ORIENTS BEATEN
AT DRUMBO 8 TO 5

Played Six Men Against Seven, and Played Much Better in Second Period Than in First.

The Orient Club, of the City Hockey League, ran a special train to Drumbo last evening and played the Drumbo Intermediates, who withdrew from the O. H. A. about a week ago. The Orient were beaten by the score of 8 to 5 in a hard, fast game. The ice was a trifle sticky, but both teams played fast hockey. The Orient played six men against seven Drumbo men, and the half-time score was 6 to 1 in favor of the Drumbo team. In the second half, the London team braced up and had much the better of the play. Quite a large crowd of spectators witnessed the contest. The Orient club members speak well of the treatment accorded them in Drumbo and state that the Drumbo team is a strong one.

LONDON AT GUELPH
NEXT THURSDAY

Date Has Been Changed From Monday
Owing to London's Open
Date Here Next Friday.

The London intermediates will play the return game in Guelph on Thursday night next. The game was originally scheduled for Monday night, but owing to the fact that the Guelph club could not secure the rink for that night, and the London club has an open date next Friday evening, it was decided to play the contest on Thursday night.

FRESHIES BEAT SOPHS
IN HOCKEY GAME

Seattle Martin Featured With a Bell-Ringing Stunt.

A fast and interesting game of hockey was played last evening in the Simcoe rink between the Freshies and Sophs of the Medical College. Although a heavier and more experienced aggregation, the Sophs were altogether outclassed, especially in skating and stick-handling. The contest resulted in a decisive win for the first-year men, the score being 5 to 1. Sinclair was the most brilliant man on the ice, playing a strenuous and aggressive game.

Referee Beattie Martin rang the bell to the entire satisfaction of both teams. The line-up:

BASKETBALL LEAGUE
WILL START AGAIN

Same Four Teams Will Play in Spring Series.

The executive committee of the Intermediate City Basketball League will meet on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to arrange for a schedule for the spring series. The same teams which comprised the league last fall will be the contestants again.

Indoor Baseball Opens.
The senior indoor baseball league opens at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday with a game between the Meds and the Grays. The second game takes place on Thursday, when the Giants and the Pirates battle for supremacy. Both games are scheduled for 9 p.m.

Monte Cross, former shortstop for the Athletics, and last season a scout for the Browns, is seeking another scouting job, saying he prefers that work to managing a minor league team.

Former Champions
Size Up McCarty

Tom Sharkey does not think much of the boxers of today, at least he cannot take the heavyweights seriously. Commenting on the present crop he says:

"I've seen 'em all, Palmer, McCarty, Willard, Kearns, and the others," said the burly sailor, with a tired expression of his classic features, "and there ain't one o' them worth a silver quarter. Those big guys nowadays don't know how to fight. They just stand up and maul each other, getting the dough as easy as they can. Jeffries may have been a dead one when Johnson beat him, but when he was right—like the time he fought me at Coney Island—nobody could have whipped him. Old Bob Fitzsimmons could have stopped all these 'white hopes' in the same ring, the same night, and the same goes for me. I'd have eaten 'em up in one big gulp."

Sharkey insisted for some years that he was robbed when George Siler gave Jeffries the decision in that Coney Island bout. Tom did give Jeffries about the stiffest argument in his whole career for the first 18 rounds, but after "Jeff" came back they had to carry the sailor away in an ambulance. Now, Sharkey admits that he was beaten, at the same time he offers the above opinion descriptive of the bunch of second raters now laboring for the fight titles.

What Jeffries Thinks.
Ex-Champion Jeffries does not hold a very high opinion of McCarty's scrapping ability. He is quoted as follows:

"There are two negro fighters who can whip Luther McCarty today, Joe Jeanette and Sam Langford. The former is 31 years of age, and Boston Sam acknowledges having passed through 20 seasons, but these huskies can till fight. Langford is a terrific hitter, with a broad knowledge of his business. Jeanette probably is the cleverest heavyweight in the world. Despite their ages they are very well preserved. Without intending to discredit the new white champion of the big fellows, it is a good thing for him that he has drawn the color line. Give him another year, and Luther might do himself justice against the negro assassins, but at present it would mean a quick defeat for him were he to indulge."

