HE CAN NOW EAT PORK AND BEANS

J. Murphy, Age 76, Says He Knows From Experience That Tonic is Good for Old Folks Too.

"You can tell them that Tonic is the right medicine for old folks, too, for I have tried it and it has done me more good than anything else I ever took combined," said John Murphy, of 46 Charlotte St., Halifax, N. S. Mr. Murphy is now seventy-six years of age and a life-long resident of Halifax. He is employed as night watchman by the Halifax Tram Co.

"For a long time I have been troubled with indigestion and took a great deal of medicine. Everything I ate disagreed with me. Food felt like a lump in the pit of my stomach and caused me to blot all up with gas and I felt sick at my stomach nearly all the time. I had no appetite and the more nourishing foods, like beans, fat meat and things cooked in grease, I could not eat at all.

"I also suffered with severe pains in the small of my back. I had frequent headaches and was terribly nervous all the time and could never sleep well. Last August a friend of mine told me of the fine results he had gotten from Tonic, so I started taking it myself, and it has done me a world of good.

"It gave me a great appetite and fixed my stomach up so I can eat three good meals a day, including pork and beans and fatty goods that I would not dare eat before. I am no longer troubled with the pain in my back and I sleep very much better. I have taken the Laxative tablets along with the Tonic and have been helped wonderfully in every way. I am still taking a dose or two a day and it keeps me in good trim. Tonic will always get a good word from me."

There was something like a medieval sense of humor in the German test of Casement. It suggests those trials of witches and others that proved fatal whether they convicted or acquitted the accused.

That he realized how disastrous was his mistake is indicated by the account which Princess Blucher gives of their final interview before he started on the expedition to the west coast of Ireland that brought him to the gallows:

"The poor man came into the room like one demented, talked in a husky whisper, rushed round examining all the doors, and then said: 'I have something to say to you, are you sure no one is listening?'

"For one moment I was frightened. I felt I was in the presence of a madman, and worked my way round to sit near the telephone so as to be able to call for help. And then he began: 'You were right, and I did not like to tell you when you kept on urging me to get out of the country. That I realized from the moment I landed here what a terrible mistake I had made, and I did not want to tell you that in reality I was a prisoner here. I could not get away. They will not let me out of the country.'

"The German Foreign Office have had me shadowed, believing I was a spy in the pay of England, and England has had men spying on me all the time as well."

"Now the German Admiralty have asked me to go on an errand which all my being revolts against, and I am going mad at the thought of it, for it will make me appear a traitor to the Irish cause."

"And at these words he sat down and sobbed like a child. I saw a man was beside himself with terror and grief, and so I tried to get a few more definite facts out of him, and told him there is a way out of every difficulty if he would only tell me more."

"But he said, 'If I told you more, it would endanger the lives of many, and as it is, it is only my life that has to be sacrificed.' I made all sorts of suggestions, but all he would say was: 'They are holding a pistol to my head here if I refuse, and they have a hangman's rope ready for me in England; and so the only thing for me to do is to go out and kill myself.'"

Degrees of Meanness.

Two small boys were discussing the various excellencies of their respective parents, and their conversation had reached a highly critical stage. "Well," remarked Tommy Stubbs, "you can say what you like, but I reckon your father's about the meanest man who ever lived. Think of his telling you walk about in them old shoes, and him a shoemaker, too!"

"My father ain't near so mean as yours, any way. Why, just think of him being a dentist and your baby got one tooth!"

Cause of Early Old Age

The celebrated Dr. Michener, an authority on early old age, says that "the cause of early old age is generated in the intestine."

"When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons bring on early old age and premature death. 15 to 30 drops of 'Sage's Syrup' after meals make your digestion sound."
