

The Evening Times. LAST EDITION

VOL. IV, NO. 157

ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 1908.

EIGHT PAGES—ONE CENT

THEFT OF $60 IS CHARGED AGAINST TWO YOUNG MEN

Havelock Murphy and Jas. Connelly before Magistrate Ritchie Today on the Complaint of Mrs. McDonald.

The case against Havelock Murphy and James Connelly charged with stealing a pocket book from Mrs. McDonald of St. James St. while taking furniture from her house, was resumed this morning before Judge Ritchie and several witnesses were examined.

Deputy Chief of Police Jenkins was first called and stated that on March 12th, he visited Mrs. McDonald's house on St. James street and she showed him into a front bedroom where bed clothing, papers, etc. were scattered about, also jewelry. There was no bedstead in the room. Witnesses looked carefully through the room and examined the parlor as well. He also made a search of two other apartments. On the following morning he called at the Cheney house and saw Murphy. He searched his clothing, also that of Connelly. He told Murphy that Mrs. McDonald accused them of taking her pocket book and $60. She had left it between the mattress and spring of her bed. Both Murphy and Connelly denied having taken either pocket book or money.

Witness and Connelly visited Mrs. McDonald's house and seeing a pocket book in the bedroom. Connelly picked it up saying it was the one he had seen, but Mrs. McDonald said it was not the one she had lost. The missing one, she told him, was long with a leather strap and contained three twenty dollar bills. She had taken $10 out of it, when she saw it last.

To Dr. MacRae witness said he had known Murphy for a number of years and had heard him favorably spoken of. Havelock Murphy swore that on the 12th of March he arranged with Constable McBratney to come with him next morning to Mrs. McDonald's house but McBratney did not appear. McBratney met him about 8.15 o'clock at J. D. Turner's shop on Union Street and accompanied by James Connelly and himself drove to Mrs. McDonald's house and was told she was out.

Witness told Herman Ahlborn who was in the sitting room at the time that he came for his furniture and was told to take it. Connelly started to remove the furniture among which was an iron bedstead, a spring and a mattress, passing them to Connelly who put them on the team. He and Connelly went to the front bedroom for his wooden bed and bureau. On the way there he met Mrs. Galbraith who, shaking her fist at him (Murphy), said "everything that is stolen from Maudie (Mrs. McDonald) you'll have to suffer. Maudie's got money you've got nothing." He and Connelly went to the bedroom and together stripped the bed. He could not swear which of them removed the mattress but he took off the spring. He did not remember seeing any other pocket book than the one he identified when he visited the house with Deputy Chief Jenkins. He was aware that the plaintiff claimed to have purchased the furniture from Mr. Ahlborn.

James Connelly told of being employed by Murphy to take the effects referred to from Mrs. McDonald's house, and his evidence was largely a corroboration of the statement made by the previous witness.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

James Connelly told of being employed by Murphy to take the effects referred to from Mrs. McDonald's house, and his evidence was largely a corroboration of the statement made by the previous witness.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

Hearings was still in progress at the time of writing.

AMENDED WHARF PLANS SENT TO A COMMITTEE.

City Council met this Morning as General Committee—Question of a medal for Frank Priest.

The City Council met in general committee this morning to deal with a communication from the minister of public works as to a change in the plans for the new wharf. The matter was finally referred to the West Side improvements committee without any action being taken.

Ald. Willett, before the letter from the minister had been read, said that he desired to bring before the council the matter of a reward for Frank Priest for bravery in saving a man from drowning at Sand Point some days ago. He moved that $25 be voted to Mr. Priest.

Mavor Sears was in accord with the action as proposed but suggested that any amount voted might be expended for a medal.

Ald. Bullock felt an especial interest as his own life had once been saved by a man from drowning at Sand Point. After some discussion it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of a committee composed of the Mayor and the Chairman of the Treasury Board to arrange for a suitable reward.

A number of the aldermen spoke highly of the action of Priest. Hazen and Raymond's letter in the Watson claim was read and the Mayor said that he had asked the recorder and director of public works to go over to Sand Point in connection with the matter. It was referred to claims committee.

Common Clerk Wardrop then read the letter of the minister of public works together with the report of the assistant engineer Mr. St. Lawrence giving the objections of the Marine Superintendent of the C. P. H. here and captains of some of the big liners, to the proposed wharf plans.

A plan was also shown embodying changes, which in effect were the extension of the wharf 160 instead of 400 feet, the pier-front being at an angle of 45 degrees, the face being 300 feet. The change was on account of the difficulty in docking with the rise and fall of tide in the harbor.

It was decided to leave the matter to the board of public works. Council adjourned after the reading of a communication from the council of women in opposition to the band stand and advocating a portable one.

Council adjourned after the reading of a communication from the council of women in opposition to the band stand and advocating a portable one.

Council adjourned after the reading of a communication from the council of women in opposition to the band stand and advocating a portable one.