DAN M'EWEN HOME

Was Injured at Toronto on Thursday
But Not Seriously.

Dan McEwen, the local driver, returned to his home on Kintz street east yesterday, after being injured in the first race at Dufferin Park. Toronto, on Thursday. Mr. McEwen was driving Star Point, and was just preparing to start when the horse reared and backed up on him throwing him underneath the sulky. The animal stepped on him and one of the sharp calks pierced Mr. McEwen's knee. He was also badly bruised. Although his injuries are not serious he will be kept in the house for a few days resting up.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB
ELECTS OFFICERS

Enthusiastic Meeting of Forest City
Motorcycle Club Held Last Evening
Was Largely Attended.

The Forest City Motorcycle Club held their annual meeting last night in their clubrooms in the Coo Building, and the following is the list of officers elected for 1913: T. J. Maher, president; E. E. Williams, vice-president; G. A. Weniger, secretary; N. H. Booth, treasurer; J. Choquette, captain. It was a very enthusiastic meeting, and the question was finally disposed of that the club join the Canadian Motorcycle Association, which has extended the club an invitation to join. A large number of fine trophies have been donated to the club, and the citizens will witness some real motorcycle races during the coming summer.

Manager Mike Kelley, of Indianapolis, is said to have a hope of landing Beale Becker from the New York Giants. The Cardinals could use Becker, but Manager Huggins might pass him up to aid his friend Kelley.

It doesn't pay to come close in the Central League. Punch Knoll, Billy Gilber and Bill Phillips were all in the pennant fight this past season and all were let out by their respective clubs.

Toronto had something of a string to its permission to Tim Jordan to negotiate a deal for himself. It was that he must leave the club, but in exchange for himself a satisfactory first baseman, Malcolm Douglass, the University of Virginia shortstop, league after a Clark Gilchrist, will it is now said, join the New York Giants. Wilbur Robinson having persuaded him that McGraw is the best man to tie up with.

Red Munson, who managed the pennant-winning team of the Appalachian League last season, is said to be dissatisfied at delay in his club deciding if it wants him next year, and may accept one of several other offers.

The new Carolina League, being an all North State organization, will be known as the Tar Heel circuit. The South Carolina towns, if they form a league of their own, will necessarily be nicknamed the Sand Lapping League.

Patsy Flaherty has finally signed his contract as manager of the Lynn team in the New England league after a delay so long that the club had begun to look for another manager. Patsy will play this season for his team.

Vin Clarke, now wintering in Portsmouth, Va., has made application for a managerial job in the New England League if one is open. Clarke's last appearance in the New England was with the Manchester team in 1908.

St. Joseph has signed Charles McCoy as a pitcher. Two years ago McCoy tried out with St. Joseph as a third baseman. He failed and went back to the brush, took up a new position and is now in a fair way to make good.

The Hartford club of the Eastern Association has signed a player named Hipfl, which is giving the jokers a great chance to work off alleged humor. He may have an arsenal concealed somewhere, thinks one of the jokers. Jake Stahl is letting his father-in-law's banking business get to pot. After returning from his recent hunting trip he is

The Chalmers "Thirty-Six" Is a Medium Priced
Car That Gives Maximum Service

EXPERTS who have ridden in this year's Chalmers "Thirty-six" enthusiastically say that in performance and appearance it is the equal of any car of its size no matter what price is asked for it.

Its silent, long stroke motor, large and luxurious upholstery, wonderful devices for convenience and control, splendid lines and finish are all features that have hitherto been found only on Chalmers cars or those of almost prohibitive purchase price.

This year the Chalmers "Thirty-six" attains its high mark of merit. In every particular it is a superior car. It is the car without a flaw, a car with which the hypercritical cannot find fault.

The Chalmers "Thirty-six" is a car in which you will always take pride. Your wife and daughter will be proud of it. They will never ride in or see a car that they like better. They will never wish for a better car.

Here is a car that has all the advantages of the most expensive automobiles, and none of the drawbacks of the cheaper ones. It has splendid power; four forward speeds—a desirability and a necessity in motoring today; the most perfectly convenient control; luxurious upholstery and a finish that meets every demand of culture and refinement.

