

REPORT OF THE KIRK SESSION.

1885.

In submitting to the Congregation its report for 1885, the Session would gratefully acknowledge the favors and mercies shown us as a people by the Head of the Church, in the past, and earnestly renew the hope that He may continue to bless and prosper us in the future. And parents are counselled to discourage any tendency on the part of members of the family to absent themselves from their own church and service, no matter what the novelties which may tempt them away. Little good has ever come to young or old in "going the rounds of the churches." It is too often a mere waste of spiritual power.

2. The Session notes with pleasure the excellent attendance at the weekly prayer-meeting. And the pleasure would be en-
