MODISH SUIT.

A Smart Model Put Up In Blue Serge For Wear.

Durable, popular, ubiquitous navy serge gives this good looking outfit, cut with a box plaited jacket and skirt.

ULTRA LINES.
An unusual finish is gained by a white organdie piping around the coat to match the collar. The slashed belt is also interesting.

FOR SUMMER SHOWERS.

Gay Umbrellas Are Appearing Like Broken Off Bits of Rainbows.

It is not a bit too soon to get ready for summer showers. Indeed, one need not regret the gentle downpour if she is provided with one of the new umbrellas made of silk taffeta in green, blue, burgundy, prelate, orchid, dull yellow or African brown. The color choice is broad, so that the costume or the salient tone thereof may be matched.

These silks are waterproof, and the color looks no worse after its summer bath. The handles are quite short and are said to be copied from the stick of the British or French officer. There is no handle in the usual sense of the word, but instead there is a heavy cord loop run through a perforation in the handle, and this is swung over the wrist.

One advantage of the new umbrella is that it may be used for sun protection quite as well as for the rain defense. One feels less foolish starting out in the morning under a cloud, as if were, umbrella in hand or raised above the head, and finding herself equally prepared when the sun unexpectedly pierces the clouds later in the day. Moreover, the gay color seems to anticipate the appearance of the rainbow.

Kitchen Helps.

In order to keep lettuce fresh for an indefinite time put the head in a glass containing water and place it in the icebox or some other cool, dark place. The roots will absorb the water, which should be changed daily, and keep the lettuce fresh and crisp.

If you would save your hands from unsightly vegetable stains always peel or scrape potatoes, turnips, etc., under warm running water.

When your grocer sends you hard lemons and you want them for immediate use let them stand for a few hours in water, and they will soon become soft and juicy.

A home "cold storage" for eggs may be made by placing two inches of wood ashes in the bottom of a tin pail. In this stand on the small end as many fresh eggs as will fit easily without letting them touch. Over these sift a couple of inches of ashes and adjust another layer of eggs. When the pail is full cover it tightly and place in a cool place, and the eggs will keep perfectly for an indefinite time.

On Ironing Day.
One will find it a great help on ironing day to have a goodly supply of clothes hangers at hand. As soon as a garment is ironed slip it over a hanger. Each hanger will hold a number of the same kind of garments, and in putting the clothes away all that is necessary is to place the hangers in the closet. In this way many pieces do not have to be handled twice and wrinkled clothes are avoided.

Strawberry Shortcake For Two.
A large cupful of prepared flour, a teaspoonful of lard. Mix with cold milk, mold into two large biscuits and bake in quick oven. Split through center and butter and pour over same one box of strawberries which have been mashed with one and one-half cupfuls sugar. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

Needs.
Husband—Now, then, what are our needs? Wife—Well, the house needs painting, we are all out of kitchen utensils, the dining room rug is threadbare, the bathroom must be decorated, and I've simply had to order some clothes.—Judge.

Also Freedom.
She—I'd like to know what you had before I married you.
He (dejectedly)—Well, I had a night key, anyhow.—Boston Transcript.

Faultless in Preparation.—Unlike any other stomach regulator, Farmelee's Vegetable Pills are the result of long study of vegetable compounds calculated to stimulate the stomachic functions and maintain them at the normal condition. Years of use have proved their faultless character and established their excellent reputation. And this reputation they have maintained for years and will continue to maintain, for these pills must always stand at the head of the list of standard preparations.

"Unseen—Unseen"

When the boy gets his pocket full of tops, knives pencil, etc., he goes to his companions and with the words "unseen—unseen" they swap bargains.

To a certain extent this is true of the mania for buying on the part of many people, especially in the rural centres, at far-away establishments. By persistent advertising these establishments have worked up a mighty business, and in their dealings they are faithful with their customers. But in a great many cases people stock up a lot of unnecessary things, and keep them because there is no way of disposing of them, but to use them or wear them. In the cities they tell us the disposition to trade at the big departmental mail order places is passing, and the trade is being spread over. The editor of The Orillia Packet in the following describes a condition now in Toronto as follows:

Noting the increase of prosperous-looking, well stocked shops and stores in many parts of Toronto, a week or two ago, the writer remarked to a city friend that evidently the departmental houses were not having things altogether their own way. The answer was the assurance that city people, in a general way, are less and less doing their buying at these large establishments. A number of reasons are given. Intimate acquaintance has at last convinced buyers, at close quarters, that taken all round, the average prices in the departmental stores are not lower than in the smaller shops. The personal relationship between buyer and seller becomes more intimate in the smaller shops and that is a binding quality. With years, the objection to going about the city carrying Batons or Simptons label has become emphasized. Thousands of garments, all of a kind, mark the wearers, among knowing people, not merely as belonging to the ready-to-wear class, but even to a cheap species of that genus. Again, Toronto folks have had it forced upon them, that it is highly undesirable to centre trade in two or three immense establishments, to the depreciation of the value of property eligible for business purposes in all parts of the city. Possibly like considerations will in time come to force themselves upon people in the country and the smaller towns,