PRIEST SAYS BOYS SHOULD MAKE HASTE

Rev. Fr. Carney in Fredericton preaches against long Engagements—Courtship should be limited to year

Fredericton, March 31.—At St. Dunstan's Roman Catholic church, Sunday morning at the celebration of High Mass Father Carney referred to the new edict from the Holy See which was lately received by Bishop Casey at St. John in reference to marriages, and which goes into effect at Easter time. Hereafter all engagements to marry must be placed in writing and be in the possession of the priest.

In referring to the matter Father Carney gave it as his opinion that no courtship should last more than one year and told the young women that if a man did not make up his mind to "pop the question" within one year she should go and seek with some other fellow.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

Father Carney stated that the men should be married between the ages of 25 and 30 years, and women between the ages of 20 and 25 years, but he would give any of them until they were fifty years of age if they did not marry soon.

FIRE SWEEPS VILLAGE IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

MEAT SCARCE IN AMERICA

Two Million Pounds of Tinned Meat valued at $100,000 reshipped to New York from London

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

FIFTEEN HOUSES BURNED IN INDIAN VILLAGE OF SECHTEL ON SATURDAY MORNING—TWO VICTIMS BURNED TO DEATH

MEAT SCARCE IN AMERICA

Two Million Pounds of Tinned Meat valued at $100,000 reshipped to New York from London

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

London, March 31.—Two million pounds of tinned meat, valued at $100,000, has been re-shipped to New York from London during the past few weeks, as the result of the scarcity of meat in America. As a consequence of the autumn financial crisis, American farmers were unable to effect loans and placed their cattle on the markets instead of stall-feeding them, with the result that prices fell and meat consumption increased. Thus the unusual spectacle of England feeding America with her own meat. "Even with freight to pay twice across the Atlantic," said the representative of a Chicago firm here today, "we have been able to sell re-shipped goods in America at prices six per cent higher than we could obtain here. London is the cheapest meat market."

TEACHERS DREW LINE ON KISSES

Principal's Affectionate Greetings did not Arouse Responsive feeling

Pittsburg, March 31.—Springdale Borough is all in an uproar over the charges that are made by the teachers in the public school of that suburb against Professor James H. Pollitt, the principal of the schools. Miss Cora Wenzel, a petite brunette and twenty-two, is the principal accuser of the professor, and her testimony is corroborated by each of the other five teachers.

The specific accusation is that every time the professor met one of the teachers he placed his arms affectionately about her and gave her a smack on the lips.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

TEACHERS DREW LINE ON KISSES

Principal's Affectionate Greetings did not Arouse Responsive feeling

Pittsburg, March 31.—Springdale Borough is all in an uproar over the charges that are made by the teachers in the public school of that suburb against Professor James H. Pollitt, the principal of the schools. Miss Cora Wenzel, a petite brunette and twenty-two, is the principal accuser of the professor, and her testimony is corroborated by each of the other five teachers.

The specific accusation is that every time the professor met one of the teachers he placed his arms affectionately about her and gave her a smack on the lips.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

TEACHERS DREW LINE ON KISSES

Principal's Affectionate Greetings did not Arouse Responsive feeling

Pittsburg, March 31.—Springdale Borough is all in an uproar over the charges that are made by the teachers in the public school of that suburb against Professor James H. Pollitt, the principal of the schools. Miss Cora Wenzel, a petite brunette and twenty-two, is the principal accuser of the professor, and her testimony is corroborated by each of the other five teachers.

The specific accusation is that every time the professor met one of the teachers he placed his arms affectionately about her and gave her a smack on the lips.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

The school board heard the charges against Pollitt, and Miss Wenzel waxed so wroth in her accusations that she fainted.

NEW PHASE IN THE MONCTON LIQUOR CASES

Stay of Proceedings served on Magistrate and Chief of Police in Two Cases.

Moncton, Mar. 31. (Special)—Police Magistrate Kay and Chief of Police Rideout were this morning served with orders for a stay of proceedings and, asking them to show cause why convictions in the Scott Act cases against Richard Hebert and John Alperbar should not be quashed. There are two cases against Hebert, one calling for a fifty dollar fine and the other for one month's imprisonment. A fifty dollar fine is outstanding against Alperbar. Orders were issued by Judge Landry.

New and somewhat original grounds have been taken in these cases. The principal ground is that the magistrate had no jurisdiction because the evidence was taken down by other than the magistrate or a stenographer, and should have been read over to the witness the more so as the person taking it was somewhat hard of hearing.

Orders were issued by Judge Landry.

VICTIMS HAVE NOT BEEN FOUND

Five Corpses blown from Coal Mine by Explosions of Dust—62 Men Perished.

Hanna, Wyo., Mar. 31.—Up to last night none of the 62 victims of Saturday's two explosions in Mine number 2, of the Union Pacific Coal Co., had been recovered, except the five corpses blown from the shaft by the explosion of dust or gas.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down the slope and cut the flames in disintegrated. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flames are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down the slope and cut the flames in disintegrated. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flames are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down the slope and cut the flames in disintegrated. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flames are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down the slope and cut the flames in disintegrated. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flames are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down the slope and cut the flames in disintegrated. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flames are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down the slope and cut the flames in disintegrated. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flames are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.

The entrance to the mine has been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down the slope and cut the flames in disintegrated. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flames are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.