

Herb's NHL Puck-Ups

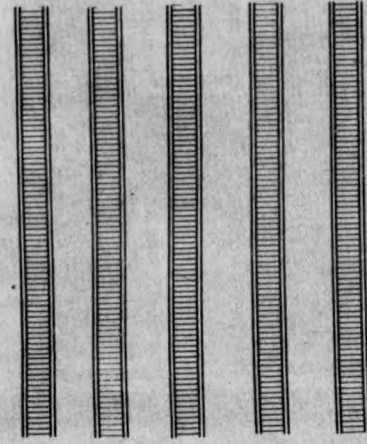

By Herb Barton

Normally, the Leafs make good copy because Ballard is always stirring things up. Recently things have been awfully quiet in Leafdom but that's changed with Dave 'Cementhead' Semeko's decision to quit. A player with only pugilistic abilities to offer his team should be happy he's still playing at this level, not quitting because of lack of icetime. I guess playing on Stanley Cup winners have spoiled him. The rest of the Leafs don't know that feeling.

Speaking of the Leafs, they have a shakey two point lead over Minnesota for the last play-off spot in the division. With only 6 games to go, that may be enough to hold off the inept North Stars.

Mario Lemieux has wrapped up the scoring title unless he gets injured. Gretzky is 15 points behind and only has 6 games to play. This is too big of a gap for even the "Great One" to make up. Gretzky has won the scoring title since 1979-80. That year Marcel Dionne won it despite being tied for points with Gretzky.

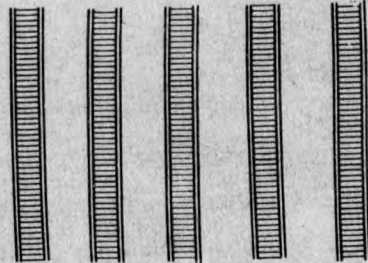

Are the Canadiens ever gonna lose? Of course they are. They're just waiting for the play-offs where it means something. In a showdown with Calgary they tied them 3-3. Then they beat the Nordiques 4-1. Not a bad week, seeing the Flames have the most talent in the league right now and many people are predicting a Stanley Cup for them. Also the Nordiques always play them tough. A Canadiens-Nordiques series in the first round would be very exciting to see. A series between these two promises lots of fisticuffs. After all, they hate each other. The Detroit Red Wings have had a great season. To put it in perspective, they have more points this season than they've had since 1969-70. That year they had 95 points and were led by names such as Howe, Delvecchio, and Mahovlich.

The Red Wings only made the play-offs twice in the interim. One of those years being last year. It's good to see a franchise that once had a proud history turn things around.

Andy Moog recorded his 1st shutout as a Bruin the other night. That's one more shutout than last year's Vezina Trophy winner Ron Hextall has recorded in a whole season. Maybe Moog is trying to prove something to the hockey world.

Still with the Bruins, the Olympians have played well since they arrived. U.S. Olympian Chris Janney and Canadian Olympian Bob Joyce each have 10 points in 10 games.

The most recent player of the week was Mike Bullard of the Calgary Flames. He now has 97 points, his best season in the N.H.L. He has thrived this year playing with rookie sensation Joe Niewendyk and veteran Hakan Loob. Loob also has 97 points along with 47 goals. Of course, Niewendyk is hoping to break Mike Bossy's rookie goal scoring record of 53. Two more goals would give him a tie.

Remember Al Hill? Most people don't because he had a great start to his N.H.L. career and quickly bottomed out. In the mid-70's he played his 1st N.H.L. game for the Philadelphia Flyers and scored 5 points. Soon he was sent back to the minors. Occasionally he was called up but could never stick. Recently, the Flyers called Hill up again and he scored his 1st N.H.L. goal in 5 years. Talk about perseverance! That's all for this week.

From the Litterbox

Dr. Everett Chalmers Hospital
Thursday 4:30 PM

A University student was admitted with severe lacerations to the face and neck. The patient is in stable condition and is expected to recover well with no noticeable scars.

