WEEKLY REVIEW.

The grain trade has been fairly active this week, with a steady demand for both wheat and oats for milling and storage account. Values of these two have changed a little since a week ago, wheat favoring buyers, and oats the sellers.

The range in oats was 70c to 75c, with the majority going at 72c.
Wheat opened at $1 08 and closed at $1 %, influenced by foreign markets and improved conditions in the Northwest. Very little business was done in any other kinds of grain. The supply and the demand were both limited.

Feed peas sold at 80c to 82c, and good ones at 90c. Barley of the same grade sold at 70c. Rye sold at 70c to 80c.

Several lots of beans were marketed. and ranged in value from 75c to $1, according to the quality.

hogs were both Dressed and live hogs were both lower, selling at $7.75 to $8.25 for the former, and $5 50 to $5 60 for the latter. Hay brought $750 to $8 during the first few days of the week, and $8 to $8 50 the remainder, Light supply was the cause of the advance. Young pigs sold at $4 50 to $6 a pair, according to kind and size.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.-Trade was dull at the cattle market today. Receipts were fairly large. Wet weather seemed to have a depressing effect, and ed to have a depressing effect, and very little activity was manifested in any line. The only feature of importance was a drop of 15c to 50c per cwt in the price of lambs. The receipts were 45 loads, including 700 cattle, 2,000 sheep, and lambs, 20 calves and 400 sheep and lambs, 20 calves and 400 Export cattle-There is very hogs. little life in the export trade, and the inquiry for this class of stock is limited; the samples offered for sale usually fell short of the standard reand cows better desired are short-keep feeders; one load of exporters sold at $450 per cwt, and this was the only transaction reported. Butchers' cattle-Trade is very poor and prices are weak; the supply is rather indifferent, owing to the unfavorable weather, and buyers do not wish to load themselves up with in-ferior cattle; there are a great many of the latter class being offered still, and they are practically a drug on the market; picked lots bring $4 35 to $4 55 per cwt; and choice sell well at $4 to $4 30; good range from $3 25 to $4; medium from $2.75 to $3.25, and common from $2.25 to $2.75. Feeders were in good demand and firmer, at $3 to $3 40 per cwt for light, and $350 to $4 for heavy; the receipts were not large, and the stock sold well; short-keep were quiet. Feeding bulls were steady. at $250 to $325; two fine beasts sold at the latter figure, and more could have been handled at the price. Stockers were plentiful, and the call for them was not at all brisk; dealers seem to be able to get all the stockers they want without any trouble, and prices show no firmness; there is an abundance of off-color stock. which has a detrimental influence on the market; light beasts are unchanged at $2 50 to $3 per cwt, and the poor grades are dull at $1 75 to $2 25. Export bulls-The supply today included four of the finest animals that have been seen on the market this year; they weighed 2,050 hbs each, and were in fine condition; needless to say they sold readily at $4 25 per cwt; others changed hands at $3 50 per cwt; trade showed a slight improvement, and all the bulls offered were cleared out; light were a shade firmer, at $3 25 to $3 50 per cwt. The Premier Is In Great Demand.

Wanted to Speak at Many Different Points-A Campaign Lie Nailed-Lively Times in Brockton-The Contest in East Huron.

Special to The Advertiser per C. P. R. Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 24.-An effort is being made to get Sir Wilfrid Laurier to speak in Ottawa, probably in Rideau Rink, before election day. The demand for the premier all over the country is so great that it will be difficult for Sir Wilfrid to find time to comply with wishes of Ottawa people. He will speak at Cornwall on the afternoon of Saturday, the 3rd, and at Alexandria on the same evening. Sir Wilfrid will also make a strong effort to speak in Hamilton for Messrs. Wood and Teetzel.

EAST HURON IS ALL RIGHT. Wingham, Oct. 24.-The election campaign in East Huron is moving along nicely. The candidates, Dr. Macdonald and Mr. E. L. Dickinson, are holding joint meetings in different parts of the riding. Four of these meetings were held last week, and they were largely attended. The Liberals and their friends of the riding are taking a deep interest in the campaign, and are better organized than they have ever been. Liberals who were rather backward in previous campaigns are in the thick of it that time. The Conservatives have flooded the rading with copies of the "bogus Globe," and the rest of their famous campaign literature. The electors of East Huron, in common with all parts of Canada, have enjoyed too much prosperity during the past few years under the Laurier Government to bother very much with Globes and other campaign literature, supplied from Conservative headquarters. East Huron was carved at the time of the Tory gerrymander as a safe miding for them, but since 1887 the popular Liberal standard-bearer, Dr. Macdonald, has carried the riding, and with the splendid help he is getting British Manufacturers Must Wake Up Il They Would Hold South African Trade.

London, Oct. 24.- The recent reports from South Africa that large contracts for railway and mining material had been placed in the United states owing to the lower prices and quicker delivery obtained there than from British manufacturers are causing indignation in a section of the press especially the statement that Major Girouard, military director of railways in South Africa, had placed contracts in America.

