The unnecessary exposure of the mail bags to the rain is not the only misconduct people have to complain of. Newspapers are daily placed in the wrong boxes. Newspapers have been returned from this office for every other newspaper office in the city, and hardly a day passes without one or two of our favorite exchanges being given to some one who never returns them. box at any hour of the day. We have, time and again, pointed to the idiotic postal arrangements with the States, and called on the Postmaster General to display a little energetic common sense in amending them. If the necessary brain power is not his, or if the labor is too great, he might authorize a clerk in his department to go to Washington and do the work. We have been waiting for the new Postmaster General to do something, but he appears to be as negligent as his predecessor.

In reverting to the successful career of Your Excellency while filling high positions in the Imperial service, and to the high and well merited distinctions conferred on Your Excellency by the hands of Our Gracious Sovereign, we find abundant reason for hoping that when it may be the Gracious pleasure of Her Maintenance of New Goods—

General Half-Holiday Wanted in Honor of the Governor General.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

SIR: I read in this morning's Telegraph programme for the Regata in honor of the Governor General I have no doubt he and his amiable lady, will be much denor General to believe, that they only are loyal people—and that they alone wish to honor and welcome their Excellencies while us poor, common, and uninfluential, citizens, are supposed to be disloyal, and have no desire to see their Excellencies or look on what is deemed good for their enjoyment. Our Common Council disgracing themselves, is no reason why a public holiday or half holiday, (say, from 11 a. m.,) should not be made by the Mayor, in order that those who have no opportunity unless this is done, to take part in the public welcoming loyally our beloved Queen's representative. Our Mayor can enjoy himself, and I know he also likes to see the citizens enjoy themselves, and why he has overlooked us I am at a loss to understand. I do trust our Mayor will stand by the people who stood by him so nobly at last election, and proclaim a half holiday at least, in order that the masses may do honor to the Governor General and Lady as well as the select few.
