

is one continuous triumph of the sculptor's art. The tomb contains two sarcophagi, and its windows and beautiful pierced work.

Sidi Sayyid's mosque is situated within the walls of the fort; it is now desecrated, and is an office connected with the local administration. The interior is without interest, but on going round