

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.

Mr. Gladstone Re-elected in Midlothian by 700 Majority.

WHICH DEPRESSSES HIS ADMIRERS

Additional Detailed Returns from Tuesday's County Elections.

THE NEW YORK TIMES' REVIEW.

A Programme Laid Down for Lord Salisbury's Guidance - The Narrow Majority Question Settled - Notes of the Campaign.

London, Wednesday, June 13th, 3 p.m. MR. GLADSTONE HAD 700 MAJORITY. Mr. Gladstone has been returned for Midlothian, but by only about 700 majority. At the last election he had no opposition.

NOTES FROM THE LIBERAL STRONGHOLD.

The New York Times' London special says: Of nine results from yesterday's fifty-three pollings returned last night the Liberals only scored a net gain of one. They expected three. It is quite possible that the results learned to-day may show sweeping gains, but it is unfeeling to say Scotland has cast a damper on Liberal expectations. The returns now indicate that the Gladstonians may have about 45 majority in the new House. The results continue to show that the Parliaments are an unimportant minority. The most interesting feature of the Irish elections continues to be the annihilation of Lib.-Unionists. Thus far thirteen men who were elected as Liberals in 1885 and voted against Gladstone in 1886 have been turned out of their seats. Some ascribe the Liberal disappointments in Scotland to the results of the Ulster demonstration; others attribute it to the labor agitation, to the abnormal activity of publicans and brewers, or to the wrong-headedness of the Liberal official organ, the Glasgow Herald. Whichever the cause may be, the Liberal party will have to find its strength in the future in the House of Commons. It is a big fight with the House of Lords.

SALISBURY'S ALLEGED PROGRAMME.

Since Lord Salisbury's return from Windsor, the Carlton Club has appeared to have received information that the Government will remain in office until it is defeated on a party division. Lord Salisbury will meet Parliament with the Queen's Speech, declaring his policy, and inviting to an amendment to the address, the Government will be defeated and the Cabinet will resign. Lord Salisbury thereupon will recommend to the Queen that she send for Mr. Gladstone. Prominent radicals in the National Liberal Club are discussing what Mr. Gladstone ought to do. They favored postponing the Home Rule Bill for a year and to open the session of Parliament with the Liberal and rural reform programme. The reasons for accepting this course are - First, the recognition of the fact that Home Rule will precipitate a dissolution the first year of Parliament; and, second, if Home Rule is postponed the members can rely for two years and the next will give Mr. Gladstone time to perfect the details of the measure. Representations to this effect will be made to Mr. Gladstone, but it is doubtful if he will listen to his colleagues he has never faltered in his intention to expedite home rule and then retire from public life. The radicals will nominate Mr. Labouchere for the Home Office or the Local Government Board. What will be the result of Sir Horace Davey at Stockton, Mr. Rigby, the member for Forfarshire, will certainly be Solicitor-General.

THE NARROW MAJORITY QUESTION.

In view of the discussion going on as to the propriety of ruling by narrow majorities, it is useful to recall a special case which Mr. Gladstone made in the House of Commons in 1882. In the course of the debate on the new clause rules he said: "There is only one sound principle for the government of this House, namely, that the majority shall prevail. In the course of our proceedings there have been founded on this principle in the past, and mark what important consequences to the Empire have resulted therefrom. A majority of five overthrew the Government of Lord Melbourne in 1835; a majority of five overthrew Lord Russell's Government in 1866; a majority of three overthrew the Government of Lord Palmerston in 1841, or at least caused it to dissolve; a majority of one carried the Reform Bill of 1832; a majority of one carried the Act of Union in 1706, the most important, most extensive and most remarkable changes ever achieved by a legislative body." Holding these views, it is evident that Mr. Gladstone will pay scant courtesy to the Conservative arguments on the other side of the question.

Bismarck on a Tour.

Prince Bismarck was visited at Kosenzen yesterday by a deputation of students from the University of Jena. His reply to the address presented him by the deputation indicates an intention on his part to make a tour of German cities. The prospect of Prince Bismarck making a tour of the country causes a sensation in political circles.

The Manitoba School Case.

The Manitoba school case came before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council yesterday. The appeal is from the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of Canada voiding the legislative enactment abolishing separate schools. Mr. Dalson, Mr. McKeay, G. C., and Mr. Joseph Martin, Attorney-General of Manitoba, with the help of Sir Horace Davey, appeared for the appellant. Their opening was unfinished when the committee rose. The argument will probably last two or three days. So far their lordships have expressed no opinion.

