The opening day of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Club was quite a success last Saturday, both from a racing and fashionable point of view. The finish between the Wym and Yonka was certainly a pretty sight, even to the landman's eye, and the idea of numbering the yachts in a most excellent one, and very convenient, both for spectators and sailors. The ladies and the bicycles turned out in force. In fact there was quite a bicycle meet, and after tea a great many went for a spin around the park. Mrs. Erskine was becomingly dressed in a cycle habit of feather millinery with Norfolk jacket and pretty sailor hat. Mrs. Crabbe, who was also on a wheel, wore a navy serge tailor-made skirt and coat. Mrs. Harry Troop, fawn tulle habit.

The ladies not yachting were somewhat more elaborately dressed. Mrs. Fitzherbert wore a surah, with a bodice of cherry silk; she carried a parasol to match. Mrs. Crichton had on a beautiful green poplin, with a small covert coat of fawn cloth. Mrs. Drew-Moir wore a very well made violet box cloth gown, with white revers. Mrs. Fred Jones was in dark green, covering a bodice of seersucker striped green chiffon over red silk, collar, cuffs and belt of jewel embroidery. Mrs. Stairs Duffus was in black with a white surah bodice. Mrs. James Stairs in grey, with a brocade vest. Mrs. Geoffrey Morrow wore a very becoming costume of black and white check, with white waistcoat and smart walking hat. Mrs. W. A. Henry was in gaudy blue. Many other ladies were present, all wearing more or less new and pretty gowns, but the wind was so cold that on the veranda of the yacht club wraps were soon the order of the day.

On Wednesday evening the amateur theatricals in St. Mary's hall were quite successful, if not very brilliant, and a not too critical audience spent a very pleasant evening. Miss Glicks looked very tall and graceful, and Miss Oliver made a charmingly bright Little Sentinel.

Miss Lily Norton Taylor is the guest of Mrs. Moren. The marriage of Capt. March, Royal Artillery, with his sister, Miss E. Norton Taylor, is arranged for the early autumn. At the yacht club on Saturday, Miss Taylor wore a very becoming costume of blue and black.

A very fashionable audience greeted the amateurs on charity bent at St. Mary's hall. The house was packed and the audience certainly an appreciative one. The little theatrical is somewhat of an antique; its humor belongs to an age not quite in harmony with the present; its characters are drawn with an exceedingly blunt pen, in strong lines, the typical characters of farces. It is thus a very easy task for amateurs, but at the same time full of pitfalls, very easy for the unwary beginner to fall into. I regret to say that the pitfalls were full on Wednesday evening. Miss Oliver was very pleasing in the title role, by no means an easy task. Mr. Barlow had a part that suited him down to the ground; he made an excellent Capt. Corcoran. Capt. Duffus a natural comical, was somewhat out of life element in his part, rather a thankless one. Mr. Hill was excellent, playing Sam with great care and study; a part that might have been spoiled was worked out very well.

"My Lord in Liver," gave the actors a much better opportunity. The palm was certainly carried off by Mr. Neave as Spigot, but Mr. Hill was almost as good as Hopkins. The ladies in this piece had not much to do, but certainly did it very well. Miss Burns was very good as Rose, her household costume being most becoming. With such a lot of new talent added to what already exists, there ought to be no trouble in getting up the best of amateur theatricals. I hear that a movement is on foot to form a dramatic club, to give three or four performances during the winter. Major Brady is in Halifax, the guest of Col. North.

William E. wards and George Brennan left yesterday for a trip to Vancouver. They expect to be away three months.

Miss Jessie Rogers, daughter of the late David Rogers, of this city, arrived last evening from Boston on a visit to her mother.

Prof. Stanley McKerzie, of Bryn Mawr college, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. McKerzie are coming to Dartmouth to spend a part of vacation.

Dr. Perry, of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting his brother-in-law, Harbor Master J. E. Butler. Dr. Perry is seeking restoration in health.

D. O. Sharp and wife, of St. John, are in Halifax on their bridal tour. Mr. Sharp is a leading member of the bicycle club, St. John.

Mrs. McKay, wife of Dr. N. E. McKay, and child are visiting Charlotte, N.C. Mrs. McKay is a daughter of Principal Miller, of Charlotte.

W. C. T. U. attended a meeting of the Lunenburg county W. C. T. U. at Bridgewater this week.

Mrs. T. K. Kipatrick, daughter of John Bradley, cabinet maker and two children arrived yesterday from Vancouver, B.C., to spend the summer in Halifax.

Rev. Dr. Forrest president of Dalhousie college, has received an invitation to take part in the exercise of Princeton college in October, and will likely accept.

It is expected that Very Rev. Dr. Scott, of St. John's, Nfld., will have the title of Montserrat conferred upon him on Bishop Hewley's return from Rome.

A. L. Michaels is at St. John's Nfld., inspecting his branch store there and will rejoin his wife and daughter at Berlin. They will spend three months on the continent.

Miss Helen Blackmore, one of the advanced pupils of the Conservatory of Music, Boston, arrived yesterday to spend three weeks with her sister, Mrs. Edward Betherland, Brunswick street.

The St. John's Nfld. papers say Bishop Howley does not return with Archbishop O'Brien. They understand that Bishop Howley had not left France May 28th, and that he intended travelling in the British Isles during June.

James Tupper, B. A. Ph.D. is at home in Dartmouth for his vacation. He has been lecturing for some time at John Hopkins university in connection with the University extension system and expects to be employed at head quarters in Philadelphia next year.

The following is from the Ottawa Daily Citizen of June 9th, and will be read with regret by many in Halifax who knew the deceased and held her in high esteem.