Fredericton Police Station
Time: 2:00 pm Thursday, March 24

No charges were laid on a University student after he was involved in a knifing incident at the offices of The Brunswickan. The authorities feel that there was no criminal intent and that the injuries sustained to another student were misfortunate. The incident is being considered an accident.

Editor's Log Brunnsdate 126.42

"No! No! No! We are not going to put these pages sideways! Have you gone mad?!" screamed a nerve-shattered co-sports editor. "But Eric, it would look real neat!" said Marks. "I've always wanted to be a solo-editor," said Eric. Marks seemed nervous. His hand started to twitch continuously faster, a result of the interrogation from the Belizian Secret Police. Eric moved closer and closer, rolling his head back and forth, gripping two cut-knives in his hands. Marks moved backwards, bumping into the light-tables. Oh no! He's cornered, there's Allan. Marks is in for it now. The skin. The blood.

The horror. The horror.

This is not blood !!

MOOSEHEAD INTRAMURAL REPORT

Masters Swim Meet

Saturday, March 26, 1988

Noon to 6 p.m.

Teams from UNB, YM/YWCA, and Oromocto will be competing. Admittance is free and everyone is encouraged to come out and cheer.

Men's Intramural Volleyball

The Men's Intramural Volleyball finals were held on Sunday, March 19, 1988. There were nine teams in the league with the "Cousa" finishing in first with 24 points, the "Untouchables" second with 20 points, the "Desperados" third with 18 points and "Geological Engineering" with 16 points.

In the semi-finals the "Cousa" and "Desperados" were victors with the "Cousa" coming in first in the finals winning two close games over the "Desperados" with both scores being 15 to 13. The members of the "Cousa" are: Chris Yong, Naim Bakash, Donald Belliveau, Bryan Gauthier, Peter Schreiber, Steve Bonham, Mark Paffrath, Scott Houghton, Scott Clements, and Sandy Lane. Congratulations to the "Cousa" and to all the teams who took part in the league.

Co-Ed Volleyball League

The finals were held on Wednesday, March 16th for the intramural co-ed volleyball league. There were eleven teams divided into two divisions. The top two teams from each division played in the play-offs. The "Law Lords" played "Tibbits/Harrison" and the "Carleton County Clubbers" won two games to one over "Tibbits/Harrison". The members of the "Carleton County Clubbers" are: Tony Hawkes, Mike MacIntosh, Donna Hargrove, Theresa Brown, Andy Shaw, Heather McGann, and Kathy Kilfoil.

1988/89 Positions Available

The Physical Recreation and Intramural Program is accepting applications for the following positions for 1988/89:

Sports coordinators, referees-in-chief, officials, lifeguards, supervisors. Instructors in fitness, aquatics, weight training, racquet sports, etc.

Interested individuals should apply at the Recreation Office, Room A121, L.B. Gym. For further information contact Shirley Cleave (Rec. Dir.) or Jeff Burkard (Aquatics) at 453-4579.

Co-Ed Volleyball

The Amino Acids were the victors of the Co-ed Volleyball Tournament held in the Main Gym on Saturday, March 12. There were six teams involved in the Round Robin tournament: Amino Acids, Hungovers, Freddy Beach

Bums, MacKenzie, Tibbits, and the Rum Runners.

After the completion of the round robin schedule Tibbits was in the lead, Hungovers were second, Amino Acids were third, and MacKenzie was fourth. The Amino Acids became the victor beating Tibbits two games to one with scores of 15-6 and 15-11. The members of the Amino Acids include: Pat Hallihan, Drew Colpitts, Terry Todoschuk, Darren Hallihan, Christine Hallihan, Lisa Paleran, Julie Campbell, and Kim Henderson. Congratulations to the Amino Acids and to all the teams who participated making this a successful tournament.

WANTED
are looking mer and forming fall term.
have a p
intereste
Minds, T between Gregory
455-700
WANTED
blonde f various ested ca

New
for f
.220
li Refer Fo

P.S. No WANT (size 4
1/2 or 9
WANT time du ing and 1 or it
Please ask for WAN
Easter
March
April
WAN Montr willing drivin
Room
as soo
THE would event
Come

ATT OWN
lems
Fast LOS lowis
case offer
Rob LOS
type Don
6 pm