Here Are Some of the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" Features

Electric Lights, Chalmers Self-Starter, Turkish Cushions, Long Stroke Motor, Eleven-Inch Upholstery, Demountable Rims, Nickel Trimmings, Increased Wheel Base, New Flush-Sided Bodies, Four Forward Speed Transmission, Speedometer, Big Wheels and Tires, Improved Springs, Dual Ignition System, Chalmers Mohair Top, Rain-Vision Wind Shield, Carburetor Dash Adjustment.

now off for the coast. Evidently Jake is back in baseball up to his eyes, and doesn't care a rap for business any more.

Spokane has signed a catcher hailing from Pennsylvania, and named Fred Morgan. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 200 pounds. President Cohn says that in the "Pennsylvania State League," wherever that is, he batted .388 and stole 19 bases. It has been decided to have the St. Paul players train at Excelsior Springs, Mo., a resort not far from Kansas City. Last year that place was impossible because of snow. It is intended to have Manager Friel establish the camp about March 10.

Billy Burke will be with Montreal of the International League again next year. He finished the season with Montreal, under the management of Brannfield, after having difficulties with the former manager, Billy Lush, who suspended him.

John J. McCloskey has written that he expects to return to the Union Association after the first of the year, buy the Salt Lake franchise and assist in the organization of an eight-club league to include Boise and Pocatello, besides the cities already in the Union Association.

Kid Gleason has had an easy job with the White Sox the past season. All he did was to act as coach, scout, peacemaker, counsellor, disciplinarian, confidant to Manager Callahan and substitute bat boy. Once on the Hilltop he also acted as backstop, stopping a foul with his face.

Though Detroit turned Corridon over to the National League, it has yet to pay for him, according to Kansas City accounts. That $4,000 cash, it seems, is made up partly of players, and Kansas City still has an athlete coming for the infielder who figured in the big inter-league swap.

Al Bridwell's contract with the Boston Braves called for $4,000 a year, and the Chicago Cubs assume it. Bridwell was of little use last year, and Manager Stallings had serious doubts about him coming back. Anyway, he thinks in young Mar-ville he has a shortstop who will fill the bill.

Eddie, Mike and Bill to End Middleweight Dispute

Gibbons recently graduated from the ranks of the welterweights.

McGoorty is a slam-bang, knock-out-with-a-punch fighter. He has beaten the champions of Australia and England, and when middleweights are scarce he takes on light heavies for exercise.

It was McGoorty who tickled Dave Smith, champion of Australia, under the chin with his left hand and then hung a right swing on the Smith jaw, landing the antipodean upon his right knee. When he arose Eddie promptly knocked him out.

Jack Arrison, champion of England, lasted less than two minutes with the north of Ireland person from Oshkosh.

Mike Gibbons, whose 10-round draw with McGoorty has added to the mid-weight fog, is a ring phantom. Jim Corbett says he is the cleverest in the world. He is a master boxer, but like most clever men lacks the snappy punch that ends fights suddenly.

In a 20-round bout Gibbons would outbox any middleweight living—providing he was not knocked out. Usually when boxer meets fighter over a long route the fighter wins, but Gibbons is so infernally clever that he may be the exception.

Papke is different from either Gibbons or McGoorty. He is the biggest man of the three, and the most experienced. He was world's champion at one time, as the result of knocking out the incomparable meteor-like Ketchell.

Papke is champion of France now, because he beat Georges Carpentier in 17 rounds. He did not knock out Carpentier, but made him quit.

Papke has been charged with yellowness, but no man, unless it was Ketchell, ever made him tin-can to any noticeable extent.

The "Keweenaw Thunderbolt" is a boxer of the Jeffries type—whose blows crush rivals by degrees instead of dropping them suddenly. For the fatal count.

McGoorty and Papke should make a rattling good fight. Both are terrific punchers, and about equal boxers. They have pile-driving rights and like to stand up and exchange wallops. At 153 or 160 pounds ringside they should be worth going miles to see, and a meeting between them is inevitable.

Then, Gibbons for the winner. California will doubtless see these engagements. New York's 10-round bouts are not calculated to bring out the best in a fighter, and so important an affair as a championship should not be held over a route shorter than 20 rounds.

It looks like Papke and McGoorty, and then Gibbons with the winner, before the roses bloom again in this country.
