,807,809 last month. The exports showed an increase not so correspondingly great. The exports for April, 1916, were $58,929,292, and the exports for April, 1917, $65,145,443. The exports in manufactures for 1917 showed an increase of over nineteen million dollars, the figures being $49,859,646 for 1917, as against $31,575,975 for 1916. On the other hand, there was a big slump in the agricultural exports, which dropped from $21,605,972 in 1916 to $14,443,141 in 1917. Exports of the mine, forests, etc., showed slight increases. There was a slight decrease in fisheries exports.

Mine Strike at Springhill Has Been Entirely Settled

Ottawa, May 21.—Important information was conveyed to the minister of labor this evening from Nova Scotia, to the effect that the miners' troubles at Springhill had been settled. The agreement arrived at by the board of inquiry, appointed by him under the Liquor Act, has been accepted by both the miners and the coal operators.

ALLIES TO INSIST UPON ANNEXATION

Premier of Australia Says Peace on Other Terms is Impossible. MUST BE REPARATION

Melbourne, Australia, May 21.—(via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Premier Hughes, commenting on Lloyd-George's statement in the house of commons, regarding the imperial conference, said: "The whole empire, the very nature of the local self-government enjoyed by every part of the empire seems to render impracticable an attempt to graft upon this system, a council having plenary jurisdiction over the entire empire." "The whole empire," declares Premier Hughes, "will accept Lord Cecil's statement that a peace is impossible unless the opportunity at the very door to make onslaughts on Australia."

Belgium and Serbia Entitled to Full Indemnity for Losses.

Melbourne, Australia, May 21.—(via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Premier Hughes, commenting on Lloyd-George's statement in the house of commons, regarding the imperial conference, said: "The whole empire, the very nature of the local self-government enjoyed by every part of the empire seems to render impracticable an attempt to graft upon this system, a council having plenary jurisdiction over the entire empire." "The whole empire," declares Premier Hughes, "will accept Lord Cecil's statement that a peace is impossible unless the opportunity at the very door to make onslaughts on Australia."

NEWFOUNDLAND TO HAVE CONSCRIPTION

Premier Morris Favors Selective Draft to Fill Up Gaps.

St. John's, Nfld., May 21.—A selective conscription law in Newfoundland, along the lines of that now in force in the United States, and proposed in Canada, will probably be introduced at the annual session of the legislature, which opens May 29. Such action was forecast today in a statement by Premier Sir Edward Morris, who returned yesterday from England, where he had been for three months attending sessions of the imperial war conference. "In speaking with the newspaper men today, Sir Edward announced that he would immediately take up with the leader of the opposition the question of concerted action to secure enough men to maintain the Newfoundland regiment on the firing line till the end of the war. "The Newfoundland regiment has been in the thickest of the fighting on the continent. At Gallipoli it received special mention for gallantry, and more recently in the Arras fighting an official announcement from British headquarters paid tribute to the gallant leaders for winning and maintaining against violent counter-attacks particularly important positions."

C. A. Hays Succeeds Gutelius in Control of Intercolonial

Ottawa, May 21.—C. A. Hays, traffic manager of the Intercolonial Railway, has been promoted to general manager to succeed F. P. Gutelius. Mr. L. B. Brown, superintendent of the Sydney division, has been appointed assistant general superintendent of the system.

British soldiers salvaging guns, ammunition and army supplies on the battlefield near Bapaume. Official photograph.

