The muscles of the stomach are strengthened, digestion becomes complete, the absorbent vessels take up the nutrition, the blood becomes vitalized and pure—the nervous system vigorous, and the thin, pale or sallow complexioned become plump and healthy, and regain the ruddy tint of health.

WAR NOTES.

It now seems clearly established that King William never proclaimed that he would only fight against Napoleon, not against the French people. What he did say was that he was fighting against the soldiers and not the peaceful citizens of France. Nevertheless another only less important personage—the Crown Prince—issued a proclamation in which he made to King: "Prussia makes war against the Emperor and not against France." This language was really used by the Crown Prince, and has not been discovered, then it stands as the language of King himself.

A contemporary puts the case between the two emperors very neatly as follows:

"France would only now humble herself in the dust on account of her passion for military glory and her mania for dictating to other nations, and confess that the retribution which has befallen her is eminently just, she would leave the world in sympathy with her; but instead of that she still mounds about victory and revenge. If Prussia in like manner would confess that her blighting spirit is a great blot on her national character, and follow the things which make for peace now that she has a fine opportunity of doing so with magnanimity, her moral strength would surely even her physical power."

Lord Lyons, British Minister, warns E. G. de Bismarck of Paris to leave the city now or they may.

The Place de la Concorde is filled with soldiers of the National Guard.

A Prussian was discovered to day in a secluded place firing a rifle at one of the balloons which was being used as an outlook by the military authorities. He was promptly arrested.

The statement that Napoleon complained bitterly of his Generals, and declared that Paris is unable to prevent the entrance of the Prussians, excites great indignation among the friends of France. It is said that Napoleon paralyzed the action of his Generals, and he should be the last to proclaim the weakness of the defenses of the capital.

THE DROIT.—A gentleman from New Hampshire, speaking of the excessive drought that is at present affecting nearly the whole of New England, relates that a farmer, an acquaintance of his, who pastured his cattle some two or three miles from his residence, and who visited them once a week to see that they were all right, in his visit to them last week found the water all given out and seven of his best cattle dead.

SAINT ANDREWS, SEP. 21, 1870.

The Great Boat Race

which took place at Lachine on the 15th inst., it is already widely known, resulted in favor of the "Tyne Crew." The time made by the crews was:

Tyne Crew 40 min. 50½ seconds.
Paris Crew 41 " 31 "

Difference in favor of the "Tyne" 7¼ sec.

The articles of agreement signed on 18th of May last state in the 3rd Section "the race to be rowed on the 15th day of September, 1870, at the hour of 3 o'clock, p. m., if the water is smooth."

The St. John (Paris) Crew protested against starting as there was a strong breeze and rough sea. After a while the wind lulled and Mr. Potter strongly urged by the Lachine Club, sent for Sheriff Harding the Umpire on behalf of the St. John Crew; after some consultation with Adams, Umpire for Tyne Crew, Sheriff Harding agreed to row at 5:15.

The weather was unsettled, the sea still rough and our noble and gallant Oarsmen were sent for. At the gun fire away the boats started, the "Paris" in a hundred yards had gained half a boat's length; scarcely had the start been made, however, when the wind rose making a rough sea, compelling our noble fellows to drop from 45 strokes to the minute to 40, in consequence of their low rig; even then their boat was half full of water, as they were not provided with side boards to keep out the splash of the sea, which the Tyne men had.

Why Sheriff Harding permitted or consented to the Paris Crew rowing in rough water is not understood. It is pleasing to read that although beaten at present, St. John is not discouraged. A challenge has been sent by the Citizens to the Tyne men, to row again for $1000 against a St. John crew. We also notice that the Paris Crew were loudly cheered while returning to the stake boat notwithstanding they were defeated. They had the sympathy of the Canadians and Americans, and we trust our noble oarsmen will meet with a hearty welcome and kind reception on their arrival at St. John. Their former deeds of triumph should not be forgotten.

Since the above was written, we are pleased to notice that our St. John contemporaries the Telegraph, Globe, and News, take similar views upon giving the "Paris Crew" a hearty welcome, that they may feel—that they still retain, as they merit, the confidence and respect, and even the gratitude of their fellow citizens. That's it. These men have done much to make St. John known and respected; they feel deeply their defeat, by those able men from the Tyne; their fellow citizens, however, will extend to them a cordial reception. Had the weather been calm and the water smooth, it is probable that there would be a repetition of the scene witnessed on their return from Paris. This belief is largely shared in by New Brunswickers.

Our Correspondent's letter must have gone astray, as it has not been received.

EXCURSION.—The "City of St. John" will make an excursion from this town and St. George, to St. John, to-morrow, Thursday, leaving here at 9:15 a. m. It is expected that Calais and St. Stephen will furnish their quota of excursionists. The fare is only $1.50 for the trip up and back. The Steamer will leave St. John on her return Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

The "Telegraph" publishes an account of a terrible outrage committed upon a young man named Munro, of Cape Breton, who had received his wages amounting to $30, on Friday; and while travelling along the road was robbed by two men, beaten, and left with a broken cut. He however recovered sufficiently to return to his boarding house. His case is not considered to be hopeless by the Physicians. The perpetrators had not been arrested.

