The Financial Statement of the College Hill Social Club become available. The everything but a bed of club in 1976 had an operating loss of $11,432, on sales of $16,252 in 1976 compared with a profit of $16,252 in 1975. This means a difference of $21,000.

A small portion attributed to inflation and maintenance and service major problem lies in the sales. This could be a revenue inventory control problem. The Club experienced during the year.

The figures show that has to get its business control. The measures introduced in early December show The Club's manager, John open to any comments suggestions. His office is behind the information desk.
