TO-DAY'S MESSAGES

ONE HUNDRED AND TWO MISSING.

BREST, France, May 23. The British Vice Consul here today announced that 102 of those on board the British steamer Egypt, sunk off the Island of Ushant, Saturday night, are missing, of whom sixteen were passengers and eighty-six were the crew. Twenty-eight passengers were saved together with 204 members of the crew.

ROUND THE GLOBE BY AIR.

LONDON, May 23. Two British aviators who plan to start on a round the world airplane flight, Wednesday, will begin their flight from Croydon flying field. The aviators are Major W. T. Blane and Captain Norman McMillan, and expect to complete the flight in two months. Their route lies through France, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Mesopotamia, India, Eastern China, Japan, and thence via the Aleutian Islands to Alaska, through United States to New York, thence to Newfoundland and across the Atlantic via Greenland and Iceland to Scotland. This record making trip was first visualized by Sir Ross Smith and Sir Keith Smith of Australia, but the latter abandoned his plans when his brother was killed in a preparatory flight.

ULSTER'S OBLIGATION.

BELFAST, May 23. The Ulster Government is taking immediate stringent steps to suppress in Northern Ireland the Irish Republican Army, Irish Republican Brotherhood, Irish Volunteers, Sinn Féin Girl Guides and Boy Scouts. The members of these organizations are liable to arrest and prosecution.

A BIG ROUND UP.

BELFAST, May 23. It is reported that two hundred officers of the Irish Republican Army were arrested by the Ulster authorities early this morning in a general roundup, which covered the entire six counties. The big endorser movement was commenced about four o'clock, and the work of visiting the various houses in the town and country was rapidly and efficiently carried out. Several hundred men of the constabulary and a large staff of officers were on duty from midnight completing the arrangements. The majority of those wanted were completely surprised, and in nearly every instance aroused from their sleep by the police, demanding admission. In Belfast fifty-two were arrested, but those did not include any well known party leaders, while the Falls Road section with its big Republican population was entirely unrepresented. Absence of the Republicans from their homes is ascribed to the anticipation of reprisals for assassination of W. J. Twaddell, Member of the Ulster Parliament.

Passengers leaving by the 8.45 a.m. express to-morrow will connect with the s.s. Glencoe for South West Coast and s.s. Argyle for Lamaline route.—may23,11

Watch the Hands.

Without having any skill as a fortune-teller or believing in palmistry, you can often discover quite a lot about the people you meet by casually observing their hands.
For instance, a short, broad palm belongs to a person with plenty of practical ability, one who will not let his or her feelings run away with common sense. On the other hand, a palm which is narrow shows a dreamy and impractical temperament.
Slender, tapering fingers are commonly taken as an indication of musical ability. But as a matter of fact what they show is musical or artistic feeling, often not allied to executive talent. The hands of professional musicians with high technical skill are nearly always short.
People who have difficulty in fitting rings because their joints are large and knobby always possess a love of arguing.
Fingers which are square-tipped belong to patient and sensible people, and nearly always augur success.
A palm hard and firm to the touch shows that its owner is hard-working, and can be content with simplicity.
The soft, yielding little hand is possessed by the luxurious little person who loves ease and comfort, and who is not inclined to over-exert herself.
Question and answer.
He—"May I hold your Palm Olive?"
She—"Not on your Life Buoy."