PARTS OF ENEMY LINE ARE TOTALLY MISSING

Three Thousand Yards of Hindenburg's Trenches Completely Wiped Out by Efficiency of British Artillery Fire. "The prisoners taken came mostly from the Forty-Ninth reserve division which was recruited in the region of Posen and Breslau. It came to the west front from Rumania in February. Three officers are among the prisoners. The men showed by word and action that they were thoroughly tired of war. They had been in the line 21 months and constantly under the British shell fire. All of them said they had never seen anything like the artillery fire, nor did they desire to experience it again. "The trenches were concreted, all that remains of the captured portions of the Hindenburg line are cement and concrete machine gun emplacements. An underground corridor parallels the support trench 35 feet below the surface. "Several isolated posts are still standing between the scene of the latest smash and the Queant-Drocourt line. These include the villages of Reincourt and Hendecourt, and other strong points in which the Germans are capable of putting up strong resistance. "The engagement was really made up of two attacks, one in the early morning, when seventy prisoners were taken, and the second, late in the afternoon, the two netting 150 prisoners for the day's work in this sector. The German artillery's response was very feeble and the counter-barrage during the attack was particularly weak. "The prisoners taken came mostly from the Forty-Ninth reserve division which was recruited in the region of Posen and Breslau. It came to the west front from Rumania in February. Three officers are among the prisoners. The men showed by word and action that they were thoroughly tired of war. They had been in the line 21 months and constantly under the British shell fire. All of them said they had never seen anything like the artillery fire, nor did they desire to experience it again. "The trenches were concreted, all that remains of the captured portions of the Hindenburg line are cement and concrete machine gun emplacements. An underground corridor parallels the support trench 35 feet below the surface. "Several isolated posts are still standing between the scene of the latest smash and the Queant-Drocourt line. These include the villages of Reincourt and Hendecourt, and other strong points in which the Germans are capable of putting up strong resistance. "The engagement was really made up of two attacks, one in the early morning, when seventy prisoners were taken, and the second, late in the afternoon, the two netting 150 prisoners for the day's work in this sector. The German artillery's response was very feeble and the counter-barrage during the attack was particularly weak."

FIRE LOSS AT ATLANTA RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Flames Sweep Broad Path Thru Finest Residential Section of City.

Atlanta, Ga., May 21.—Fire that started late this afternoon in an obscure negro section, swept a broad path thru the residential section of Atlanta, devastating scores of blocks and destroying many of the city's finest homes and hundreds of negro houses. Also the flames were not entirely under control tonight, they had been checked half-way thru the exclusive Ponce de Leon avenue residence section, and fire officials believed there was little danger of a leveler there. "First estimates of the damage placed it at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. So far as could be learned the only life lost was that of a woman who died from shock. "The fire was confined to the northern part of the city, and the only business houses burned were several warehouses near the point of origin.

Rintelen and Associates Must Serve Year in Jail

New York, May 21.—One year in jail was the sentence imposed today upon Captain Franz Rintelen, of the German navy, David Lamar, and H. B. Martin, convicted yesterday in the federal court of conspiracy to interfere with shipment of munitions to the entente allies in 1915.

C. A. Hays Succeeds Gutelius in Control of Intercolonial

Ottawa, May 21.—C. A. Hays, traffic manager of the Intercolonial Railway, has been promoted to general manager to succeed F. P. Gutelius. Mr. L. B. Brown, superintendent of the Sydney division, has been appointed assistant general superintendent of the system.

IRISH PEOPLE WILL DECIDE OWN DESTINY

Convention Called to Draft Constitution Will Represent All Classes. MIRACLE HOPED FOR Baron Shaugnessy is Mentioned as Possible Choice for Chairmanship.

London, May 21.—For the first time in modern history, the destinies of Ireland are to be placed in the hands of Irishmen alone. The British prime minister, David Lloyd George, announced to the house of commons today that the government will call a convention of Irishmen to frame a constitution for Ireland, and, if Irishmen are able to agree upon any scheme for the administration of their country, will attempt to enact it into legislation without delay. All sections, parties, and creeds, with clergymen and laymen, as well as politicians and revolutionaries of the Sinn Fein society, will be invited to get together. "If this final attempt succeeds a political miracle will have been accomplished. There is no great optimism respecting the success of the plan, but the exclusion of six Irish counties, which has always stood, Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the first session of parliament and predicting that the Nationalists will not consent to the exclusion of six Irish counties. "But if the attempt fails, the failure will deprive the ancient charge that John Bull's greatest sin is that he has always stood. Sir John Lonsdale, whip of the Irish Unionists, predicted men would be deadlocked during the