

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IS NOT A "RED"

He is Particularly Anxious to Refute This Charge of His Wife.

New York, Sept. 14.—(Special).—Not to be outdone by Mrs. Mildred Harris Chaplin, his wife, Charlie Chaplin has also changed his mind.

The comedian was scheduled to meet his actress wife, with her attorney in the office of his counsel yesterday afternoon in an effort to smooth over their marital difficulties. Mrs. Chaplin's threats to tie up her husband's property, and her observations on his alleged radicalism, however, were resented by Mr. Chaplin, and the conference was called off.

Wife Demands Settlement.
Mrs. Chaplin insists that her husband come to some sort of settlement. Thru her attorney, E. J. Goldsmith, she said yesterday, "Why should I give him his freedom after his desertion and mistreatment of me?"

"He must come across or shoulder arms," added Mr. Goldsmith, intimating that unless some adjustment was reached he would go to court to protect the rights of his client. The comedian gets twenty-four hours to consider the matter, at the end of which time, Mr. Goldsmith said, he would apply for an equity receivership for Charlie's real and personal property, which he valued at $3,000,000. Mrs. Chaplin will claim a 50 per cent. interest in this property.

Mr. Burkan, in whose office at 145 Broadway, the contemplated peace parley was to take place, declared that Mr. Chaplin was particularly anxious to deny his wife's charges that he was a Bolshevik. While he regarded the entire matter as a joke, he wanted the world to know that he was not a radical and was certainly not in favor of the Bolshevik ideas of dividing one's property.

MOTHER WAS REFUSED CUSTODY OF DAUGHTER

Newark, N.J., Sept. 14.—(By Canadian Press).—By a court decision, handed down this afternoon, Mrs. Annie O'Brien, Moncton, N.B., was denied possession of her 13-year-old daughter, Kathleen. The girl was awarded to Mrs. Lillian Delaney, this city, her foster mother. Vice-Chancellor Fielder, in announcing the decision, said he would infer in it a clause restraining the child's parents ever from attempting to gain possession of her.

Kathleen was placed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delaney when she was a year old because the parents were unable to provide for her. She did not know that the Delaneys were her real parents until a few weeks ago when the action for her recovery was started by Mrs. O'Brien, who is a sister of Harmon Delaney, the foster father. This step was taken by Mrs. O'Brien after the Delaneys had separated, and Delaney later her in her attempt to get Kathleen back, according to statements made in court.

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

By MILDRED MARSHALL

LUCILLE

Lucille is a poetic name which has come into every day usage in this country. It used to be considered a diminutive of Lucy, but as a matter of fact, it is a completely separate name which simultaneously sprang to fame more serviceable appellation.

It signifies light, coming from the Latin word lux.

Lucille comes to us thru the masculine form evolved from lux. Ancient Britain is said to have had a king called Lleufer Mawr who was Latinized into Lucius. Viscount Falkland brought the name to the name in England and Ireland and in the meantime Lucius was growing in popularity in Rome.

The Lucilian gens of the Phlebian order was formed from Lucius and from it arose the name Lucilla. Several Roman empresses bore this name and a saint at Florence was so called. Lucilla, the French version which was immediately accepted by England. Owen Meredith made the name famous by his poem of that name.

The diamond is Lucille's talismanic gem. It will bring her courage and physical and mental strength. Wednesday is her lucky day and a hot lucky number.

GATHERING TO BE MOMENTOUS ONE

The council is designed to secure the fullest and freest expression of all shades of opinion on questions affecting the interest of the commercial communities of the empire. To restrict us in that would deprive us of one of our most useful functions.

The enforced interregnum has been a momentous time and produced a large crop of troubles and problems which have been waiting for a solution for years, but also with many post-war problems of the greatest magnitude and intricacy. There is, however, no sighing for the unattainable, and our decisions will be practical enough, we hope, to form the basis of some far-reaching legislation, as they have been in the past.

"It would be out of place for me to discuss or give an opinion on any of the resolutions that will come up but I think it is evident that this is not to be a pleasure jaunt or an inter-imperial picnic, but a serious, business-like assembly."

"This is not my first visit to Canada," added his lordship, "I have been here several times before, and in 1894 I swam across the Niagara River below the falls from the American side, landing just above the lower bridge. Five years later I repeated the stunt."

Lord Desborough is a noted sportsman and has many famous deeds to his credit.

The present governor-general of Canada and Lord Desborough are first cousins, their mothers being sisters. "I hope to see him before I go away," Lord Desborough remarked.

"I wrote asking him to open the congress here, but he has had to go on some official trip to the Peace River district. He may get back in time for me to see him before I return."

Lord Desborough himself was once prominently mentioned for the post of governor-general of Canada, at the time Lord Grey was appointed.

A. J. Hobson, J.P., president of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, and vice-chairman of the present congress, claims to be a Toronto business man, as he is chairman of William Jessop and Sons.

Viewpoint of Labor.
"The real trouble in England," Mr. Hobson said, "is the viewpoint of labor in regard to the limitation of output and thus provide more employment, whereas properly depends upon the amount of work that each man does. What will be necessary for the industrial concerns in England to do is to follow the example of America, and equip factories in such a way as to save labor."

He did not think there was much chance for prohibition in England. Albion Williams, of the Australian chamber of commerce, in London, stated that trade from England to Australia has been picking up very quickly since the war.

"Shipbuilding," stated Major C. C. Martyn of Newport, Monmouth, "according to the opinion of many people in England, is entering upon one of the greatest periods of depression it has ever experienced. Some think that this period will last for the next five years. There is at present, however, an abundance of ships, counting and in 1914 I swam across the Niagara River below the falls from the American side, landing just above the lower bridge. Five years later I repeated the stunt."