"There died on Sunday, Mrs. Anna Davis, widow of the late Robert Davis, Esq., of Halifax. A quarter of a century ago perhaps no figure was more familiar on the streets of Halifax than that of Robert Davis. With large interests in the city, prominent in all civic enterprises and a hand ever open to help the poor, Mr. Davis was widely known and universally esteemed. Most of his old friends have, of course, passed away; yet there are still many in 'The City by the Sea' who will remember the cherry smile and hearty handshake of "Bob" Davis. Some fifteen years ago Mrs. Davis removed to Ottawa and here on Sunday last at the ripe age of 78 she passed peacefully away, surrounded by her sorrowing children and grandchildren. Rev. J. M. Snowden, Rector of St. George's church, held a short service at the house at three o'clock on Monday morning and the remains were then taken to Halifax N. S., for interment. Deceased was the mother of Mr. E. G. Davis secretary of the Chief Justice of the supreme court, who accompanied the remains to their resting place.

WINDSOR.
 (Programme is for sale in Windsor at Knowles' book store and by F. W. Dakin.)
 June 17.—The dance given on Thursday evening at "The Grand Hotel" by Mrs. John Smith in honor of her guests Mrs. Claude Exille, Miss Smith, Miss Graham and Miss Skinner was very enjoyable, among those present were: Mrs. C. The farewell concert given by the Walther on Monday evening was very well attended in spite of the disagreeable weather and certainly those who ventured out were well repaid as a more delightful entertainment has seldom been listened to here. Mrs. Walther was in excellent voice and Miss Lockhart fine violin playing was a surprise to the audience. The other performers are too well known to make mention here necessary.

The annual Knickerbocker Cricket match for the Cops-well bats took place on Monday at the collegiate school grounds, the contestants being the College C. and a team from the Blue Jackets of the town. The former won the victory and captured the bats. Rainy weather prevailed and the ground was in a very bad condition. The Cricketers lunched together at the Kings College hall.

The entertainment by the Parish Guild on Tuesday evening last was one of the best of the season and was fairly well attended although the night was very unpleasant. Great credit is due the ladies and gentlemen who took so much pains to prepare such a varied and enjoyable programme, a goodly sum was added to the piano fund.

The many friends made by Miss E. G. Roberts during her visit to Windsor congratulate her on her marriage to Mr. T. A. R. McDonald, which took place at Fredericton on the 11th. Mrs. McDonald is a sister of Prof. Roberts, so long a resident of our town.

The closing exercise of the Church school for girls, took place at "Edgell" on Tuesday in the new assembly hall and was largely attended.

This hall the building of which has progressed far enough to admit of its being used is a much needed addition to the already large and handsome buildings of this institution, the dining room which answers its own purpose perfectly, not being large enough to accommodate the number of friends who attend the clerical exercises and the various entertainments given during the year. The programme was slightly different from that usually followed, the concert taking place in the afternoon and the distribution of prizes in the morning. The young ladies acquitted themselves with their usual grace and propriety.

AMHERST.
 (Programme is for sale at Amherst by H. V. Purdy.)
 June 16.—A very merry party was given on Saturday afternoon from five to eight, by Mrs. E. J. Lay for her little daughter Miss Jean Guide. A number of small maidens were present and looking very bright and charming in their pretty dresses.

Miss Jean had a splendid little house and the time passed away at a very alarming rate.

Mr. Edgar E. Henson went to Yarmouth on Sunday where he was a prominent figure in an interesting event on Wednesday afternoon, which will call for the congratulations of his many Amherst friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rathburn spent Sunday at their cottage in Tidnish.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry D. Beal returned from a short visit to Halifax on Saturday evening.

Mr. Harry G. Rogers spent part of last week in town.

About Duck Suits.

For the warm summer days DUCK SUITS are almost a necessity, and there's nothing so cool and comfortable when the very hot days arrive. The prices of our DUCK SUITS are the same as you pay your dressmaker for the work alone, that means when you buy from us the goods practically cost you nothing.

The style and finish of our $2.25 suits is better than you could expect to get for twice that amount. The other kinds are $2.50 $2.80 $3.15 & $3.5 J.

We have lovely effects in Linen and Crash Suits, the very newest things, ready to wear.

DUNLAP, COOKE & CO., AMHERST, N. S.

Miss Grace Hoyt and Florie Williams spent Sunday in Annapolis.

Miss Hattie Walsh is visiting people in Annapolis.

Mrs. T. Dearness entertained a number of young people to a dance on Wednesday evening in honor of her guest Miss Nellie McQuiver of St. John.

The house was tastefully decorated with plants and cut flowers, all making a charming effect. The young people all enjoyed the evening in dancing.

Mrs. Dearness made a splendid hostess, and wore a pretty green dress with steel trimmings while Miss Dearness assisted her mother, and looked well in cream de laise. Miss Kitty wore pale blue muslin.

Among those present were Miss McQuiver, (St. John) Miss Lottie Hallet, (Sussex) Misses Healy, Mrs. M. More, Miss B. Tupper, Miss M. Messer, Mr. W. Bicknell, C. F. Fairs, H. P. Ruffer, P. Parker, B. Kenny, P. Milner, T. McClean, (Liverpool) S. Weare, H. Pratt, H. Crosskill.

Mrs. T. McClean spent Wednesday in town.

Miss Fannie Healy is home spending her vacation.

The Poole got all dead yet.

Even a blind man can see that more clearly than daylight, or else why should so many continue to use ill smelling, oily, and often useless preparation for the relief of pain, when a preparation just as cheap, elegant, more powerful, and penetrating as medicine? Nerviline cures instantly aches and pains. Nerviline is the most efficacious remedy for all kinds of neuralgia, rheumatism, and all other diseases the most intense pain almost at once.
