THE "HIGHROADS" SCHOOL DICTIONARY

Ostensible Origon giant], a constellation marked by a | Or'thoepy (or'tho-e-py), n. [Gk. orthos, right; and epos, a word], right pronunquadrangle of four bright stars, with three central ones, at equal distances, ciation. Orthog'raphy, n. IGk. orthos, right; and in a straight line, called Orion's belt. ord F Leap], a lower deck of a vessel on | Orthop tera, n. [Gk. orthos, straight; pteron, a wingl, insects with which the cables are coiled. nt wings, folding like a fan, Ormolu' (-loo'), n. [Fr., from L. aurum, neath wing-covers. - adj., Orgold; and molere, to grindl, brass made terous. to look like gold by having more copper an, n. [Fr., from L. hortolänus: and less zine in its composition. gardenl, a kind of bunting Or nament, n. [L. ornan in Britain. to adorn], that l'il-lat), v. [L. oscillare, to which adds gu swing backwards and forput on ornam wag like a pendulum; to limits.—n., Oscilla'tion, adj., Orp -n., 0 tory ke a pendulum. menting kiss], to ornamen __adj., finished. n., Os-Ornithol'o y, perand logos, dis of curves. treats of the natur r.], the water--n., Ornithol'ogt making baskets; Orog'raphy and Q wigs or osiers. a mountain; g osmě, a smell, a xide of which has a description of mor Orograph'ical, (mar) tains, etc. [corruption of Or'phan, n. [Gk. orphanos, bere PAGES at feeds on fish. child that has lost one or both e.—n., Os'sicle, a -adj., bereft of parents .- n., O age, state of being an orpha v., Os'sify, to grow or for sheltering orphans. n., Ossifica'tion, phaned. Orphe'an (or-fe'an or or'fe-an), adj., per-Os'sifrage, n. [L. ossifragus, bone-breaking], the sea-eagle. taining to the musician Orpheus. Or'piment, n. [Fr., from L. aurum, Ossiv'orous, adj. [L. os, a bone; and gold; and pigmentum, paintl, a yellow vorare, to devourl, eating or living on substance used in paint. Or pin, n, a deep yellow colour; (also Orpine) a plant with golden flowers. bones Osten'sible, adj. [L. ostensus, ostendère, to showl, that may be shown; plaus-Or'rery, n. [the Earl of Orrery], an ible; not real; put forward to draw attention.—n., Osten'sibility.—adj., Osten'sive, showing; exhibiting.—n., apparatus for showing the sizes, motions, etc., of the sun and the planets. Or'thodox, adj. [Gk. orthos, right; and Ostenta'tion, great display; an undoxa, an opinion), holding a right necessary showing off .- adj., belief; believing as the Church believes. ta'tious (-shus), fond of making dis--n., Or'thodoxy, right belief; soundplay; intended for display. -adv., Ostenta thously. ness of faith. Opposed to Heterodox,

THOMAS NELSON & SONS, 95 King St. East, TORONTO