to r, with a double set of keeds throughout. Extra finished. 150 00 F to C, 175 00 To whick will be added the Colonial duty only. This beautiful Musical Instrument, the Melodian, is now so well known, that we deem it unnecessary to give a lengthy description of it. We will only state that it is played upon the same as the Piano Forte, the key-beard, being precisely similar. Any one who plays upon the Piano, will be able to per-form apon the Melodeon at once. It will be seen that there are two pedals attached; one of these, that to the right, is used to supply the bellows with wind, and the other governs the swell; by means of this latter, a most beautiful creasendo and diminuendo may be produced. We respectfully invite attached; one of these, them will, paying attention, among other things, to the following points, viz: 1st. — Their seperior yuality of fone. 2d. — Their great power of fone. 3d.— Their perfect equality of tone. 4th.—Their prompt and ecca. action. 5th.—Their beautiful rescei-lent turae. 8th.—Their theautiful rescei-lent turae. 8th.—Their cheapness. Mason § Hamlin have great facilities in the manufacture of these lastraments. Mr. Hamlin humself has probably had more actual practical experience in the business, than any ether man, having bean constantly engaged in it from the time they were first introduced;—for Instruments. Mr. Hamlin humself has probably had more actual practical experience in the business, than any other man, having been constantly engaged in it from the time they were first introduced;-for more than six years he has had the entire super-intendence of the time it are and mechanical departments of the most extensive Melodeon manufactory in the United States. They have engaged the very best of mechanics in the different departments of manu-facture; those who have had long experience, many of them having worked at similar instruments from the time of their invention. From Foicers and There country. The voicing and taning of the Melodeon is the most difficult part in its manufacture. On this depends minily, the quelity and quantity of their first great circlinal principle, that every instru-ment be as perfect in all respects as possible, and each one, before leaving the manufactory, undergoes a close examination from both of the partners; and none are allowed to go forth, in which the slightest defect, either in the case, or in the interior of the instrument, can be detected. By adhering strictly to this principle, they trust to secure the confidence and arrang box, and fully warranted. "The following quantoms in regard to the "Model Melodeons," from dustinguished musicians, we select in publication. [From Lowell Mason.]

any others with which I am acquanted. LOWELL MASON. New York, July 1, 1854. [From William B. Bradbury] Mzsens. Mason & HAMLIN, Gents.—I heard with pleasure of your com-mencing the manufacture of Moledeons, feeling as-sured that you would be able from your practical skill, ample facilities, and poculiar advantage, to effect important improvements in the construction of these Instruments. Having now had an opportunity of examining a number of your Instruments, I am by on means disappointed in the result. You are certainly producing Melodeons, which, in all desirable cha-racteristics are, so far as I can perceive, faultess. An Instrument possessing so many beauties, is admi-

Live.-Change is the constant feature of society. The world is like a magic-lantern, or the shifting scenes of a panto-mine. Ten years convert the population of schools into men and women, the young into fathers and matrons, make and mar fortunes, and bury the last generation but one. Twenty years convert infants into lovers and fathers and mothers, render youth the operative generations, decide men's fortunes and distinctions, convert active men into crawling drivellers, and bury all preceding generations. Thirty To be Solid by Ancien at Wheatley River to Tuesday the 14th August next, at 11 o'clock, on the Premises, that excellent stand for business; the property of Mr. Benjrmin Hughes, containing 12 acres of Deasehold Land, together with the Dwelling House, Blacksmith's Shop and other out buildings. tion, or reduce them to decreptude and imbecility. Forty years, alas! change the face of all society. Infants are growing old, the bloom of youth and beauty has passed away, two active generations have been swept away from the stage of life, names so cherished are forgotten, and unsuspected candidates for fame have started from the exhaustless womb of nature. Fifty years—why should any desire to re-tain affections from maturity for fifty years? It is to behold a world of which you know nothing, and to which you are unknown. It is to weep for generations long since passed—for lovers, for parents, for children, for friends in the grave. It is to see everything turned upside down by the fickle hand of fortune and the absolute despotism of time. It is, in a word, to behold the vanity of life in all the vanities of display.
