AMBULANCE

GOT WAS HIS DEATH BED

Harold Taylor, Hurt in Mill, Dies on Way To Hospital

CAUGHT IN MACHINERY

Fearfully Torn in Miller's Mill This Morning - Hurriedly Brought by Motor Boat to In-diantown - Leaves Wife And Children

When the 7 o'clock whistle blew this morning in Miller's mill in Pokok it sounded a death knell for one of the most popular employes, Harold A. Taylor, of Bridge street, who at the time was lying between life and death in a sadly mutilated condition from causes the exact nature of which will probably never be known. He was found by the older, John Rice, who with presence of mind at once ran up stairs to the engine room and turned off the power, but was too late to prevent the loss of life, although he did manage to put an end to the horrible mangle of which the poor man's body was being subjected. Mr. Taylor was taken from his precarious position and hurried to the wharf where he was placed in a motor boat and with all possible speed hastened to In-diantown, where he was soon placed in the ambulance. The later had just about reached the Union Depot, however, when the struggle ended and death was the victor.

Mr. Taylor had been employed with Chas. Miller as foreman of the lath department for a long term of years, and was considered a capable and efficient workman. He was highly popular with all in the mill and besides had a wide circle of friends throughout the city who heard of his death with deep regret. He left his wife and family of three small children in his home in Bridge street this morning, and went as usual to work in Pokok. It is believed that he went to a downstairs portion of the mill to do some work about a spare shaft just before 7 o'clock, with the probable intention of placing a belt in position.

Whether he was caught in a set-screw or not is not known definitely, but he was found a few minutes later by Mr. Rice. His right arm was hanging by a tendon to his body, the muscles of his right side were horribly contorted and drawn from their positions. The body was pouring from his wounds. His clothing had been torn from his body with the exception of his boots and hose.

With haste he was taken to In-diantown, and conveyed to the store of P. Nase & Son, corner of Market Square and Main. Dr. C. M. Pratt did everything possible to relieve his suffering. Dr. W. E. Roberts also attended later. The body was put in the ambulance and accompanied by Dr. Pratt, a start was made for the hospital. He was sinking rapidly, and just as the ambulance was reached, he passed away.

The body was taken to N. W. Brennan's undertaking establishment, and will be conveyed home this afternoon. Coroner Roberts said that unless a request for in-quest was made none would be held. Mr. Taylor left his wife and three little children, as well as his mother, and the deepest sympathy is felt for them in their bereavement. The funeral will probably be held on Sunday, from his home, 165 Bridge street.

NEW COMPANY

FOR ST. JOHN-CUBA SERVICE

Dr. E. S. Kirkpatrick of Woodstock Here About The Project

LARGE CAPITAL

Probably $1,500,000 or $2,000,000—Proposal is to Put on Two First-Class Steamers to Ply Between St. John and Cuba

Dr. E. S. Kirkpatrick of Woodstock, former Canadian government trade commissioner to Cuba, is in the city today, and has recently been in Ottawa and Montreal in connection with the formation of a new company, the object of which is to put on direct steamers between St. John, Cuba and Porto Rico and Jamaica, and to carry on a trading and mercantile business in those islands. It is probable that the capital stock of the company will be $1,500,000 or $2,000,000, and Dr. Kirkpatrick is confident that so soon as shippers in New Brunswick and elsewhere in Canada, become acquainted with the possibilities of the markets that would be opened up by such a service as he proposes, the big project will be seen to be both practicable and profitable. He says there is a great market in the island for hay, potatoes, salt fish and many other of our products, and he suggests that our cargoes of coffee and pineapples and other tropical fruits will be readily available and will find a large market both here and in England.

The Havana Daily Post in an article dealing with the proposed new company says that the promoters are now assured of sufficient capital to place the project on a sound basis. It would be proposed to put on two first class steamers to ply between this port and Havana, Cienfuegos, Nipa Bay, San Juan, and Kingston, Jamaica. The Havana Post says that the objects for which incorporation is sought are as follows:— To promote a greater interchange of trade between Canada and Cuba and West India islands. To establish in Cuba and elsewhere the proceeds of those countries for which there is, or may be created, a demand in Canada.

To build in Canada or elsewhere factories for preserving or canning Canadian and tropical fruits on vegetable products. To buy, lease, or acquire asphalt mines and build refining-plants for refining their products. To acquire or lease mineral water properties and erect bottling plants in Canada or elsewhere for bottling mineral water.

To charter or acquire steamers to be placed on a service between Canada, Cuba and West India islands as the growth of the trade demands. To promote tourist travel between Cuba and West India and to buy and sell houses or lands in Cuba or elsewhere. Dr. Kirkpatrick resigned his post as Canadian trade commissioner some months ago in order to devote himself to furthering the projects here outlined.

Here's Something New

No more ashes to lug, no clumsy ash pan to spill dust and dirt on the kitchen floor. The GLENWOOD ASH CHUTE solves the problem. It is situated just beneath the grate and connected by a sheet iron pipe straight down through the kitchen floor to the Ash Barrel in the cellar.

No dust can escape, just slide the damper once each day and drop the ashes directly in to the ash barrel. This is only one of the splendid improvements of the plain CABINET GLENWOOD, the range without ornamental or fancy nickle. THE MISSION STYLE GLENWOOD, every essential refined and improved upon. At least one-half of all GLENWOODS are sold through the enthusiastic recommendation of a satisfied user.
