

House of Assembly

I have no desire to re-what happened after the passing the contract, as perhaps it would be fair because the man chiefly responsible is not now in the House.
The governor said to me in answer to a question when I was talking to him in Montreal, the clause in the contract relating to the smelter was not in the original, but was put in because of the day, who was a big man in the Government, had appeared given the idea to the Besco company that, if this thing was not done then there was the danger of a tax being put on. I said that was absurd and ridiculous because the Besco company was in session it was able to withdraw the clause.
I said we could not withdraw that clause regarding the smelter as that was thrown in as a camouflage and was the Government of the day, and those who were negotiating wanted something nice on paper.
There was no intention to put the smelter, and he said himself the reason why Besco did not do it was because it was in five years not being put up in five years the tax would begin to operate; but from the moment the tax was put in force, not only was a cent paid under the contract, but in this country shows steps were taken to have this removed. Now the present Government does not want to talk fireworks, but without making any suggestions as to the future this Government will try and see that some arrangement is arrived at.
The contract and that Act as it is in the Statute Book is an imposition and a fraud and a joke on the people.
I never intended to get it carried and it cannot be carried out and it is impossible to bring it down from the electric smelting plant that was never intended to be put up to. I therefore must submit to the sentiments expressed by others on the other side of the House that we try and get a new contract drawn up and stop this annual lockout and this annual farce.
There is one thing, though, in this contract, and that is that one cannot say and idly say that this must be done and that must be done. The hard position is that those people on Bell Island are like a crowd of men. They are over there today for less wages than they were to get and they are working for less wages than shovelers for less wages than shovelers to get. But, God help them, they've got to work under these conditions because there is no place for them to go now, and, if, as I said, Mr. Wolvin, there was some one else for them to go there would be a loss to Bell Island shovelling that one must not lose sight of the other side of the story. We do not want Bell Island mines closed if they are kept open, because the day they are closed a hardship will befall upon our people. We keep them going and accept the position for what they are.
For these reasons I entirely agree with the idea that there should be a new agreement and a new inquiry into Besco affairs.
Question taken to-day by the House and workmen generally in the fact that they refuse to have any inquiry, except an inquiry on our position here is somewhat the nature of such an inquiry would be advantageous to Sydney and Newfoundland today the position is that of Besco produce their statement and their overcharges and expenses showing every time they shipped ore last year they lost money on it. We do not know whether this statement is true or not, and we have no means of knowing. Of course, it must be in mind that this ore mined on Bell Island goes in competition with ores from countries that have more modern methods and modern fridges of machinery. At present day the ore is mined for the purpose of mixing to a proportion of three to one. There are at present time a couple of hundred tons of ore piled at Bell Island and the only hope is by mining the ore to raise the quality.
The Prime Minister moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House rose until 3 p.m. Monday.

town, and was in his sixty ninth year.
Deceased had been living in St. John's for years, working at Reid's plant as best temper of steel in the country.

He resided in England for some years, going there from Labrador and returning on one of our sealing steamers. Mr. Stowe was unmarried, and is survived by his brother, Richard, of St. John's. The body was brought here from the city on Saturday, and the funeral took place from the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Eli Dawe, on Sunday, to the Methodist Church. Rev.

Some cases of scarlet fever have been reported in town recently, and on Monday last, Mary, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moriarty, succumbed to the malady, after being ill for a short while. Interment was made in the R. C. Cemetery. The deepest sympathy of the community goes out to the parents and family in the sad loss of their little girl.

A number of our amateur players are now preparing for the presentation of the usual St. Patrick night's play. Our popular Postmaster, Mr. W.
H. Kennedy is directing the play, and it is entitled, "Paddy Casey." It would be wise to keep the date open, for St.
Patrick night's play is sure to be a good one.

Mr. Wesley J. Parsons, manager of the Harbor Grace Boot and Shoe Mfg.
Co., Ltd., who was on a brief visit to the U.S.A., in the interest of his business, returned again on Tuesday week, having had a successful trip.

Mrs. (Rev.) A. B. S. Sterling, of St.
John's, who had been visiting friends at Bay Roberts, came here recently on a visit to her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Cron.

An Ave Maria, composed by Mrs. M.
T. Jones of this town, was sung at the Roman Catholic Cathedral at St.

John's on Sunday week. It has already been performed in the United States, where it met with most favourable comment. Mrs. Jones' musical talent and ability is well known here, and we join with her many friends in extending congratulations on her success as a composer.
