

We have been blessed with a revival during the year, and note with joy, among those converted, many of the children and young people of the church. Some, alas, we fear, have passed unheeded the Saviour's call, "Give me thine heart." We trust the coming year will witness their conversion. We feel that the year upon which we are entering ought to be better than the last. As your pastors, we have not realized all the success hoped for. Shall we not as a church re-consecrate ourselves, and vow increased fidelity to God and the church. Then shall the prophecy of olden time be fulfilled,—“Thy light shall break forth as the morning, and thy health shall spring forth speedily; and thy righteousness shall go before thee; and the glory of the Lord shall be thy reward.” Strengthened by the thought of your confidence and co-operation, we turn to the future with larger hope and firmer faith.