STRUCK BY A CYCLONE.

Further Particulars of the Disaster on Lake Peoria - 16 Missing.

Peoria, Ill., July 13. - Up to 2 o'clock this morning nine bodies had been recovered from the wreck of the Frankie Palmer, and search continues. The list of casualties so far is as follows: - Mrs. Frank Fisher and daughter Cora, Mrs. Henry Durdecker, John Ahreides, Miss Corey, Mrs. M. Willis, Maude Fort and two unidentified - one a man and the other a woman. It is believed six more bodies will be found. Capt. Loesch, master of the boat, says a party of about 40 from Peoria went to see Pain's Last Days of Pompeii. After the exhibition was over they pulled out, and when in the middle of the river the storm struck them with great fury. The captain attempted to head the steamer toward the shore, and as he did so a terrific gust of wind struck the craft and keeled it over in 19 feet of water. The scene which followed beggars description. Men and women were thrown into the water, but the larger part of them managed to reach the upper guard and cling there until help reached them. Their cries of distress were heard on shore, and in spite of the heavy wind a number of skiffs went to their rescue. Until the last of the passengers came from Peoria the exact number of deaths could not be told. Samuel Samner, Clerk of Tazewell County, saved his wife by diving down into the cabin of the sunken boat. He brought her up in a hopeless condition, but it is thought she will live. He said the accident was caused by the pilot becoming scared when the storm struck them. Had he kept the steamer headed for the willows on the opposite bank there would have been no danger of its capsizing.

A DEFAULTING TREASURER.

The Old Story of Improper Speculation - A Fund for Poor Soldiers.

Detroit, July 13. - It was developed in a meeting of the City Council last night that Thomas P. Tuft, city treasurer for two terms of two years each, who retired on July 1st, is $21,865.82 short in his accounts. Of this amount $9,105 belongs to the Wayne County Soldiers' Relief Commission, which disburses $15,000 per year to poor soldiers. The commission's cash is handled by the city treasurer. The news of Tuft's shortage, which was sprung through the report made by his successor, and confirmed by the city controller, caused a great sensation, as Tuft has always been considered thoroughly honest. Tuft sank the cash taken in the Tuft Rein Manufacturing Company, an unsuccessful concern, which makes gasoline stoves, heaters, fire-triches, etc. He has turned what property he has left over to his bondsmen. The city is secured by a $200,000 bond signed by thoroughly responsible men.

The claimants had 465 head of cattle on board the State of Georgia, which, running short of fuel, had to put into St. John's Newfoundland, and lost seven days. Owing to the detention the cattle feed gave out, and the animals suffered greatly.

The Idaho Mine Affair.

Boise City, Idaho, July 13. - Federal troops are now moving toward the scene of the trouble in northern Idaho. A despatch purporting to be from V. M. Clement, manager of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine, has been received urging delay in sending troops, but the leading attorneys of the mine owners were that pretended telegrams from Clement are bogus, and to send on the troops. The governor will place Spokane county under martial law as soon as the legal requirements can be completed.

A Rescuer Rescued.

"Cadet" Lane's own story - "My sufferings for about eight years have been very severe. While acting as nurse in a hospital I took typhoid fever, and during an unconscious spell fell out of my bed, injuring my spine and a vital organ. In about two months I tried to walk, but I found I was very weak. Had pain in my back, internal weakness, and dragging down of the injured organ, or as applied indigestion, sleeplessness and loss of appetite. I continued to grow worse in spite of all well-directed efforts. Pain and enlargement ent followed, also a scirrhus and cancerous growth. An operation was performed, with but only partial recovery. Then followed a long period of congestion, and again slight improvement. These conditions were repeated at intervals for years, with slight change in kind. About a year and a half ago I went into rescue work in London, and in the meantime a new complication appeared, viz., "Change of Life," which I am still undergoing. I often prayed to God to restore me to health, that He might use me more than ever in the glorious work of "rescue among the perishing," but I can assure you I felt discouraged often and lost faith in medicine, but kept faith in God. He would yet rescue my body from disease. About two months ago I saw a book entitled "Entire Revolution in Medicine." Being an "experienced nurse," I could understand the theory. I could see it was a new light in science. I obtained some medicine and in a few days was utterly astonished to find I was "better," head better, little or no pain with my "weak spots," organs rapidly gained in strength and tone. I have not taken the medicine two months. Organs all healing and rapid "waste" almost stopped. I am nearly as strong and "tone." I have not taken the medicine through a knowledge of my case to try the New System, with equally good results. I hope my friends in the "Army" and elsewhere will try Histogenetic remedies and be convinced. I will answer inquiries.

