

- seqq.*; modern protective tariffs, 393, 394.
 Proudhon, 376.
 Prussia, ministers, 196; method of voting in, 21; local government in, 315.
 Quebec Act, 271.
 Radicalism, see et seqq.
 Railroad Legislation, 394 et seqq.; rates, 399, 400; commissions, 402.
 Recall, 180 et seqq.
 Referendum, 174 et seqq.
 Reform Bill, 183, 223; Act of 1832, 22.
 Reichstag, parties in, 37.
 Representation of the People Act, 223.
 Representative colonies, 279.
 Republicans, 339, 340.
 Responsible government, distinguished, 118; in British colonies, 273.
 Revolution, American, 268 et seqq.
 Ricardo, D., 364.
 "Rights of Man," 74, 163.
 Ritchie, D. G., on sovereignty, 64, 68.
 Rogers, Sir F., on colonial policy, 273.
 Rousseau, J. J., 27, 73; classification of states, 116.
 Salisbury, Lord, on international law, 100.
 Schäffle, A., on organic theory, 82 et seqq.; criticism of organic theory, 86, 87.
 School district, England, 309, 310.
 Secretary of State, U. S., 199.
 Seeley, J. R., 7.
 Separation of powers, influence in America, 145; in Massachusetts constitution, 145; in federal Constitution of U. S., 146; influence in France, 147; adopted by Constituent Assembly, 147; in French constitution of 1795, 147; in existing governments, 148; analyzed by Bagehot, 148; absent in French government, 149; absent in Italian government, 149; criticism of, 151; procedure, 155.
 Self-government, granted to British colonies, 272, 279; local, 309.
 Senate, Canada, 166; Italy, 166; Cuba, 167; Brazil, 167; French, 168; powers of U. S., 170; powers of Canadian, 171; relation to cabinet in France, 195.
 Smith, Adam, 364.
 Smith, Goldwin, on direct legislation, 176; on U. S. Constitution, 241.
 Social contract, 22 et seqq.
 Social Democrats, v. Socialism.
 Socialism, 371 et seqq.; programme of, 375; in Germany, 378 et seqq.; France, 382; England, 382, 383; U. S., 383.
 Socialist party in Prussia, 231.
 Society, distinguished from state, government, and nation, 16 et seqq.
 South Africa, 281, 282.
 Sovereignty, 52 et seqq.; location of, 56 et seqq.; in British Empire, 56, 57; in U. S., 57, 58; in France, 58; political, 63; dual or divided, 69; in federal government, 240.
 Spain, colonial system, of, 262, 263.
 Sparta, kings of, 183.
 Spencer, H., origin of government, 36; an organic theory, 82 et seqq.; on scope of government, 366; criticism of organic theory, 86, 87.
 Spoils System, 203.
 State, analysis of, 12, 13; definition of, 15; distinguished from society, government, and nation, 16 et seqq.; ideal, 20; origin of, 22; of nature,