

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

GEORGE ARLISS IN "DISRAELI" MONDAY

Imperial Theatre will Present Rare Historical Photoplay of Genuine Worth.

On Monday, Imperial Theatre will continue its policy of prime pictures by presenting Lewis N. Parker's historically correct British story "Disraeli" with the eminent London star George Arliss in the name role.

"Disraeli" deals with the public career of that Anglo-Jewish statesman otherwise known as Lord Beaconsfield. It was a stressful time in the annals of the Mother Country and Disraeli by his doughty British perseverance and Jewish tenacity in business put through the Suez canal deal in spite of the attempted refusal of the Bank of England to supply the finances.

LONG SESSION IN LIQUOR CASE

McKinnon on the Stand in Today's Session of Court.

Another session of the case of Percy W. Hand, as manager of the Canadian Distributing Company, charged with selling liquor illegally to Pope D. McKinnon, occupied the police court from a little after 10 o'clock until 1 o'clock today.

The larger part of the time was taken up with the evidence of Pope D. McKinnon, for the defence. R. Willard Demings of Aroostook county, a prohibition constable and a former inspector identified McKinnon and said that he knew him to have a farm near the border on the road from Houlton to Woodstock. On one occasion in 1920, he said, he had gone to the farm with a search warrant and seized two bags containing bottles of liquor which had been stored in an old granary.

McKinnon testified that he lived with his wife and four children in Bangor and owned property near there to the value of between $7000 and $8000. In Carleton county he owned a farm and a potato house at which he and his wife occasionally stayed for short visits. He said he had at least one man on the farm all the time and that Peter Smith was there now. He had done a little business with the Canadian Distributing Company. He identified a letter as one written by his daughter at his direction. It was an order, he said, on the Canadian Distributing Company to reserve a quantity of liquor for him until he called for it.

McKinnon said he went with Crawford to Poole's warehouse where Crawford told the others they were as everything was legal, and then he went to the customs house. When he returned his car had been taken away. He had never sold liquor, or been fined for an infraction of the prohibition law, and he had never been at the farm when liquor was seized.

Inspector Henderson was called here to put in evidence the tags taken off the boxes and kegs. On cross-examination, McKinnon said he had never to his knowledge broken the liquor laws of this province. He had no residence in either Benton or Debec but had liquor shipped to both of those places on various occasions. He sent the orders for these consignments of liquor to Charlottetown and so far as he knew, that was the place from which it came. He said he had never been arrested in Bangor.

Entries in the books of the company had $1,200 worth of liquor on September 8, $700 on August 1, $500 on August 21, and $600 on August 31. McKinnon said this was all for his own personal use. His Honor said he would visit Mr. McKinnon in Bangor. The witness said he knew James Collins. Mr. Martin got the permit to enter the country. They came in as tourists but intended to take some stuff out with them if it could be managed. Martin had stayed in town and not run away. He ordered Mr. Davidson to start proceedings against the customs department to recover the car. He refused to answer questions on the grounds that he might incriminate himself but his argument was overruled. He said he didn't think he was breaking any of the laws of New Brunswick but knew he would have to break the U. S. law to get the liquor into that country as there was no importation allowed. The case was postponed until Monday at ten o'clock.

She carries a crew of about forty men, signed at Baltimore, from which port she sailed on October 7 to take cargo at New Orleans. What kind of health twenty years from now? "Success in the battle of life, I take it, is seventy-five per cent energy" said Charles M. Schwab. "Twenty per cent knowing how and five per cent luck. But luck's not going to walk up and shake hands with any man."

You can lay the foundation for that rugged health now—give them plenty of bread—their best friend from cradle days up. It means a saving of fully twenty per cent on the household bills of every housewife who knows how to use it. But, remember, "luck's not going to walk up and shake hands with any man." Don't trust to luck in buying your bread. Insist on Butter-Nut Bread. It is Best of all Breads—just as Bread is Best of all Foods. All good grocers. ROBINSON'S Limited—Bakers

SHE THOUGHT SHE HAD BETTER GET A SIMPLE MONSTER FOR REFRESHING HIS HELP. She finally reached the "Train" School and registered. But she didn't like it a bit. She felt very blue IN FACT AT HER DINNER SHE ATE A VERY LITTLE. She fought with her room mate. IN A FIT OF JEALOUSY OR ANGER SHE LEFT. However before going home she bought a new dress at Smith's store. When she tried it on it didn't fit. SO SHE TOOK IT TO SMITH'S ALTERATION ROOM FOR CHANGES. Even then it didn't fit. But she wouldn't keep it. SO APPLYING FOR REFUND SHE GOT HER MONEY BACK. Then she took the next train for home. Betty Beauty.
