DELUGE OF RAIN

Storm Last Night Very Severe -Telegraph Wires Working Again

The storm, which swept over this secof the worst recorded for some time. An inch and eight-tenths of rain fell, and this was accompanied by heavy winds from the northwest. At four o'clock this morning the wind had reached a velocity of thirty-seven miles an hour. Towards morning the storm broke and the sun came through the clouds and was a welcome visitor.

was a welcome visitor.

The fields near the rifle range resembled a small lake this morning, and in many places the water was two feet

The most serious effect of the storm The most serious effect of the storm in this city was the cutting of communication with the west, owing to the breaks in the telegraph wires. The heavy fall of snow and sleet proved too much for the wires, and breaks occurred over a wide district in the northern and west-wide district in the northern and western parts of the province and in Maine.

The Western Union had the unusual experience of being almost entirely cut off from communication with the west. For a period the only line working was that to Boston by way of Calais, and thence along the coast and to Bangor. The wires were down between Vanceboro and Bangor, and from Woodstock north to Boston woodstock north to Boston was described by the Boston with the west. It is a province and in Maine. It is

We do not believe that they are and are convinced that future events will sustain our view. In fact the Canadian Liberal party, now freed from disputable influences will begin the real struggle for the future of Canada."

The Daily Telegraph says if Sir Robert Borden had more the interests of the country than those of his party at heart, he would not have delayed elections. The problem of materially reducing the mortality consequent upon this disease beyond a certain very moderate limit, here, as in most other communities, is a chaotic condition.

"Seeing his party withering away like the autumn leaves," continues the Telegraph, "he keeps agitating with nervous desperation for some measure of support from the Liberal party, in which he is vainly endeavoring to plant the germ of schism. But, in doing so, he finds himself on the horns of a dilemma. He finds that he can get a few outstanding westerners in his cabinet if outstanding westerners in his cabinet if

NAVY WITH ALLES' FLETS

Washington, Oct. 12—An official statement issued by Secretary of the Navy Daniels today says:

"Admiral R. T. Mayo, United States navy, and his staff have returned from England. The purpose of the visit there was to permit him to confer with officials of the allied navies, to become intimate with the situation as it is at present, what had been done before and to discuss plans for the future. The British admiralty extended every courtesy.

"Admiral Mayo will proceed immediately to Washington and will there make a full report to the secretary of the navy. He visited the British fleet and our own forces in British and French waters to familiarize himself with the conditions under which the allies forces are operating."

It is very satisfactory to note the decided drop in the death rate for the quarter as compared with the last year, which latter figures, 15.82, were by no means excessive.

A very considerable increased attention has been given during the last nine months of the examination of milk. The great majority of the samples examined were good; a large proportion excellent; some six or eight out of 160 either came very close to the minimum standard and one or two fell below it. Appropriate measures were taken in these cases. Strict supervision has been kept in these instances that were only slightly above the minimum and these measures will be continued in these case and in others as they develop in the future."