We can assure the "Globe" that Mr. Stevenson has not even an "inclination" to join the present Government, nor would he accept office in opposition to the popular wish. That he could have had the office of Surveyor General but did not accept it, we stated last week. This reminds us, that the last Royal Gazette contains a Crown Land Notice signed by "W. F. Flewelling, Sur. Genl." How is this?

Was not Mr. Flewelling rejected by his constituents at the last election, and how is it he retains the position and receives the salary for an office which he is politically disqualified to fill. We know of some causes with reference to boundaries of lands which are coming before the Courts in this County, and the Plaintiff in one of the causes informed us that in consequence of their being no Constitutional Surveyor General, he was debarred from obtaining an order of survey which would stand the test of law. Are we not come to a pretty pass when the ends of justice are to be defeated, because an unpopular Government cannot fill the vacant seats in its body?

The general feeling of the Province is, that the Executive Council should resign; and that some leading member of the opposition, say for instance Mr. Stevenson, be called upon to form a new administration, with perhaps, one or two of the present Government among them. If this is not done before the meeting of the Legislature, it is certain that one of the first acts of the Assembly will be to hurl our present rulers from their offices.

It is currently reported that the Government intend to resign on the 1st of October.

MONTREAL.—The Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition was opened at Montreal on the 14th inst., and was largely attended. The arrangements were perfect, and consequently everything went on smoothly. The Agricultural Department was fully represented, the horses are described as of pure breeds and very good. The display of cattle was also very fine; the Industrial Department well filled with a great variety of articles, among which is noted a switch of human hair 47 inches long, and from the head of a Canadian girl. The Tweeds, Blankets and Flannels from the mills at Sherbrooke are highly spoken of. There is no end to the display of Stoves, Cast iron ware, Sewing Machines, Carriages, Sleighs, &c. The Exhibition was said to be a decided success.

The news by Cable of the progress of the War between France and Prussia does not augur favorably for hopes of Peace. The Prussians will entertain propositions for indemnity for the cost of the war, and guarantees for peace, when they are offered by a Government in France which has the confidence of the people, and is recognized by other Powers.

In the mean time, engagements are taking place daily. On the 19th a fight took place within ten miles of Paris, in which the French were beaten but inflicted heavy losses on the Prussians.

The Italian Troops were about entering Rome. The Pope and the Diplomatic Corps had, it was reported, taken refuge in the Castle of St. Angelo.

LARGE YIELD.—Mr. John Brownrigg planted on the 25th May last, two pounds of Early Rose Potatoes, and after having used 1½ pecks, had 170 lbs left. Three of the potatoes weigh 1 lb. each. He was offered $5 for the 170 lbs, but would not accept it.

CHANGES OF FORTUNE.—Eleven years ago a Prussian lady in Friesland, reared in affluence, incurred the displeasure of her father by marrying against his wishes, and, with her husband, she came to America. At the end of a few years the husband died from the effects of debauchery, and failing health at last compelled the mother to seek homes for her two children. On application at the Mission School on Tremont street, in Boston, two smart little boys of 8 and 11 years, were admitted, and provided with homes in North Bridgeton, Me., where they were carried and "farmed" out with good people engaged in agricultural pursuits. With her boys in trustworthy hands, the mother visited New York, and learned that her father had followed her to this country, and taken up his residence in Ohio, and had there recently died, leaving a will bequeathing all his property—valued at $7,500—to his erring daughter. The mother with this unexpected turn of fortune's wheel, at once proceeded to Bridgeton to reclaim her children. Legal application has been made to cancel the terms of indenture.

UNERRING PRECISION.—In these autumnal months the human health is sorely tried by the extreme changes of the temperature, which bring on coughs and so many disorders of the pulmonary organs. The vast majority of long complaints may be checked in their dangerous courses by the use of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Balm.

It commends itself to the wisest as the best and most certain remedy—the most rapid in its operation, and the most safe, speedy, certain, and permanent in its cures. It knows no failures, is devoid of danger, restores the strength and imparts vigor and life, however much shaken by disease.

Determination of Blood to the Head.—Impudence or neglect is tantamount to constructive suicide—the penalty a short, quick struggle, and instantaneous death. All who are of a full habit, or subject to apoplectic or epileptic fits, should never be without a supply of Dr. Wilson's Family Anti-Bilious Pills, as they find a safeguard in occasional doses of them. In every instance they have been attended with the most successful results.

They best remedy you can apply to your horses for St. James, Stiff Joints, Lameness, &c., is Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. This valuable combination is much esteemed by those who have the care of horses, and is found to be safe and effectual. Use it once and you will never do without it.

The horse, naturally the friend, companion and the most useful servant of man, is peculiarly liable to a change and exposure to Coughs, Colds, Founder, Heaves, &c., which, by reason of not being properly cared for, soon grow to importance. To correct all mischief, Clark's Derby Condition Powders are just the thing required.