Replying to a remonstrance from a private correspondent, Mr. Wyndham, parliamentary secretary of the war office, states that no orders have been placed by Major Girouard in America. He adds that he is confident that the alarm ascribed to British manufacturers lest they do not have an opportunof profiting by the business which will follow the war is unfounded. Cape government and the Witwatersrand companies, however, cannot buy in the most expensive and slowest market, and while anxious to favor industries, the conductors of the latter must be less conservative and turn out their orders cheaper and quicker if they want to keep the South African market.

Benefits to Canada From the Preferential Tariff With Britain.

[The Shareholder, Montreal.] The Liberal party came into power under great disadvantages, in the face of which they have accomplished great things for the Dominion. Under its aegis not only have closer trade relations been established with Great Britain, but a very much stronger interest in Canadian matters generally has been awakened in the hearts of the great British people, who have been brought to feel most vividly that the Dominion of Canada is a much more desirable portion of the British Empire than it was ever hitherto regarded. Nay, more, the occurrences which have taken place during the past four years have immeasurably strengthened the bonds which unite them. These facts of themselves should suffice to lead the electorate of tons country to ponder over the immense possibilities with which such a relationship is pregnant, and to take every precaufrom the electors, the doctor will again be elected on the 7th of November. pregnant, and to take every precaution to avoid recourse to any step which might bring about a miscar-

NO CHANGE WANTED

Even Conservatives Are Satisfied With Things as They Are.

Did you have the blessing of good government in regard to trade and to 1896? "Yes," some Conservatives will say, "surely Canada made some progress." Yes, we do not deny that. You could not take people like the Canadian people, intelligent, bright, progressive people, you could not tie them up even with the Conservative policy and prevent them making some progress. They did make some progress, and the enthusiastic and pushing Conservative party said that this was the progress the country could make. But this was not the judgment of all the Conservatives. I came into Ontario in 1897 with my distinguished friend, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and my able friend. Mr. Paterson, to inquire into the tariff question, and I well remember a conversation I had with a prominent Conservative in your province. I asked him if he was satisfied with the progress Canada made under the Conservative government. He told me frankly he was not, that when he read the census of 1891 and saw how little progress the country had made he began to lose heart and faith and hope in the country, and he said that if he was obliged to look forward to another census like that he would have to take his business from the province and leave this country. I am glad to tell you he did not go away. He is here in Ontario today. He waited for the better times which came, and is today the head of one of the greatest and most prosperous manufacturing industries in Canada. You did not have good government in the sense of peace and harmony; you did not have good government in the sense of reasonable progress in the trade of your country. and the universal cry in 1896 was: is time for a change," and everybody said so. The great Conservatives of Toronto said it was time for a change. You have had four years of Liberal government. What intelligent man says that it is time for a change? (Cheers.) Sir Charles Tupper does; I do not wonder at his saying so, but the great mass of the men of Canada, the business men and the manufacturers of Canada do not say that.

Get them quietly by themselves, and the very man who is going for the sake of old party alliances to vote the Tory ticket as before, will tell you what he desires above everything else is that there will be no change, but a continuation of the progress and prosper-ity of the last four years.—Hon. AN AGED WIDOW SUES WIDOWER

Awarded One Dollar Damages for Breach of Promise of Marriage.

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 23. - Justice Robertson opened the fall assizes here this afternoon. As there was no crimusiness his lordship was presented with a pair of white kid gloves. In addressing the grand jury he said improve our trade with Great Britain. had never worn. He said, however, that the presentation of white gloves to a judge did not necessarily mean that the morals of the people were improving, but merely that the county judges were trying most of the criminal cases. His lordship referred to some of the fine new court houses which had been built in recent years in this province.

The first case tried was Elstone vs. King. Mrs. Elstone, a wealthy widow, of this town, whose age is seventy, sued for breach of promise George King, a gay widower of eighty-four, who owns considerable property in Hickson, this county. Mrs. Elstone told commerce? Did Canada prosper down of the proposal on the stand. Crossexamined, she was asked why she agreed to marry a man of elighty-four. "Because I wanted a husband. Hadn't I as much right to a husband as anyone else?" she retorted. Mrs. Elstone told the court that she noticed there was a coolness on Mr. King's part last May, and she would have released him then if he had asked her, but instead of that he came to her house in Woodstock on Dominion Day and told her their marriage would take place the following week, just as soon as he got back from a visit to his daughter up north. His family, however, got him persuaded the other way, and five days later he came back and on some trivial excuse broke off the engagement.

Mr. King, the aged defendant, denied emphatically that he had ever proposed marriage to Mrs. Elstone. He said that all there ever was in the line of matrimonial talk that he knew of was one time when he was making a friendly call on the widow. She mentioned a lady who had recently made a good match, and he asked her if she would marry if she got the chance of as good a husband.
"Well," Mrs. Elistone replied, "if I got a man who was a Christian, went church twice on Sunday, didn't drink, and was good to me, and was real nice, I don't know but that I might. The judge told the parties they ought to settle, but neither side seemed inclined to, and the case went to the jury. The jurors were only out a few minutes. They awarded Mrs. Elstone $1 damages.
