YOUR NAME, ADDRESS,

Why Group is Fatal

When a group attacks your child you must be ready for it. It comes as an accompaniment to an ordinary cough, or it may attack without warning. All his children develop quickly, and when any kind of cough appears there should be something at hand to stop it with promptness. Many a child has choked to death with a group because the right remedy was not convenient. Every one should know that the right safeguard for a child's cough or any cough is Adams' Botanic Cough Balsam. With this soothing compound in the house, a group is always easily checked and relieved. To give a child a 'cough mixture' containing a narcotic is a very serious matter, yet most preparations contain something of this kind. Adams' Botanic Balsam is prepared from the purest extracts of herbs and roots and gums of trees, and is breathing in every component part of it. Where ever it touches an inflamed surface, it heals and soothes it. Nothing ever compounded for cough is so harmless and nothing so efficacious. Adams' Botanic Balsam is an old remedy and it has never lost a friend through failure to help. Keep it in the house. Try it on your own cough and do your child a good turn by being ready on any emergency. Price 50c. at any druggist's.

Chatterton (wearily)—Great Scott, no I'm too bored!

Cholera morbus, cramps and kindred complaints make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, green fruit, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are distressed from eating these tempting fruits, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

He's a grandfather and yet he's going to marry that young Miss Kittie Skittish.
Yes. He's old enough not to know any better.

Biliousness Buries Life. The bilious man is never a companionable man because his almost constant morose and gloomy. The complaint is not so dangerous as it is disagreeable. Yet no one need suffer from it who can procure Parmentier's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the liver and obviating the effects of bile in the stomach they restore men to cheerfulness and full vigor of action.

The milkman's cart tipped over and spilled 40 quarts of milk.
Oh, no; only 20.
He told me 40.
But he wasn't allowing for the water you know.

Useful at All Times.—In winter or in summer Parmentier's Vegetable Pills will cope with and overcome any irregularities of the digestive organs, which change of diet, change of residence, or variation of temperature may bring about. They should be always kept at hand, and once their beneficial action becomes known, no one will be without them. There is nothing nauseating in their structure, and the most delicate can use them confidently.

The woman who bosses other women always likes to pose as a martyr to their stupidity.

Death Comes to All.—But it need not come prematurely if proper precautions are taken. 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure,' and to have prevention at hand and allow a disease to work its will is wickedness. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil not only allays pain when applied externally, but will prevent long troubles resulting from colds and coughs. Try it and be convinced.

Weak Back and Spinal Pains

Pains in the back number their victims in thousands. Only very powerful and penetrating remedies will reach these distressing complaints, but Polson's Nervine is a sure to cure them as anything in this world can be sure. Rub Nervine over the sore parts night and morning, and see how quickly it drives out the pain. Five times stronger than any other. Good for internal and external use. Large bottles 25c.

'I have,' said Mr. Kitten, 'that there's a fellow working on an invention which will make it utterly impossible to mix salt and water. What will happen to you fellows if he succeeds? Nothing,' replied the candid milkman, 'so long as he doesn't prevent us from mixing chalk and water.'

Perfectly Written to Weep.

Generally a photographer finds it easier to arrange a 'couché effect' than to make a human being weep at home in it, but there are exceptions to the rule. A man came in the other day,' says an artist, who relates the experience in Stray Stories, and busied himself in looking over samples until I asked, 'Did you wish a sitting?'

'I don't see anything like what I want,' he replied.

'I told him that if he would indicate what he wanted I might arrange it.

'I don't know as you can,' he said, 'for I don't see anything at all like what I want. You see, it's like this,' he explained. 'I had a girl that I loved, and we were going to be married. She had her things made up, and we were all but ready, when she was taken ill and died. And what I wanted was a picture of me sitting on her grave, weeping.'

'I was touched at the homely story of grief, and told him I could send a man with me to the grave, and have the picture taken as he desired.

'It's some distance,' he said. 'It's over in Ireland. I expect it'd cost a lot to send over your traps for what I want.'

'I said it would.

'I thought,' he answered, 'that maybe you could rig up a grave here, in your shop, and I would weep on it, and it would do just as well. It's no trouble for me to weep anywhere.'

For Art's Sake.

Mr. Boughton, the English artist, while sketching in the Alps, was one day in search of a suitable background of dark pines for a picture he had planned. He found at last the precise situation he was seeking, and best of all, says Tit Bits, there happened to be a pretty detail in the figure of an old woman in the foreground.

I asked the old lady, said Mr. Boughton, to remain seated until I had made a sketch of her. She assented, but in a few minutes asked me how long I should be. Only about a quarter of an hour, I answered, reassuringly.

Three minutes or so later she again asked me—this time with manifest anxiety—if I should be much longer.

Oh, not long, I answered. But why do you ask so anxiously?

Oh, it's nothing, she sadly answered, only I'm sitting on an ant hill.

How It Fell.

Yes, said the returned traveller, pointing out the place on the map. It was right here that I slipped off the mountain, and it was right here that I stopped sliding.

Man alive! we exclaimed. You pointed at Switzerland first, and then indicated Greece as your stopping point!

Well, he answered, I felt as if there was only a grease spot left when I lit.

And when we explained our provocation to the judge, he made the man pay the fine that had been assessed against us for striking him.
