The Bad Spot
An Irishman one day was told to put up a signboard on which were the words: "To Motorists—This Hill is Dangerous."

Away went Mike with the signboard and placed it at the bottom of a very steep hill. A few days later his employer went to see how the board was put up and, finding it at the bottom of the hill, sought and found Mike.
"You haven't got it?" he cried. "What did you put that sign in the right place?"
"Shure and that it?" asked Mike.
"Don't all the accidents happen at the bottom?" Harrow's Weekly.

Crises Expel It Harduppe—Say, old fellow, lead me hundred, will you? Riggs—A hundred what? Harduppe—A hundred dollars.
Riggs—Oh, stop your joking.
Harduppe—(earnestly)—Joking? I was never more serious in my life. I'm broke. Riggs—My dear man, you're not broke; you're cracked!—Catholic Standard and Times.

What He Needed
A sovereign would tempt many men when Philkins, making a few pecunies at the stores, saw one lying on the floor just by the counter he quitted with excitement.
"You haven't got it?" he cried. "What
did you put that sign in the right place?"
"Shure and that it?" asked Mike.
"Don't all the accidents happen at the bottom?" Harrow's Weekly.

Good morning, sir, said the man rubbing his hands together in the approved style, "and may I show you a bottle of our celebrated liquid gold which sticks?"

six years, with my heart and shortness of breath. I could not walk eighty rods without resting four or five times in that short distance. I got so weak and thin that I weighed seventy-three pounds. I decided at last to take some of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking eight boxes I gained in strength and weight, and now weigh one hundred and thirteen pounds, the most I ever weighed in my life. I feel well and can work as well as ever. I did not expect to thank Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for it all."