THE HOMESTEAD TROUBLE.

A Londoner's Relations Among the Locked-out Men - Sergt. McGuire Talks About the Town.

Sergt. McGuire, of the city police force, has a brother and nephew at Homestead, who are included among the five thousand locked-out steel workers. Another nephew met a horrible death while working about the mill metal at the steel mills only last year. The Sergeant has frequently visited Homestead, and some years ago worked at Port Perry, across the river from Carnegie's works, and is consequently well acquainted with the scene of the great and bloody struggle between capital and labor. Homestead, he described to a reporter, is very much as one might suppose when the fact is stated that the town sprung up all at once, and did not grow up by easy stages after the manner of most towns. Its sudden springing into life is accounted for by the erection of the great steel mills on what was then a comparative wilderness, with a frame, a story and a half or two stories high. The Carnegie Company have erected large frame boarding-houses, which are nearly always filled, many of their employees being single men. The wages are paid out every two weeks, the pay-roll running up to $80,000 sometimes. Laborers receive $1.75 per day, and skilled mechanics are paid as much as $10 per day. The work they have to perform is exceedingly trying, more particularly in the smelting departments. The laborers are mostly all Hungarians and Poles, and are regarded with a good deal of contempt by their fellow-workmen. Another nephew is not well, they did the fighting against the Pinkertons. They will do almost anything for a little coaxing. Sergt. McGuire thinks the reason the cannon used by the men against the Pinkertons was not more effective was because they could not aim directly at the hull of the barges on account of the comparatively high banks of the stream. The river is about twice the width of the Thames, and would be very shallow were it not made navigable by the dams. All the vegetables used in the place have to be imported, the ground there not being fertile. The Amalgamated Steel Workers' Association is a very strong organization, and Sergeant McGuire inclines to the opinion that the men will come out ahead if the mills are ever to start again. Their all is at stake, in most cases, as their homes are their own, and could not be sold.

WE RESPECTFULLY PRESENT OUR COMPLIMENTS AND THANKS TO THE LADIES OF LONDON.

For the very liberal patronage accorded us since we commenced our Sale of Powell & Co.'s Stock, and, in a spirit of gratitude, we wish, before closing up business in London, to make some acknowledgment. After much deliberation as to how we could do this, we have decided upon the following plan, which is both novel and interesting, and which, we trust, will commend itself to the favor of the ladies. The plan is as follows: - For each and every dollar's worth of goods purchased from us the purchaser is entitled to a vote for any of the Ladies' Societies in connection with any church in London.

The tickets will be deposited in a sealed ballot box through a slit, and on Monday morning, August 29, at 10 o'clock, the box will be opened and tickets counted by the undermentioned committee of ladies.

To the ladies' society receiving the largest number of votes we will give $50; to the ladies' society receiving the next largest number of votes we will give $20; to the ladies' society receiving the next largest number of votes we will give $10; and to the ladies' society receiving the next largest number of votes we will give $5 - aggregating $135 to be given to the ladies' societies in connection with the churches.

When the prizes are awarded by the committee, the money will be handed over to the authorized officers of the societies, to be expended as the societies deem best. This is no lottery business, for we would shrink from proposing such a scheme to the ladies. We wish, of course, to advertise our business and draw trade; but our donations do not depend on that, as they will be paid anyway. The voting only decides how the money shall be distributed, and we think it better to give the ladies' societies the benefit rather than spend the money in other channels of advertising. We do not ask you to buy what you do not need, but only ask you to buy of us, if you find our goods and prices satisfactory, the goods that you would perhaps buy elsewhere anyway. That you will find our prices very low is certain, because we want to remove as little of the stock as possible when we pack up.

Voting begins Saturday, July 16th, and ends Saturday, August 27th, which will be our last day of selling in London. No one will be barred from voting. Come and vote yourself, and get your friends to vote. As the politicians say, "Vote early and vote often," and we'll allow you, in fact, to "stuff" this particular ballot box as full as it will hold. Yours respectfully,
